NEWS OF THE PACIFIC SLOPE

NO LET UP.

RAIN IS STILL POURING DOWN.

Storm in Washington and Idaho Continues.

Rivers Overflow and Drive People to Uplands.

Great Destruction of Property Reported.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) March 16.—An [illegible] fall of rain in Northern Idaho from Saturday morning till Monday morning has caused the St. Joe River to overflow its banks, resulting in considerable destruction of property.

The water of Coeur d'Alene Lake has risen three feet, and dwellings along the entire length of the St. Joe River have had to be abandoned, the people taking refuge on the uplands. The crops have been washed away.

This afternoon the rain was still falling in sheets. The Flewellyng lumber mill has been forced to close down, and operations along the river are at a standstill.

Lewiston, Idaho, will be isolated for a week. More than two miles of track and many bridges have been washed out on the line down Potlatch Creek. The Pine Creek Lumber Company, near Headquarters, has lost a $100,000 dam and more than 1,000,000 feet of logs. At Orofino the Clearwater River is higher than at any time in two years, and is still rising. All false work was washed from under the new $500,000 Oregon Railway and Navigation bridge, which, however, still stands. Warm winds and rains prevail on the upper tributaries of the Snake and Clearwater rivers. The crest of the flood is still to come.

Alex Hudson, who was driving a timber raft, was drowned Sunday.

BURNING NEAR TACOMA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TACOMA (Wash.) March 16.—Water in the Green River, Stuck, White, Puyallup, Cowlitz, Tootle and other streams rushed within about three feet of the extreme high water of November, 1906. The water has subsided about two feet, and is well below the danger line.

It is expected the Buckley bridge will be ready for traffic tonight. Through trains on the Northern Pacific are running via Palmer cut-off, and freight, generally is delayed. A washout near South Prairie Creek weakened, causing the derailment of the front of a freight engine and two cars. All interurban traffic on the Willapa branch for twenty-four hours.

RAILWAYS TIED UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The worst rain storm of the winter throughout the state swept away railroad bridges and completely tied up railway traffic on the O. R. and N. and Union Pacific lines to the East. The new Hill line from the north bank of the Columbia, which was to have been opened for traffic today, is covered by water and the bridges are unsafe. Not a train left Portland Wednesday before trains on the Harriman lines and the O. R. and N. does not expect to resume train service before the end of the week.

All the streams in Western Oregon and the Columbia River Valley are reported bankfull. Booms of logs have broken away, and there is a great deal of damage done at many points. So far no loss of life is reported.

The Willamette River at Portland is higher than it was last year, and is still rising. The Madison street bridge is in danger, and pedestrians are allowed to cross. A raft of logs has lodged against the piers, and it is out of line. The Spokane, with a barge, passed in today, doing considerable damage.

CRAFT PROSECUTION.

TAKES WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY APPLIES TO COURT OF APPEALS.

[illegible] Attention to Judge Bordwell's Remarks on Schmitz Decision—Asks for Dismissal of Indictments and Reduction of Bail.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Frank Devlin, counsel for Abraham Ruef, today filed with the Court of Appeals an application for a writ of habeas corpus to release on bail. Incidentally the application calls to the attention of the Appellate Court the remarks of Judge Frank H. Dunne from the bench last Saturday in the decision in the graft cases.

The application for a writ is based on the fact that there are thirty-two indictments against Ruef. Counsel for Ruef contends that if defendant be released on his own recognizance on bond thereby reducing the amount of the application for the $250,000 bail of Ruef, after the defendant is discharged of, is an exorbitant bail.

The "remarks" between Judge Lawlor and the pending Lawlor for assignment on the bribery franchise in that court by District Attorney Burns, specifically, filed a [illegible] this morning. THESE ONIONS ARE ODORLESS.

Chinese Gardener Perfects Vegetable Free From Objectionable Characteristics.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The San Joaquin Valley is destined to become famous for its "odorless onions," through the work of an elderly Chinaman, Wing Hop, who owns vegetable gardens near Visalia. The gardener worked for some years for Luther Burbank, who, one day said to him in a joking mood, that if he could perfect an odorless onion his fortune would be made. Through years the Chinese has plodded along in his work, perfecting this onion. By those who have tried it, it is pronounced absolutely odorless and free from the strong taste which makes the vegetable offensive to some palates.

time to pass upon Ach's motion to cross-examine, saying he would take the matter up when the evidentiary showing is all before him.

The entire matter will come up before Judge Lawlor tomorrow morning.

TIME EXTENDED.

SECRETARY WILL NOT INTERFERE.

FRUIT CROP OF PRESENT YEAR MAY BE SULPHURED.

Secretary of California State Board of Trade Receives Copy of Letter Stating Department Will Suspend Provisions of Act for This Season.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—A letter received today by Secretary McDonald, from Arthur R. Briggs, president of the California State Board of Trade, now in Washington, with W. H. Brailsford of Hanford, in behalf of the fruit growers' committee, encloses a copy of the official declaration of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, extending the suspension of food inspection decision No. 89, throughout the season of 1908. The letter, addressed to Congressman J. C. Needham, says, in part:

"You and the fruit growers of California may rest assured that no decision adverse to the use of sulphur will be promulgated so as to affect the curing or marketing of the 1908 crop. The curing and marketing of the 1908 crop should be done under the terms of food inspection decision No. 89, and if the terms of that decision are complied with, there will be no governmental interference with the curing or marketing of said crop."

Messrs. Briggs and Brailsford have decided to remain in Washington until after the meeting of the referee board, on the 25th inst., and endeavor to secure an opportunity of presenting to the board facts and data on the use of sulphur that will give the fruit growers' side of the question more weight than is generally accorded.

FATHER ALMOST FRANTIC.

MISSED HIS CHILDREN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After waiting all day, two girls, about 7 and 11, called at the police office and stated their father could not be located, though he had sent them money for their fare from Oklahoma and agreed to meet them here.

Though a long search was made it was not until a late hour tonight the father was found. He had instructed the children to come via the Santa Fé, but they could not do so, yet failed to notify him. He was almost frantic when finally located.

The officers failed to take the names of the man or girls, as they just had time tonight to rush to the northbound train, which will take them to Chico, where the father resides.

GIRL SHAMES MEN.

RESCUES DROWNING BOY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While several men and boys watched 9-year-old Marvin Johnson drowning at Dayton, Phyllis Davis, 12 years old, jumped into the raging waters of the Carson River and saved the boy's life. Swimming out to the spot where the youth sank, the third time, the girl grabbed his hair and turning against the current made for the shore. There Marvin was resuscitated.

With three children, Johnson was playing on the bank of the river. He climbed on the bridge and fell to the water. For several seconds the companions of the boy remained motionless, and then attracted Miss Davis by their screams. The adults hastened to the river, too, but none offered to take the rescuer's place.

ENDS IN FIASCO.

NO "COXEY'S ARMY."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The "Coxey's Army of California" which its promoters announced, would start from Oakland this morning and join other delegations from San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities at San José or Stockton, en route to Sacramento, failed to draw from the ranks of the unemployed at Oakland more than six men out of all who volunteered.

If this sextette did begin its trip to the capital, as announced, none of their former companions knows of it and, although the Oakland police were notified of the intended movement, no report has been made that the men have started on the march.

BROKERS RETURN.

PLEASED WITH RAWHIDE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Five automobiles, bearing a party of San Francisco brokers and their friends, have left Rawhide after a two days' survey of the mines on Balloon Hill and other properties, including the Kearns lease, the Coalition Estate, Hooligan Hill and Grutt Hill.

The members of the party are very enthusiastic over the prospects of Rawhide for a permanent [illegible] and friends to expect big things of the new Nevada district. The party was royally entertained, and was given the freedom of the camp. Many took the opportunity to go down in the mines, get diggings and pan them out for themselves.

FIGHTING FOR TRAFFIC.

Citizens of Battle Mountain, Nev., Subscribe $3000 to Build Toll Road into Gold Circle.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The same fight that exists between Schurz and Fallon for the traffic into Rawhide promises to be duplicated between Battle Mountain and Golconda for the traffic into the gold circle district, which is now rivaling Jessup and Rawhide for public interest.

The citizens of Battle Mountain met yesterday and subscribed $3000 as a fund for immediately starting work upon a toll road to be constructed from that place to Gold Circle. This was done to attract the travel into the new camp by way of Battle Mountain, as it is mostly going by Golconda now, where four automobile lines are daily taxed for accommodations. Gold Circle is thirty-five miles from Battle Mountain, and forty-seven miles from Golconda, the latter place affording the best roads and making the trip in three and a half hours.

The rock is rhyolite, with well defined porphyry dikes running northwestward and southeastward, traceable for a distance of five miles. The bamberger claim has uncovered the richest ore in the district, its rock going into the thousands within a few feet from the surface.

DEPRIVED OF STARS.

Two San Francisco Policemen Said to Have Been Caught in Act of Grafting.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Policeman John Evatts and Maurice Behan have been deprived of their stars by Chief of Police Biggy.

The accused policemen are charged with grafting, and Chief Biggy announces that he will lay the matter before the grand jury. The beats of the accused officers were in what is locally known as the Barbary Coast district, where are situated all the dance halls of the city.

Complaint was made by a number of men that owing to the nigh tribute exacted by the police they were unable to do a profitable business in the district. A trap was laid for the suspected men and marked coins were given them. They were then taken to the Police Station, where a search unearthed the marked money.

In view of the late decision of the Supreme Court in the Schmitz case considerable interest attaches to this case.

CLAIM JUMPERS AT RAWHIDE.

CITIZENS TO TAKE ACTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RAWHIDE (Nev.) March 16.—A citizens' meeting is called for tonight to take care of the claim-jumpers. Several of the most valuable claims of the camp have been jumped in the past few days. The mine owners and the citizens will probably order the offenders off the ground.

The rush to the camp is unabated, arrivals averaging over 100 a day. Accommodations are plenty, and no suffering has been felt by those who come prepared to pay their way.

The citizens are fighting for better mail service. Hundreds stand in line at the postoffice daily, and many of them fail to reach the window before the hour of closing. The business men of Main street have raised a sum to keep the office on Main street, while others have a fund necessary to move it to Rawhide avenue.

WIFE GOES INSANE.

HUSBAND ALREADY IN ASYLUM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PETALUMA, March 16.—Mrs. C. E. Mullin, whose husband was last week committed to the Napa Insane Asylum, has lost her mind from worry and grief, and is hopelessly insane.

Marshal Ward and Deputy Sheriff R. L. Rasmussen have brought her to this city. She has four children, who will be provided for by the county.

Since losing her reason, the mother has spent the entire time running a talking machine, neither eating nor sleeping, and neglecting the children.

BAY CITY SANITARY WORK.

MUCH IS ACCOMPLISHED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The Citizen's Health Committee has issued a report on the sanitary accomplishments of the past six weeks. From February 2 to March 14, 7260 premises have been inspected, 834 premises disinfected, 171 houses have been destroyed, 54 buildings have been condemned, 17,564 nuisances have been abated, and 56,994 rats have been trapped or poisoned. It is believed many more rats have been poisoned in the sewers and washed into the bay.

Engineers have submitted a plan to the committee, whereby they claim they will be able to kill all the rats in the sewers of the city at one fell blow. It is intended to introduce carbonic acid gas, after the crevices and opening have been closed.

Scenes and Incidents of Life at the Now Famous Magdalena Bay.

Harry C. Carr,
The Times special writer, en voyage.

Cleaning up at Magdalena.
Scrubbing decks of Admiral Evans's battleship after coaling at the Mex ican harbor.

ig jump on the water. It looked n the distance like an Indian tepee making smoke at the top, standing across our path. Through the lasses it showed itself a monster attleship, hurling water from its ows. We never got close enough o make her out. She stood away o the south and soon became a smear n the sky line.

Then for the first time we observed Wong Sam. He had his back oldly to the battleship, sitting on a ail, peeling onions. He did not eign even to look up. Had no time o bother about armadas.

When we had crept in past the eads and the whole magnificence of he spectacle burst upon us—the fleet elching coal smoke against the vivd yellow line of the sand dunes, a attleship at target practice almost n our path—I ventured to call Sam's ttention to the fact that the greatst fleet ever assembled on earth lay ver the rail to be looked at.

Sam grunted, dropped the onions, nd picked up the potatoes, without glance at the fleet.

Warships are warships but spuds ave to be peeled in spite of them. We tried to conceal from the fleet bout the coldness of Wong Sam.

The fleet in the distance really ooked like a great, smoky factory own. On the horizon to the east and outh thin columns of smoke marked ther warships maneuvering.

The Georgia, directly off our bows, was lashing the water around a patch f white canvas that went bobbing along in the wake of a steam launch.

Crack! And a little fountain of water would spurt up from the sea. Sometimes when a shot ricochetted, a long line of these spurting jets of water continued almost to the shoreline.

The war correspondent said it was great shooting. I am not a candidate, however, for a seat in that steam launch. All I can testify to is that every shot hit the ocean.

The shots sounded with a curious, light report. It's not a bark, as so often described. It's a peculiar, choked, menacing sound. From a distance it sounds like a horse kicking around in a stable.

We made a cautious and respectful detour around the Georgia—around the side where the guns didn't seem so busy. To be sure, there wasn't any mistake about our friendly feeling, and to cover the demeanor of Wong Sam, we gave three very loud cheers. Jackies in white uniform crowded the rails and looked at us, but did not cheer. We didn't cheer any more warships. They seemed to receive our vocal efforts with too much lack of emotion.

The St. Denis dropped anchor almost in the midst of the fleet—within revolver shot of the Connecticut.

The little nook in which we lay reminded one somewhat of Avalon, on Catalina.

THE MEXICAN END.

Presently a boat put off from shore with the Mexican customhouse officers. It was rowed by two scared-looking Mexicans with enormous sombreros.

There were three officials. One who appeared to be in command was a little sad-eyed man with an almost pathetic anxiety to be agreeable.

Another was a fat man who had evidently devised a uniform for the occasion, the others being in civilian clothes. The uniform consisted of a white canvas coat—much as American barbers wear. His finery seemed to trouble him a good deal. He kept furtively trying to squint over his shoulder and down the back of it. He must have had a ghastly premonition of a rip, for after each squint he glared around at us.

The third official was a sportive youth with San Francisco clothes and stockings that stilled the echoes of target practice with their din.

They ordered all the passengers herded into one bunch and the crew into another bunch. As our names were called we stepped forward into a line and looked foolish. I don't know what they did it for, unless they wanted to be sure none of us were twins.

This done, they bade us a ceremonious farewell and were rowed away in their boat.

The newspaper men of the party then went forth to scout, chaperoned by the war correspondent.

On account of naval etiquette we der on the port side of the Connecticut, climbing over launches and boats as best we could. But we made our exit in triumph from the starboard, and with eclat in the admiral's barge.

The deck of the Connecticut was thick with sailors—hard at work getting ready for target practice.

Boosing the job was a lean, businesslike officer boy with his white uniform, trousers thrust into rubber boots. He was making things stir. Great things are expected of this youngster some day—he is the son of Capt. "Dick" Wainwright, who commanded the Gloucester during the Spanish War and who now commands the Louisiana and is said to be slated for command of the fleet.

Our cards were taken to Capt. Ingersoll, chief of staff, for Admiral Evans, who received us informally in a handsomely fitted cabin.

Capt. Ingersoll is well known in Los Angeles; he was executive officer of the Philadelphia when her crew took part in one of our most gorgeous fiestas a few years ago.

RECEIVED BY EVANS.

He said regretfully that Admiral Evans would not be able to receive any one owing to his sickness, but later in the day "Fighting Bob" thought better of it and hobbled out to his bridge on crutches.

He received visitors for the first time since leaving New York, representatives of The Times among them.

The old sea fighter looked wan and sallow, but snorted with derision when told of the yellow-journal reports of his being on the point of death.

"Hm," he grunted, "I guess they'll find I am pretty far from being a dead man."

The old admiral was in good spirits and smoked cigarettes like a furnace. He talked about his illness and pulled up his trousers leg to show his swollen joints.

"I asked him if this were the leg "shot up" at Fort Fisher.

"Oh," he said, "the rebels didn't play any favorites—they shot 'em both."

Like most popular officers he has been nicknamed by the men. His sailors of the fleet call him "Old Gimp" on account of his limp. They call his son, Lieut. Evans, "Young Gimp." When they were on shore recently one of the sailors spoke to Mr. Evans as "Lieutenant."

"Aw call me Gimp," he said with twinkling eyes. "I know you call me that behind my back. You might as well do it now."

He knows well enough its only the well-liked officers who get these names.

Admiral Evans showed great interest in Los Angeles and expressed to The Times his intention of coming ashore here. If so, it will be the first time he has left the ship.

The intention has been to bring the Connecticut inside the breakwater at San Pedro, the rest of the ships remaining outside. But the admiral may abandon this idea if he finds any beach giving easier access to the city.

In discussing the visit of the fleet to Southern California our party suggested that the admiral arrange something in the nature of a naval pageant firing a salute of fifty guns as the fleet sails away.

"Fifty guns!" he exclaimed heartily. "Why, we'll give 'em a hundred guns and sail along close to shore so everybody can see the fleet in formation."

He said nothing much of his retirement. The fleet knows, however, that the change is to be made at his own urgent request.

"They told me to bring the fleet to Magdalena Bay," he said sturdily. "Well, it's here. We're ready now for orders. We're ready to leave in five minutes for a voyage of 500 miles or 5000 miles. And we're still ready for either a fight or a frolic."

The admiral is said to be very sensitive about the newspaper reports that he has not been actively in command of the fleet. The facts are that, in spite of his intense suffering, he has directed every maneuver of the fleet from his bed in the little emergency sick bay on his bridge. He has even signed the orders, after dictating them, when the paper had to be held for his hand.

After leaving the Connecticut, we called on the Louisiana, now commanded by Capt. Wainwright.

The Washington dispatches say that he is to be placed in command of the fleet when it arrives in San Francisco.

Papers containing these dispatches have recently been received by the fleet and the "Wainwright promotion" is the excited gossip of every wardroom. Another Roosevelt jump like that of Gen. Wood is expected.

Wainwright would have to jump three or four admirals in the same fleet, two of whom are his near relatives.

It is admitted everywhere, however, that he is one of the finest officers of the navy. The American people have loved "Dick" Wainwright since that day at Guantanamo, when he moved in the Gloucester close alongshore and then apologized meekly, saying he wanted to move in close so he wouldn't have to "strain his guns."

WAINWRIGHT.

Wainwright is now a tall, bony, gray-haired man with a pair of twinkling blue eyes that seem to pierce your soul. But they are friendly eyes, too, and Wainwright is a kindly, resolute man, full of the fun that's to be got out of life.

When we asked him to have his picture taken, he said: "Did Eberle say so?"

Being informed that Eberle did, he laughed and got up. "Well," he said, "I have to do whatever Eberle says."

"Eberle" is Lieutenant-Commander Eberle, the executive officer of the ship and a crack naval man. Between the Louisiana one of the star ships in the navy.

They sent us home in the captain's barge. The boy coxwain found a long route home. We circled in and about the whole fleet.

On some of the ships the men were scrubbing their clothes. On others they were over the sides washing the white paint. We saw the Kearsage with her gaping turret ports criticised by Reuterdahl.

DOWN ON REUTERDAHL.

That writer, by the way, is said to have found the fleet too uncomfortable to live in. He was "kidded" and ridiculed until he left the fleet, at Callao, and went home.

They had a wardroom parody on

It's a little craft, like a yacht—painted gray. It was sent there to make a noise whenever courtesy seemed to demand, and a large share of the time its delicate lines were hidden by clouds of powder smoke. It saluted at the slightest provocation and with fearful gusto.

Every hour or so, as though seized with a sudden panic lest some propriety had been overlooked, the gunboat would begin—"bang-bang-bang"—thirteen times.

When we rowed past, it was between saluting times—and we saw two boy sentries stationed on the quarterdeck PLAYING TAG! Both with side arms ceremoniously belted, one was chasing the other with a broom!

booze on the beach until a wandering warship came in a few weeks ago for target practice. The sailors gave him some targets, and he made a house of them. His place is shown in the foreground of one of the pictures.

Then came a Mexican gunboat, and forbade him to sell his booze. So Sullivan has to take it out studying the population.

"In this metropolis," says the blythe Sullivan, "there are thirty-nine men and twenty-nine women and about 1000 kids, also a burro and two cows. And, so help me, I'm not going to leave the place until I find out how they live. Since I have been here, not a single person has done anything like work. Honest, they won't even

The place is now in a whirl. Sailors are hammering together target pontoons on the beach and dragging heavy timbers with long ropes. Several stores have been started in tents on the beach for the purpose of separating the sailors from their money. Bewildered by all this new life, the Mexicans climb back onto the hills and watch it with dumb wonder.

The Mexican government has positively forbidden the sale of liquor to the sailors. All the money paid to bring it there has been lost.

We called on Augustine Sanguines, the Governor of the southern district of Baja California, who has come from La Paz on purpose to see that no dis-

Seamen enjoying "dolce far niente," or in other words, loafing in the sunshine at Magdalena Bay.

"Who Killed Cock Robin." It was "Who Knows It All—Henry Reuterdahl." He was frozen out at Callao.

When we got back to the St. Denis we asked the boy coxswain if there would be any objection to the crew imbibing a bottle of beer.

"Well," he said, blushing, "I guess there ain't any objection around this side of the boat."

He meant where the officers couldn't see.

Just as they were finishing the beer a boatload of shoulder straps came whirling around the St. Denis—fishing.

Afterward, we told the same officers of our narrow escape, and explained how they were so painfully de trop. They laughingly promised to stay on their own side of the ship in future while we were corrupting the morals of the United States Navy.

Parenthetically, one could not say too much about the class of men on this fleet—both officers and men.

ALL ENTHUSIASTIC.

Everywhere we found the officers to be simple and democratic and kind. They seemed as enthusiastic over target practice and the hard work of the fleet as a little girl with her first doll. The enlisted men were nearly all very young and clean and with fascinating good manners. When you board a warship they don't cluster around in groups and make snickering remarks about you, as civilians would in like circumstances.

All around the bay were boat crews, stripped to the waist, practicing for the coming rowing regatta. They say they can hardly keep the sailors from getting up in the night to practice with the big guns in their eagerness for the coming target practice.

After visiting the fleet we went ashore to the funny, little opera-bouffe town, rowing under the guns of the Mexican gunboat, Tampico.

translation of Gillet Burgess's poem, "Oh, Rats, What's the Difference?" it ought to be sent to the quarterdeck sentinels on the Tampico. Wong, the cook, gets the Chinese version.

MAGDALENA AND SULLIVAN.

Magdalena, where we went ashore, is the south end of a Boston pipe dream. Some capitalists, who had read sea stories about the riches of the south seas, got what is known as the Hale concession from the Mexican government.

A respectable rattlesnake couldn't support a family on it. At the southern end, where the concession curls around Magdalena, the promoters built a little toy town, which lay there drowsing in the sun until Sullivan burst in about six weeks ago and told them about the fleet.

They didn't care much about the fleet, but Sullivan gave them a shove along about three centuries into the living present.

We met Sullivan. He is a cyclone. An ex-Philippine soldier, Sullivan got a grand hunch in connection with the arrival of the fleet. He loaded up a ship full of booze and cigars, and sailed for Magdalena.

As soon as he got inside the harbor, Sullivan ran afoul of the magnate of Magdalena Bay. William J. Heney, nephew of the imitation graft prosecutor of San Francisco, is the magnate of Magdalena. He is about as agreeable as his uncle.

He refused to get up and receive the officers of the fleet who called, but lay in bed all day and peeved. Oh, what a blow to the fleet!

When Sullivan got ashore, Heney wouldn't give him any drinking water and wouldn't let him sleep in any of the houses. There isn't any water in Magdalena; they have to bring it forty miles across the bay.

Not daunted, Sullivan borrowed enough water to keep alive from the Mexicans, and camped out with his

FISH, although the harbor's sloppy with fish."

Sullivan has set out to educate the Mexican officials in being up to date; when they get stiff-necked and the Spanish red tape around things, Sullivan comes butting in. "Aw six, Tony for all this haughty talk. Come on! Gee, be accommodating." And Tony comes. If Sullivan stays in Magdalena he will have the place about four laps ahead of the calendar.

THE ONE BOILED SHIRT.

Next to Sullivan, the most important individual in the town is the man who owns the boiled shirt.

No one knows how or where he came by it. He's a big, solemn Mexican.

Every time a ship comes into the harbor, he goes into his house and puts on the boiled shirt and stiff collar and stalks about with majestic mien. When the ship goes away, he takes off the shirt and rests until another ship comes. No ships ever stayed so long as this fleet will. Unless Ramon, the shirt wearer, has two boiled fronts, there are hideous complications ahead.

A large part of the population of the village seems to be policeman. They wear immense sombreros with a large silver G on the side. If they were American policemen one would imagine that G stood for Graft.

All the sailors from the armada who come ashore want to buy the sombreros from the policemen. This so alarms the policemen that they run into the houses when they see a sailor and peek cautiously out a crack of the door. There is a sort of a head policeman who struts about in a gorgeous uniform and plays chess with the postmaster.

There is a certain pathos clinging to this little town. At the water's edge is a forlorn little cluster of graves with whitened headstones. When you know that no priest has visited Magdalena for fourteen years, you realize what these deaths must have meant to devout Mexican Catholics.

grace occurs and to convey the respects of President Diaz to the admiral.

THE GOVERNOR.

Gov. Sanguines is the finest type of dignified Spanish officialdom. He is a tall, fine-looking man, resolute and resourceful.

For lack of better accommodations in the town, he is making his official palace in a little bare room in what used to be the consular office. In one corner is the canvas cot on which he sleeps. Hanging on a nail above it is his handsome military uniform and shining cavalry saber.

He made no allusion to the surroundings, but received us with all the dignity that goes with a palace.

He spoke warmly on the liquor question. He said he had taken it up with the admiral and they had both thoroughly agreed.

"A lot of these people brought intoxicants here expecting to sell it to these sailors. This is not right. These ships are here for a serious and important purpose. The sailors are seldom able to control themselves after their long confinement aboard ship. When they buy liquor, they drink it right up, whether it is a cupful or a gallon.

"My government is determined not to allow temptation to be placed in their way. All the liquor has been seized as fast as brought to Magdalena. I shall be here for some time—probably as long as the fleet stays, to see after these things.

"I had the honor to be the bearer of

HITCHCOCK IS ACQUITTED.

Judge Orders Jury to Bring in Such Verdict.

Witness Says Story Told Grand Jury False.

Statement in Court Implicates Gerry Society.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, March 16.—Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, today was acquitted by direction of Justice Blanchard in the Supreme Court of charges bearing on several young girls, after one of the girls had testified that the allegations she had made against the actor were untrue.

The acquittal was on the indictment growing out of charges made by Ellen von Rogge. There are several other indictments on similar charges still pending.

Mr. Garvan had read to the jury Miss Wheeler's testimony given before the grand jury. When he had finished, Mr. Garvan asked her if it were true.

"It was not," said the witness. "Mr. Hitchcock never harmed me. I told the grand jury the story the Gerry people told me to tell them."

District-Attorney Garvan moved for the dismissal of the case. Directing the jury to return a verdict acquitting Hitchcock on the Von Rogge indictment, Justice Blanchard said he regarded the testimony of the witness just as of the most startling character. He suggested that it be made the subject of thorough investigation by the District Attorney's office. Flora Wheeler was arrested on a charge of perjury as she was leaving the court-room.

It has not yet been determined what action will be taken on the remaining indictments against Hitchcock.

Such is Charge Made by Chicago Millionaire.

Says They Kept Him Confined for Two Weeks Last January at Palmer House—No Record There of His Stay—Children at Loggerheads Over His Estate.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, March 16.—Charges that he was confined in the Palmer House a prisoner for two weeks last January have been made by Edward H. Jack, millionaire of Peoria, whose children are fighting for his estate.

It is also claimed by Mr. Jack that after he was released from the hotel he discovered that he was said to have signed a declaration of trust, conveying all his property, personal and real, to a Chicago trust company. This company is now asked for the appointment of a trustee with powers of a conservator.

Mrs. Anna Bowyer, No. 3327 Grand Boulevard, is one of the daughters who are opposed to the light. She was formerly said to be in Peoria. She is a sister of her sister, Mrs. Minnie Young of St. Louis.

A writ for a receiver was filed in the Circuit Court on January 21 by Mrs. Ella Brown, Mrs. Rose J. Mac-Donald, Roy Jack and Noel H. Jack. At that time the petitioners stated that their father had been mentally incompetent for several years.

It is alleged by the children that he was induced to California for his health. Under this agreement, it is alleged, Mr. Jack surreptitiously left the Palmer House, and with the assistance of violence, and with the aid of Edward Humphrey, who obtained a power of attorney over the old man, took the father to California and married him. Judge McEwen of Los Angeles, it is said, ratified the marriage, and appointed the trust company. This action is now sought by the elder Jack, who is said to have signed a document of signing a document which took the property from him.

In the Palmer House, there is no record of Mr. Jack, or any member of his family, ever having been there this year. The Palmer House owned the land on which the Chicago Board of Trade building stands. He has been an active broker of real estate in Peoria.

WARRANT FOR HIS ARREST.

Sheriff Beauty for Capture of Man Accused of Murder of Crowley.

Cooper & Co., contractors, have offered a reward of $100 for the arrest of Thomas Ferri, an Italian, who is wanted on a charge of murder. He is said to have killed B. Crowley on February 11. The other was made through Sheriff Hertel, a brother of the murdered man, and Chief Kern sent notices to all parts of the country.

Ferri had secured an employment on Fort Second street. Perri had been hired by him as an interpreter. A dispute arose over the payment, and Perri shot Crowley in the stomach and then fled.

JEALOUS TWO WOMEN.

Jealous Paid Rival by Wife Is Accused of Shooting Mate.

Because her husband, F. Ferrero, is said to another woman, Mrs. Ferrero is alleged to have shot at him in the breast with a gun in a dark alley near her home, No. 634 New Jersey street. Ferrero concealed the wound and hid him into his house, dressing his wounds after he arrived and refused to talk. He refused to talk to the Receiving Hospital department. He is said to have lost much blood, but it is not thought his wounds are fatal.

Juanita Garcia, Mrs. Garcia, was arrested afterward on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. It is said that his wife shot at him. It is probable she will be released tomorrow.

PROTECTION.

SAFEGUARDING LAND HUNTERS.

ALLEGED SHARKS INDICTED IN IMPERIAL COUNTY.

Los Angeles Men Said to Have Misrepresented to Locators, Placing Them on Tracts Different from Those Expected—Government Will Aid Victims of Any Fraud.

With the indictment of two alleged land sharks in the Imperial Valley, a movement has begun against unprincipled real estate agents who make a practice of locating newcomers on lands other than those shown to the settlers. Local officials of the United States Land Office have always kept a sharp watch for swindling agents, and they say they are pleased to know that the State authorities are taking steps to safeguard the interests of innocent desert-land settlers.

A Dr. Fuller of Imperial and one Murphy of Los Angeles have been indicted by the grand jury of Imperial county, charged with defrauding bonafide locators. It is said the two men would offer to find a good location for a prospective settler, and in fact would show him a fine piece of ground. But when the settler was finally landed, the swindlers, it is alleged, would locate him on land far less valuable than he thought he was getting. Real estate men dealing in government land locations charge from $1 up for securing favorable sections of land for their clients.

"There is no fraud in connection with this plan, although persons could avoid all this expense by making their own locations," stated Gen. F. C. Prescott, register of the local Land Office, yesterday. "But agents who know the value of given localities can offer no excuse for locating their clients on worthless sections.

"This office has always keenly scrutinized all such deals, and in case of apparent fraud we take immediate action. I am glad that the State and county authorities are making an investigation. It is needed for the protection of the innocent settler. If at any time a settler has good reason to believe he has been defrauded, all he has to do is to come to this office, and the machinery of the Federal government will be quickly set in motion."

Gen. Prescott stated that the common method employed by land swindlers was to take the victim to a fine location and show him the soil, water and nearness to markets. A contract would then be signed, whereby the settler agreed to pay the agent a certain sum for making the location. The agent would then accompany him to the Land Office and make entry for him on an entirely different tract. In many instances, it is said, the section the victim thinks he is getting is already taken. Often he does not find out he has been swindled until he actually goes to live on the land.

Government land is described by section, range and township. This description is like so much Greek to the average settler. He supposes that the description fits the land he has visited in company with the unscrupulous agent, when, as a matter of fact, it may be miles away.

According to an exclusive dispatch from El Centro, Dr. Fuller and "Promoter" Murphy have been swindling newcomers for months and have reaped a rich harvest of "suckers." The alleged victims are bitter against these men, and it is said a large number of them are ready to appear as witnesses.

PACIFIC COAST IS REMEMBERED.

MANY ITEMS FOR THIS SECTION IN NEW BILL.

Nearly Three Hundred Thousand Dollars Set Aside for Construction of Batteries on Puget Sound—Cost of Various Improvements at San Diego Estimated at $86,314.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Fortifications Bill, reported to the House today, carries many items relating to the Pacific Coast.

It was developed in the hearings that Puget Sound was badly in need of defense, and most of the $300,000 carried in the bill for construction of batteries will be expended there. Last year $432,000 was allotted for fire control stations, most of it being spent at San Francisco. That work there is nearly completed. The $210,000 allowed for searchlights in today's bill will be used for Pacific Coast ports. The committee allows $175,000 for casemates, cables, galleries, torpedo storehouses and other structures for submarine mines, which will mostly be expended on the Pacific Coast. The cost of such works will be San Diego, $86,314; San Francisco, $102,000; Columbia River, $30,400; Puget Sound, $13,800.

The bill grants $400,000 for seacoast batteries in Hawaii. The total cost of these batteries will be much greater. There will be mortar batteries both at Diamond Head and Pearl Harbor and twelve-inch guns at Pearl Harbor. Two fourteen-inch guns will be placed at the entrance of Honolulu Harbor, on the island at the edge of the town.

New York Insurance Solicitor, Acting in Excited Manner, Ejected from White House Grounds.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joseph Mayer, an insurance solicitor for a western company in New York, was today ordered off the White House grounds by the secret service men.

His ejection followed an interview with Secretary Loeb. Mr. Mayer came to Washington yesterday, after sending a telegram asking a conference with the President. Late yesterday he called at the White House and asked for the conference in person, after having hailed several people on the streets and inquiring excitedly the way to the White House. He had previously attracted the attention of trainmen by his manner of referring to a coming conference he proposed to have with the President. It developed today that Mr. Mayer wanted to tell the President some alleged remarks made by persons in New York which he believed to be detrimental to Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Mayer's friends in Washington believe his actions are due to overwork. No attempt was made to retain him by the White House authorities.

Fourteen Poor Families Camp on Vacant Lots in New York City All Winter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] How to beat the landlord by "getting back to the land" in New York is shown by the little colony of fourteen poor families who last summer built shacks or tents 16x20 feet on the land loaned to the New York Vacant Lot Gardening Association by the Astors at Bronxdale avenue near White Plains road, in the Bronx.

These families passed the winter there, and are happily awaiting the time for putting in their spring crops. The association has worked the thirty acres successfully for two years, placing the half-sick, the disabled, worn-out people, and the unemployed on vacant lots as gardeners, sometimes doing the plowing and supplying them with seeds free.

After Thirty Years Behind Footlights Robert L. Downing Turns to an Evangelistic Career.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robert L. Downing has forsaken the stage for the church, after thirty years behind the footlights.

He was converted last Tuesday night in the Rhode Island Avenue Protestant Methodist Church, where a revival has been in progress for five weeks under the direction of its pastor, the Rev. John M. Gill, a Johns Hopkins graduate, and the Rev. B. F. Campbell, a New York evangelist.

On Friday night Downing mounted the pulpit, and with dramatic eloquence declared that as a Christian convert he had renounced the stage forever and would become an evangelist.

BURLINGAME IS AGAIN WINNER.

Riverside Makes Fine Finish, But Is Defeated.

Northern Team Gets Early Start in Scoring.

Interest in Match Between North and South.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CORONADO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Burlingame, in today's polo match, fulfilled forecasts by defeating Riverside's team A, 7 to 5. But the fulfilment of the prophecy stopped with the victory because the northern team, instead of making a runaway of the game, as was predicted, was lucky to win.

Early scoring, before the Riverside team had become aroused, gave Burlingame its victory. In the latter half of the game the contest was all Riverside. Another period would probably have brought defeat to the crack polo outfit from San Francisco.

Burlingame may not have played up to its usual form, though its team work, always a feature of the northern club's play, stood out in contrast with the erratic work of the Riverside players. In individual play, however, there was a close up throughout the game, the players of both sides showing an accuracy in hitting.

Lawson of the Burlingame team proved to be the only player master of the stroke, and while he did not do all the scoring that his team mate, Dick Tobin, accomplished, nevertheless his playing contributed more materially to Burlingame's victory than any other feature of the afternoon's play.

For Riverside the veteran Frank Mackey played a sensational game. Through the early part of the afternoon the veteran was rather unfortunate in his play, and failed to get into the hot work, but during the latter, he was about the only man in the game, so far as scoring was concerned, though his team-mate, H. G. Pattee, scored two pretty goals by quick rushing. Maj. Colin G. Ross, the Canadian player, though not successful in scoring, accomplished a number of efficient drives that helped out materially in the scores made by Pattee and Mackey.

TOBIN THE STAR.

Dick Tobin was the most successful scorer on the Burlingame four, netting three goals in the first three periods of play. Tom Driscoll's work was interesting, calling forth applause by his fast riding and rapid following of the ball. Driscoll's scores, as do the single goal by Lawson, came when Burlingame most needed them; that is, after Riverside got out of its preliminary stupor and got down to fast work.

From a layman's viewpoint, the game today was not as well played as the contest of Saturday. The players did not seem to rush the ball with the same certainty and accuracy on the hand. Burlingame showed a more experienced knowledge of the game, but in the latter half of the contest the champions were clearly outplayed by Riverside. In fact, Burlingame seemed to have lost entire grip on the game, much as though the players were not in condition for hard work.

Directly following the first throw-in Burlingame took the ball straight into the Riverside territory, doing practically its will with its opponents. The Riverside players seemed wholly at a loss as to how to cope with the Burlingame riders. When, after two minutes' play, Lawson scored a pretty goal, the spectators had the feeling that there had been no opposition. This feeling was strengthened when Dick Tobin, ten seconds later, landed a second score.

Toward the close of the first period Riverside had a fine chance for a score, having the ball almost between the posts, only to lose the chance by a wretched shot. Riverside continued to play aimlessly in the second period. Tom Driscoll dashed away with the ball and chased it down to the goal with practically no opposition.

RIVERSIDE'S DEFENSE.

Burlingame continually kept the Riverside team on the defense, the white ball flitting back constantly in the neighborhood of Riverside's goal posts, till finally Dick Tobin, by a back-handed stroke, drove the white sphere through for a score.

Period three contributed another score to Burlingame's tally. Just before time Dick Tobin rushed the ball away from the scrimmage and drove it between the goal posts.

Each of the first three periods went exactly ten seconds. With Burlingame a good five to the lead, there seemed to be no show for Riverside, but before the fourth period had gone many minutes, a radical change in the standing of the two teams made itself apparent.

Burlingame seemed to have shot its bolt, and Riverside rushed the white sphere into the northern team's territory and kept it there. The veteran, Frank Mackey, then loomed up big and scored two goals in quick succession. Mackey's team-mates were instrumental in getting the ball in both instances near the Burlingame goal but Mackey himself was directly responsible for the scores. Burlingame was unable to score. The period went ten minutes and forty-six seconds.

Burlingame returned to its old form in the fifth period and kept Riverside from scoring. Moreover, Lawson tallied one, sending the ball from the side lines a good sixty yards and between the goal posts. Driscoll, a little later when the ball came dribbling out of the scrimmage, made a getaway with the sphere and chased it straight down to a goal. Riverside played desperately throughout the sixth period, romping through three goals.

The Burlingame players seemed wholly at sea and Riverside kept them in that position. Harry Pattee raced through two pretty goals after brilliant dashes down the field and Frank Mackey scored another count for Riverside. The southern team had the much-vaunted northern outfit completely at its mercy when the bugle blew retreat and the game closed.

The proposed contest between a picked southern team and Burlingame for next Sunday is now a certainty. Charles Clark, the well-known polo enthusiast and owner of Joe Ross, last year's winner of the A. B. Spreckels cup, this morning presented the directors of the Coronado Country Club with $250 to buy a trophy for the North-South event. No contest at Coronado has ever aroused so much [illegible]

CRITICAL.

TAKES HANDICAP AT SANTA ANITA.

CRITIC BEATS THE FAVORITE ARKLIRTA IN FOURTH.

Ormondes' Right and Don Domo Land Last Two—Ruling Off of DeArman's Stable Considered Praiseworthy, but Tardy by Racegoers. Most of Profits Are "Taken."

Critic, backed down from sixes and sevens to fours, won the San Molino Handicap at Santa Anita, yesterday, from the favorite, Arklirta. John C. Rice led to the stretch, and then gave way more classy nags.

Ormondes Right surprised the talent by winning the fifth. Don Domo, closing odds-on, won the last race in a driving finish with Norfolk. Chalfonte was made a favorite over Teacress in the third and justified the selection. Harcourt was so well liked in the first that he was played down to two to five, and won hand-ridden by a head from Macias.

The action of the Santa Anita judges in ruling off U. Z. DeArman's stable is considered by sportsmen as praiseworthy though tardy. The Times was the first to point out the inconsistent manner in which the DeArman horses were run, and the significant fact that in almost every race which had a suspicious bae, the DeArman stable was represented.

The Times called particular attention to the Ingham-Early Tide race, wherein Ingham, an odds-on shot, was beaten by DeArman's Early Tide; to the Harvel-Whidden race, in which the hot favorite, Whidden, ran disgracefully behind DeArman's Harvel; and to the Creston-Preen-Early Tide race, in the Old Baldy Handicap, in which Mr. DeArman's great colt, Creston, ran last, when he should have been first, and Preen, a ten-to-one shot, ran over Early Tide, with which the DeArman stable was evidently making its only effort.

All of these races excited judicial inquiry, but did not lead to action. The Arcadia judges are long-suffering and over-complacent and over-patient. On last Saturday, however, there occurred a DeArman incident which was too much even for the judges. Hereafter, one of the fastest five-furlong nags at the track, was a heavily-played favorite to win the last race at his favorite distance.

The ring buzzed at post time with a hot paddock tip that there was "nothing doing" on Hereafter, and that Wisteria was the nominee. Wisteria was played off the boards by the insiders, and won the race; Hereafter went up in the betting 3 to 4, and ran last. Then Judge Hamilton ordered that all entries of the DeArman stable be in future refused, an order equivalent to ruling the stable off the western turf.

As the meeting is about over and the suckers have nearly all been trimmed already, it seems that Judge Hamilton might as well have allowed DeArman to go on racing at Arcadia. Saturday's ruling would have done much good for the betting public some weeks ago. Now it seems too late. But probably the bookmakers forced judicial action. In the DeArman coups heretofore the bookies have profited by the defeat of favorites. Saturday a killing was made on Wisteria, and the books would have preferred that Hereafter would have won. DeArman, apparently, hornswoggled his pals, the books, and they naturally protested. Lots of angles to this racing game.

OAKLAND BEATS CHICAGO COLTS.

Outbatted and Outplayed Commuters Are Lucky.

Carnes Hit Freely, But Holds Down the Score.

Butler Strikes Out Nine of Opposing Batsmen.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Oakland corralled the Chicago White Sox colts in the tenth inning today, after having been outhit and outplayed throughout the game. Oakland was lucky in bunching hits at the right time, while Chicago was unable to score more than one run in the ninth, when the tying tally was made on three hits.

The work of the pitchers was good, Butler striking out nine of the Oakland players. He was a trifle unlucky with men on bases, however, and in the second inning two runs scored on two hits. He allowed but six safeties in the ten innings, but they were sufficient to win. Carnes was hit freely in the last five innings, but he held the big leaguers down to two runs off the eight hits. Wright allowed two hits in his five innings, but they scored a run.

Lejeune, the long-distance throwing champion, smashed out a home run, while Heitmuller cracked out two triples. The only error scored by Chicago was by Osteen the shortstop. Oakland had four misplays marked up in the error column. Haley, at second, had a busy day, getting eight putouts and four assists without an error.

The first game of the concluding series will be be played at Chutes Park this afternoon. Games are scheduled for the balance of the week, the last one to be played on Sunday.

Beyond the fact that Randolph would be in the box for Los Angeles when the game begins today, the batteries of the two teams were undecided last night.

EMERYVILLE RACES.

GEMMEL WINS FEATURE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Notwithstanding that Roalta received many lengths the best of the start in the fourth race at Emeryville, today, he was not good enough to beat Gemmell and Sugar Maid. When the barrier was sprung the two choices, Gemmell and Sugar Maid, were away flat-footed, and Williams's Roalta sailed out in front. At the stretch turn Roalta began to wobble, and was passed by the choices. Gemmell and Sugar Maid fought it out, the former winning by a half a length. The track record was clipped a fraction of a second. Results:

Seven furlongs, selling: Monvina, 107 (Dearborn,) 16 to 1, won; Triumphant, 110 (Scoville,) 30 to 1, second; Phalanx, 112 (W. Miller,) 13 to 5, third; time 1:26 4-5. Stand Over, Ray Bennett, Sir Brillar and Nellie Racine finished as named.

Three and a half furlongs, purse: Mozart, 107 (Scoville,) 12 to 5, won; Toll Box, 107 (Sandy,) 23 to 5, second; Flying Dance, 97 (A. Walsh,) 25 to 1, third; time 0:41 1-5. Cull Holland, Matchtulla, Caronia, Charlie Rothschild, Lady Claude, Linola and Lady Marilee finished as named.

MIDDLEWEIGHT.

PAPKE GIVEN SLIGHT SHADE.

Knocks Kelly Down and Cuts His Eye Badly.

Hugo Nearly Evens Up Matters in Final Rounds.

Both Men Going Strong When Fight Ends.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Billy Papke eliminated Hugo Kelly from the middleweight championship race at the Hippodrome tonight. It was not a decisive victory but there was a slight shade in Papke's favor. The crowd was with Kelly, however, and the referee's decision was hissed from some parts of the building.

The fight itself was a slow one. Occasionally the boys let go and slammed away at each other with both hands, but as a rule, they hung together and butted. Papke was guilty of a good deal of butting and Kelly did most of the hanging on. Neither fought in championship form.

The first round was Papke's best. After receiving a left to the body, Papke swung his right to the jaw and Kelly went to the floor. He was not out, however, for he had the best of it in the second, third and fourth rounds. He forced the fighting and had Papke worried.

Honors were even in the fifth, Papke butting frequently. In the sixth Kelly was almost blinded by the blood from one eye. In the seventh Kelly was punished severely but got in several to the jaw. Papke tapped Kelly's cut eye the third time in the eighth.

The ninth was a mixup and ended in Kelly's favor. Both men were going strong at the end of the match.

CALLS JOHNSON DUB.

FLYNN LOKS FOR EASY TIME.

Next on the Los Angeles fight programme is the match between Jim Flynn and Battling Johnson, on March 24. There are those who see a coming champion in the big Russian, but Flynn, when he hears this kind of talk, says, "Do you think I will let that big dub beat me?"

Johnson will fight at close to 200 pounds, or twenty pounds heavier than Flynn's weight. He is going through a systematic course of training along special lines laid down by Manager Gaines, and with a large training camp at San Pedro has every facility for getting in the best of condition. If he is ever to make good, it ought to be when he meets Flynn.

Flynn is certainly wasting no time at East Side, even if he does regard Johnson merely as a means of bringing him a little easy money. He began training immediately after he returned from New Orleans, and is already in good shape. The big fireman is a fiend for work, and will meet Johnson at his best.

The sand bag in the East Side gymnasium bears a caricature of Battling Johnson. Flynn spends a good deal of his training time developing his punching power on the dummy. Yesterday he boxed with Kid Rose of Cleveland in a fast mill. In the morning he covered ten miles on the road.

Johnson alternates hard work with periods of rest. Sunday and Monday were his busy days. He will keep at the grind until Friday, when he will drop off and rest until Sunday. Johnson and his retinue occupy a four-room cottage and eat food prepared by their private cook. The force now includes Johnson, Fritz, Frey and Billy Nelson. Abdo, the Turk, will begin sparring with the big man today.

A message was received from Boer Unholz last night from New York, stating that attempts were being made to match him with Gans, but that he would consider nothing but a finish fight.

TO SHOOT AT REDONDO.

Qualified Squad of Southern California Rifles to Hold Tryout Practice Today.

The Southern California Rifles team will commence shooting for positions on the team to contest with the naval team this afternoon at 1 o'clock, on the Redondo range. Members who have already qualified will enter the competitions today and next Thursday. All such will shoot on one or both days, at their convenience, but position can only be established by at least one day's shooting on the ground.

The twelve best scores resulting will, in order, establish the formation of the team of ten men and two substitutes. Arrangements for the match will be perfected today if possible. A committee now is in conference with the fleet team officers. The conditions so far agreed upon are 200 yards, offhand; 300 yards, kneeling or sitting, and 200 yards, prone.

After the team is selected, a captain, two coaches and a quartermaster will be elected from members outside the team roster. This will remove from marksmen all outside responsibilities. It being necessary to keep complete records from the beginning of the tryout competition, C. F. Pierce has been appointed team adjutant, to begin service today and hold office throughout the match.

A few members who had previously established their class in the honor squad, but who were unable to be present at the last two qualifying competitions, are to take part, if they find it possible to reach the range for both practice shoots.

Team Changes Name.

The Seal Gardens nine in the Southern State League will henceforth be known as the Morans, as the latter team has disbanded since leaving the California Winter League. Austin LeBrand, catcher for Omaha, will play his last game with the league Sunday with the Dyas-Cline team. He will leave for Omaha Monday.

THE AMERICAN HENLEY.

American Rowing Association Issues Formal Announcement of Regatta Plans.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, March 16.—The American Rowing Association issued its formal announcement of plans for the American Henley on May 23. There will be twelve races, as usual, at one mile and 550 yards straight away. The definition of the "second" races is made particularly as explaining that rating in other organizations does not affect the right of entry.

Note is made of the continued barring of the Vesper Boat Club on account of the trouble over Abell's membership in the Octuhile race last year. The club can enter no more races until it disavows the action of its racing committee in this matter.

"Bill" Squires, the Australian heavyweight, has announced his intention of challenging the winner.

Twentieth Winners.

The Twentieth-street girls' basketball team defeated the McKinley-street team in the opening game of the grammar school series yesterday, by the score of 9 to 7, on the McKinley court. The game was very close and in doubt until the end.

REO
Still Holds the Los Angeles-Bakersfield Record
And, speaking of automobile records—HUSH! If it were not so amazing it would take a rise out of one's goat to see the fanciful claims made for the Los Angeles-Bakersfield Record, seven hours and eighteen minutes, now held by a REO.
Why, the closest actual time made by any of REO'S would be close to nine hours and [illegible] minutes, giving REO only two hours and plenty of time for a six-course dinner and yet a game of bridge and yet keep the record.
Or if REO had taken down ten miles from Bakersfield, we might have walked in and pulled the car, alle same little wagon, and the record would still have been REO'S.
You'll notice, too, that REO'S would be right up to whip the devil around a stump by claiming the "Touring car record," and so on. Humor, it is to laugh. We'll be having next we red our record the blue car record, and perhaps—there's no doubt but that the stock is available—the yellow car record. And, what's the matter with the hearse record and the ice-wagon record?
And finally, brethren, don't forget that the real record is for AUTOMOBILES, measured by actual elapsed time, and that REO still holds it.

FIGHTING FOR OPEN SHOP.

ion & Rio Grande Throws Down Gauntlet.

Machinists and Boilermakers Go Out on Strike.

ad Is Determined to Stop Union Domination.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]
DENVER (Colo.) March 16.—Fifteen hundred machinists, boiler makers and helpers of kindred trades working in the Denver and Rio Grande (Burlington) shops, today, went out on strike, in response to an order issued by W. J. McQueeney, representing the machinists' national organization, after a conference, at which Manager A. M. Ridgway of the railroad refused any concessions.

"The strike will ultimately spread to every road in the Gould system and will reach all over the United States," said Mr. McQueeney. "There is every indication that the struggle will be a long one and the fight a hard one."

The strike is the result of an order issued by the road a month ago, abrogating all contracts with the unions. At that time numerous conferences had been held by the men and the company, but it was impossible to reach an agreement.

In addition to the shops in Denver, where 20 men struck, the following towns are affected: Pueblo, Grand Junction, Salida, Alamosa, Leadville, Minturn, Gunnison, Chama, Ridgway, Montrose, Ouray, and Salt Lake, Ogden, Provo, Manti, Bingham, Tucker and other points in Utah.

Machinists, boiler makers, blacksmiths and helpers in all of these shops, foremen and apprentices went out, regardless of whether they were members of the organizations or not. Some of the car men went out, and it is expected that all of them will strike soon. In all about 2500 men will be involved, it is said.

PLENTY OF UNEMPLOYED.

The Denver shops were practically manned today, but the company's officials say they will fill the places of the strikers as rapidly as possible. They believe that with the large number of men out of employment they will have no trouble in getting enough unskilled men to keep repairs going for a bit for two weeks, when they believe they will have all positions filled.

Leaders of the men state all of the machinists would rather go elsewhere than work under the rules forced on them by the company. Deputy sheriffs were sworn in today and will guard the shops in Denver and be sent to the points on the road. The union officials assert that there will be no violence on the part of the workmen.

The new shop rules will result in the abolition of the nine-hour day, the payment of all overtime for Sundays and holidays, a graduated scale of wages and refusal to recognize men as unionists, regardless of organizations, and the employment of all employees according to merit, regardless of membership, and the right to hire the shop rules at will.

INVOLVES ALL GOULD ROADS.

All of the Gould roads probably will be involved in the strike before it is ended. At a recent meeting of the machinists of the Gould roads held in Kansas City it was unanimously voted to call the men on the Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain, Wabash and Texas Pacific if the officials should side with them as members of the company was reported, and stated that the men on the Denver and Rio Grande would conduct its strictly "open-shop" policy and refuse to recognize the union or any organization of the men and would reclassify the men on a strictly open-shop basis.

It is stated that in spite of the assurances of the company that they were not to be reduced, the main motive back of the strike has been called for the men would have to take a cut at some time. Vice-president of the Denver Railroad, has gone to Denver to confer with officials of the company, who refuse to make any statement.

MEN AT WORK.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SALT LAKE, March 16.—About seventy machinists, boilermakers and helpers employed in the Denver shops in this city went to work this morning, following a strike order from Denver. The men say they have already had enough at work to fill the places of the strikers and that a force will be working by Thursday.

GREAT ASSAULTED.
BRUTE METHODS.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
JUNCTION (Colo.) March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following the strike on the Denver and Rio Grande, agent of the road, was set upon and badly beaten today. The man who assaulted Stewart, but later escaped. As he was going home a stranger followed him and, being recognized, struck him.

Another Rio Grande man, who was the stranger was also attacked the man with his own wrist, but managed to take to his heels. He was followed a mile and, as he came to get out of the rear door, he met a Policeman Patterson. He was taken by surprise during an argument started and left. The stranger escaped.

ANARCHY.

ADVOCATES GUNS AND DYNAMITE.

ORGAN OF ANARCHISTIC CULT OUTDOES ITSELF.

Publishes Unusually Inflammatory Article Telling Dupes to Arm Themselves and Set Fire to Towns. No Quarter to Be Shown Police or Soldiers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The attention of Prosecutor Emley of Paterson, N. J., has been called to the following article, published in the latest number of La Question Sociale, the leading organ of the anarchists in this country, and published in that city:

"We want everybody to be with us. We invite everybody to get together and arm themselves. Seventy-five per cent. have only a knife in the house which will cut only onions. It will be a good thing for everybody to have a gun. When we are ready, the first thing to do is to break into the armory and seize the rifles and ammunition. Then all the people will be with us as soon as they see this. The next thing to do is to get hold of the Police Station, and when the police see they are not strong enough, the chief of police will ask for soldiers.

"Even at that, the dynamite is easy to get for us. Twenty-five cents' worth will blow a big iron door down. We don't want to forget that the dynamite will help us to win. Two or three of us can defy a regiment of soldiers without war. We will start when no one is thinking about it. Then we can beat them man for man.

"At that time show no sympathy for any soldiers, even if they be sons of the people. As soon as we get hold of the Police Station it is our victory. The thing is to kill the entire force. If not, they will kill us. After we have done this, the first thing to do is to look out for ourselves, and then for the people who helped us.

"We must get into the armory, and in case we cannot, then we will blow it down with dynamite. Then, when we are ready, we must set fire to three or four houses in different locations in the outskirts which will bring out the fire department and all the police. Then we will start a fire in the center of the city. This will be an easy thing to do, as the police and firemen will be on the outskirts."

It is said that 2000 copies of this paper go through the mails to every State in the Union, the greatest number going to Virginia and Vermont.

Prosecutor Emley said, when asked about the article:

"I have been looking into the law, but I have not found anything as yet on which to base action against the owner or editor of the publication."

FAILS TO FOOL THE POLICE.

Emma Goldman Attempts to Speak at a "Dance," but Is Hustled Into Outer Darkness.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Emma Goldman, "Queen of the Reds," attempted to deliver an address on anarchy tonight but, before the opening sentences passed her lips, a crowd of policemen swept into the hall, hustled the "queen" off the stage and out into the darkness.

At Workingmen's Hall, Twelfth and Waller streets, 200 persons had assembled, ostensibly for a dance, most of them anarchists from the Edelstadt group. A little before 10 o'clock—there hadn't been a sign of a policeman up to that moment—Miss Goldman arose to speak.

"Friends, I beg of you to keep quiet," began Miss Goldman.

That was as far as she got. Policemen seemed to spring up out of the floor. Twenty-five plain clothes men and forty-five uniformed men burst into the hall and were sweeping toward the stage before the audience realized what was happening.

Miss Goldman was put out of the hall. The police then left.

HIS HEART IS WEAK.

Physicians Unable to Restore Its Activity—Case of British Premier Growing More Serious.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]
LONDON, March 16.—The bulletin issued today concerning the condition of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Premier, which makes especial reference to the "considerable weakness" of the patient, has caused a renewal of the anxiety concerning his health. The heart trouble of the Premier is so pronounced that his physicians up to the present time have not been able to restore it to its normal activity.

Supreme Court of United States Affirms Decision Against the "Big Four" for Receiving Rebates.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]
WASHINGTON, March 16.—The proceedings by the government against the Armour Packing Company, Swift & Co., Morris & Co., and the Cudahy Company, all of them operating in Kansas City, Kan., under which the companies were each fined $15,000 by the United States Circuit Court for the Western District of Missouri, on the charge of receiving rebate contrary to the provisions of the Elkins act, was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States today adversely to those companies. The court's opinion was announced by Justice Day, who held transportation anywhere, and that an offense is confined to the initial point. He also held it applicable alike to shipper and carrier.

The decision of the lower courts in the complimentary case against the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway Company, holding that company responsible for granting the rebates to the packers and finding that company for the offense, also was affirmed.

The Chief Justice and Justice Peckham concurred in Justice Brewer's decision. They also held the Missouri court to be without jurisdiction.

AFTER COLD-STORAGE HEN.

Secretary Wilson Is Not Going to Let Her Palm Her Eggs Off as Fresh.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, has started a crusade which will be of unusual interest to the people of New York and Chicago and other large cities, and will undoubtedly arouse the bitter opposition of all dealers in eggs in the country.

He has determined cold storage eggs shall not be shipped and sold as "fresh" or "strictly fresh" eggs. He says the people of New York and Chicago are unfamiliar with the difference in taste between newly laid eggs and the storage product, and therefore are easily imposed upon and made to pay fancy prices. The penalty is $500 fine or six months in prison, or both.

Gall Stones Worth Several Hundred Dollars Per Pound

Rumored That Japan Uses Them For High Explosives

Mr. A. Stauffer, Living at First and San Pedro Streets, Relieved of Five Hundred Gallstones.

Los Angeles Man Tells His Experience

It is claimed that the Japanese are buying up all gallstones at an enormous price. Scientists claim that the Japs have discovered a secret whereby high explosive material is manufactured by their use, many times more powerful than dynamite. Mr. Stauffer, who lives at First and San Pedro streets, was relieved of 500 gallstones in less than sixteen hours. In an interview, Mr. Stauffer said: "I have been troubled with terrific pains in and around my liver; dizzy spells would come over me, and at times I was so weak that I could hardly get around; stomach sour and belching of gas and wind. I heard of the Great Fer-Don and the European Medical Experts, and at once consulted the experts, and soon discovered that I was troubled with gallstones. I was placed under treatment, and in just sixteen hours' time I was relieved of over 500 gallstones. No knife was used, no pain at all. I am now a well man, and am thankful to the European Medical Experts."

When Fer-Don was asked about the value of gallstones, he remarked that he had heard about the Japs buying them at Seven Hundred Dollars per pound, but could not substantiate the facts. But, said Fer-Don, "If the Japs wanted gallstones, that his doctors have removed many pounds from patients in Los Angeles, but if the Japs wanted to buy them, they couldn't buy them from him at a million dollars per pound, but if Uncle Sam needed them and could make use of them, Uncle Sam could have them for nothing. Just then, one of the committee asked Fer-Don if the offices were crowded like this all the time. Fer-Don replied, "Why, my European Medical Experts are kept busy from morning until night, treating the sick, the lame, the deaf, and the rheumatics. People are turned away daily because the Medical Experts do not have the time to treat all who throng the offices daily. Hundreds of cures are made weekly, and right here," said Fer-Don, "in this book we have on file over 9,000 testimonials of people who are thankful to us for their cures." I understand that you are making a liberal offer to treat the sick. Fer-Don then told his committee that for the next fifteen days, up until April 1st, all who called at the offices of the European Medical Experts, 745 South Main street, will be treated just for the cost of the medicine to effect a cure in each case.

SIXTIETH CONGRESS.

ELECTRIC BOAT INVESTIGATION.

Three Witnesses Examined With Negative Results.

All Had Been Attorneys for Submarine Company.

None Had Ever Tried to Influence Legislation.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The House committee which is investigating the charges of Representative Lilley against the Electric Boat Company examined today a number of witnesses.

Former Senator Butler of South Carolina, called as the first witness, was questioned by Mr. Hobbard. Senator Butler said that after leaving the Senate, he was engaged by the Holland Boat Company, and later by the Electric Boat Company, but has done no work for the last three or four years. His employment principally was to make arguments before the Senate Naval Committee. He never had appeared before a House committee nor had he discussed submarine boats with any member of the House.

C. E. Creecy, of Washington, who said he was the principal attorney for the boat company from 1894 to 1903, denied that he had ever spent any money to influence the government or members of Congress in favor of the boat, and that he did not believe any one else had done so. Mr. Creecy said that the testimony of Admiral Dewey before the House Naval Committee that he could not have taken his ships into Manila Bay if there had been two submarines there, had prompted him to draw an amendment to the naval bill providing for twenty submarine boats. This amendment was offered by Amos Cummings of New York.

F. P. B. Sands, another Washington attorney, a brother of Rear-Admiral Sands, U.S.N., testified that he had been employed by the Holland company to look after its affairs in Russia. He asserted that he had never approached or spoken to a member of Congress in regard to legislation, or had he conferred with officials of the Navy Department about contracts.

"When the company broke up its office here," said Mr. Sands, "it had no money. Mr. Frost said he would like to pay me, and that if Congress made an appropriation he would give me a fee equal to $100,000 for each of the boats authorized."

He told the committee that finally he had to sue for the money, and had accepted a compromise of about $6000.

FEDERAL CONTROL.

COMMITTEE REACHES DECISION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, March 16.—By the vote of 3 to 2 the subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Judiciary today declared unconstitutional all of the bills intended to remove Federal barriers against States exercising control of their police powers of the regulation of the liquor traffic.

Hearings on these measures have been held covering almost the entire session, and the bills were advocated by representatives of practically all of the States where there is a strong prohibition sentiment.

The members of the subcommittee are Senators Knox, Nelson, Fulton, Bacon and Rayner.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary of Navy Metcalf stated tonight that he received a message from Admiral Evans this morning, and that there was nothing contained in the message indicating that his condition had changed, or that there were any unfavorable symptoms that might cause immediate alarm.

Secretary Metcalf said it would be impossible for him to go to San Diego or any of the Southern California ports to greet the fleet. He will be very busy here for the next three weeks, and it will hustle him to get to San Francisco in time for the reception.

If Your Heart Stops—
Well—

What fat person can tell when? You know, of course what it means when your heart stops. It is all over. About ninety per cent. of deaths from heart disease are caused by fatty degeneration of the heart. And the heart of nearly every fat person skips a beat every few minutes. At any one of these skips that heart beat may be your last. If your heart goes thump-te-thump, te-te-thump, thump—thump, look out! As you read this you may fall back dead. Lemuel Shafford, a fat Iowa farmer, was found stone dead sitting in a chair, glaring with open, glassy eyes at a newspaper held firmly in his stiff, cold hands. These are not rare cases.

Excess fat is dangerous at all times. While the fat person may be of excellently good spirits, a happy, laughing soul, he knows not at what moment some slight over-exertion may usher in Death.

You will have no time to prepare when the fatal second has arrived. It will be all over. Save yourself and your family such a calamity. You can do it by using "Rengo," without a doubt the most wonderful fat remedy which has ever been discovered. It is made of tropical fruit extracts, and is absolutely safe.

There is nothing "just as good" as Rengo. For sale by all druggists at $1.00 per full sized box, or by mail prepaid, by The Rengo Co., 3257 Rengo Bldg., Detroit, Mich. The company will gladly send you a trial package free by mail, if you write them direct to Detroit; no free packages at drug stores.

For sale and recommended in Los Angeles by Owl Drug Co., 320 South Spring, and 5th and Broadway, also Hamburgers and the Broadway Department Store.

Again, in the same quaint dedication, too long for quotation in entirety: "My dear brother Thomas has his entrance door to men's hearts by the Spirit alone; his dear heart demands worth and acknowledges worth without the aid of adventitious circumstances. He it is that examines the qualities of stone in presenting it to the Divine Hewer, lest there should be any falling away, or shrinking in the structure; hence the snubs and crosses and hardships he has endured in this sublunary state."

left in the old homestead, Lucy, Mary, and Thomas, none of whom married. To her brother, Thomas, who must have been like herself a religious enthusiast, Mary was unswervingly attached.

TITLE AND DEDICATION.

The title page of this devotional work affirms it to be "Confirmed Assurances of Christian Truth Drawn From a Retrospection of Life Shewing an Application of the 91st Psalm," and [illegible] it contains also other quotations [illegible] accompanied by voluminous [illegible] from Genesis to the

TRIBUTE TO BROTHER.

Furthermore, we learn that Thomas "demanded Worth and Truth, in the inward parts from his baby infancy to maturity. All throughout his pilgrimage of life pleasures' gilded ray in all the giddy mazes of this world had no power or attraction to move him."

Mary says that in her youth her brother Thomas preserved her from "foibles not much in themselves," but which opened a way "for the serpent in his spoliations."

Further: "This fine inborn property of a serious heedfulness which my brother Thomas possesses, would renew the world in righteousness, did they but know its value and cultivate it."

"Active benevolence," she says, characterized her brother William, but she sounds for him what she calls "a warning note." "Unless the foundation stone which is Jesus Christ have its due weight and significance in the structure of mind. . . . the building must fall a crumbling ruin on every dissention of wind."

No mention is made in this dedication of either of her sisters, and her brother David also is deprived of the honor. He and his sister, Agnes, had each gone to live in the United States.

Lucy and Mary both are dead, but it remained for Mary, who was oppressed with a sense of the transitory nature of this life, and spent her time in preparation for the next, and communion with the Deity, to leave a work that will withstand time and grow more curious and valuable as the years pass. Nothing but a fanatical spirit of devotion could possibly have inspired the production of such a work.

Its matter is chiefly interesting in its exposition of a certain type of mind; deeply religious, meditative—even brooding, thoughtful, but not highly intellectual; and often in its expression verbose and meandering.

QUAINT PASSAGES.

It is replete with fine, flowing phrases and swelling, grandiose sentiments; occasionally there is a quaint turn, such as one concerning what the Lord considers best "for the Creature He is Ripening for Glory."

The quaint passage following shows well the tenor of her mind, and her scorn for the material and sensual:

"We very well can understand why the Saviour of Mankind gave His Approbation to the Beauty of a Simple Flower, the lily of the vale, before the glory of Solomon, as it Expresses in its Simple Appearance the freshness and purity of true holiness, the Spirit of Life, without which all must Die, and which Spirit of Holiness was lost to King Solomon in the Sensual Pleasures of the Body, who Purposely gave Himself—though with wisdom's eye awake—to the Enjoyment of all which Ministers to the Senses: Mirth and Laughter, Wine, Folly, Madness, Wisdom, the Delight of Great Possessions Metals and Stones, the Delights to the Senses of Eye and Ear, in Vineyards and Pleasure Grounds, Elegant Mansions, Musicians, both Men and Women, and Musical Instruments of Every Description, Cattle in Abundance, both Small and Great; Men-servants and Maid-servants to wait upon him in his State."

This is appropriately followed by the reflection that Solomon himself pronounced it all "Vanity and Vexation of spirit."

RARE IN EXECUTION.

From a literary standpoint, the book is chiefly valuable as a curiosity; but in execution it is a never-ending, never-tiring marvel.

"There is nothing to compare with it in any museum in this country," is the verdict of a man who has seen them all.

Mary Workman was absolute master of every variety of script, and mingled the various kinds with such art that each page is a study; her scroll work defies criticism; the illumination, where she has used it, is beautiful, and, besides all this, scores of pages are decorated and illustrated. Her mind naturally and readily expressed itself in symbols: the lion typified strength; the "high-soaring eagle," elevation of thought; doves, peace; a sword, power or vengeance; wheat, plenty; roses, rapture; a candle, aureole or rays, spirit or light; an arrow, direction; balances, judgment or understanding; an anchor, hope; an open eye, the Almighty; while the words Christ, Saviour, Jesus or Son are nearly always accompanied by a crucifix.

The use of colors is also symbolical: blue for Heaven, red for blood, yellow for light, purple for Christ's Passion.

The "Dissertation on the 91st Psalm" being finished in 294 pages, Mary Workman commenced in the same parchment volume a disquisition upon the third verse of the 102nd Psalm, "If the Foundations be Destroyed, what can the Righteous do?"

She had progressed well on this work before the pen fell from her hand. The book ends in an unconcluded sentence, with the words, "and perishing human greatness."

PROOF OF LIFE WORK.

None of the family knows when the work was commenced and when finished. That it was a life work is evident; and Mary was born about 1804 and died in 1877.

From what old parchments and allegorical pictures she drew her ideas and inspirations one cannot tell; but in her methods of work she was decidedly original, often erratic, and always impressive.

A picture of "The Prodigal Son" is done in water colors on satin. The robe of the Prodigal Son's father, which he has folded over the Prodigal Son, is heavily embroidered in variegated silks, and the scroll work is of gold paper, cut out and applied; an inscription at the top expresses a pious hope that there may never arise a spiritual famine in the land—a metaphorical feeding upon husks. Below most of the parable of the Prodigal Son is reproduced.

A portrait of the grandfather of Elijah and William H. Workman, now the possession of Miss Gilletta Workman and her sister, Mrs. Conrad Krebs of Los Angeles, is in sepia tints, done in pastel, and evidences minute and painstaking work. A dog, a book and an inkstand were painted on rice paper, cut out and applied.

The Workman family in this country (the race is extinct in England) possesses no picture of this maiden aunt; but a glimpse of her in a more earthly and human guise is had through some age-yellow letters to her brother, David, father of William H. and the late Elijah Workman.

HER HUMAN SIDE.

In one of these letters, all addressed to Booneville, Mo., Mary speaks of having received in that year, 1834, a portrait of David Workman, his wife and child, evidently sent with no writing to identify it: "Lucy instantly recognized you. The rest of us had to recall our wandering senses of what you were, but she without thought said, 'It is our David—do you not see my mother's forehead, her eyes, her mouth? Not one of us had her features, but him—and her chin? Oh, do you not remember his little nose? Why, Moll, it is the very twin mouth to your own.'"

"Moll!" They dared address this virgin saint as Moll!

She continues: "These addresses were more than sufficient to bring your image to our minds. You are a right handsome fellow. . . . As soon as the news arrived at Penrith, your old Master and Mistress came to see you and were highly gratified at your prosperity, drank your health and rejoiced over you as if you had been their own child. He noted down in his own pocketbook the day, the month and the year in which he had the extreme pleasure of seeing the portrait of his favorite apprentice, David Workman, together with those of his wife and child, observing you did not drive many nails now. It is my intention to return your favor, and draw his picture with that of my father and send them to you at the first opportunity."

From these old letters, the book and the pictures, must be conjured up the image of Mary Workman. Of self there is nothing in the book—all her work is laid humbly at the feet of her Master, whom she devoutly worshiped "in spirit and in truth."

Through the half-dozen old letters there breathes a sweet and more homely spirit; it seems possible that, in addition to "the good part" of Mary, she may sometimes have played the role of Martha.

MOTTO TO GO BACK ON COINS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Under the suspension of the rules, the House passed the bill providing for the restoration of the motto, "In God We Trust," on gold and silver coins of the United States.

The bill was passed by a vote of 255 to 5.

EXCHANGE MOVEMENTS.

Produce Men Working for Saturday Closing All the Year and to Establish Grain Call.

A movement to close all commission and produce houses at noon on Saturdays was started yesterday among local merchants and will probably prove successful, as nearly every large commission house in the city has signed the petition. It has been the custom of the produce dealers to close at noon on Saturday from June 16 to September 16, and it is believed the practice might profitably include the rest of the year.

Another important movement among members of the Produce Exchange is one to bring all the grain merchants of the city into that organization, include grain quotations on the regular

THE POLICE COURTS.

Mayor and Council Witnesses in Fertilizer Works Case—Woman Defends Goat With Her Body.

Mayor Harper, the members of the Council, representatives of various civic bodies and more than fifty other witnesses appeared in Justice Rose's court yesterday when the case of C. T. Hanson, charged with maintaining a nuisance on East Ninth street, was called.

Hanson has many political friends and is making a stubborn fight. Prosecuting Attorney Ford ordered him to conduct his place of business in such manner that it would not be offensive to the neighbors. When Hanson refused to obey, Ford filed charges against him in the Police Court.

Attorney Isidore Dockweiler, representing the defendant, spent the greater part of the day in selecting a jury.

When the court began to call the witnesses for the prosecution, it was found that the list contained almost three score persons, each of whom was anxious to testify that Hanson's fertilizer works gave forth an odor that was most objectionable. Justice Rose examined a dozen or more of them.

Attorney Dockweiler had subpoenaed many of the city officials and the Council adjourned in order to attend court and testify as to the application of the Hanson company for a license.

The case will be continued today.

Four-Year Hunt.

For four years Mrs. J. M. Parker sought Guy Blackweider, who, she asserted, owed her $2.50. Yesterday money, she called on Prosecuting Attorney Alexander and asked that a warrant for his arrest, charging him with defrauding an innkeeper, be issued. It was refused.

Mrs. Parker told the attorney that Blackweider had spent three weeks at her house in 1904 and had owed her $12 rent, but had paid all but $2.50.

Defends Goat With Body.

Mrs. Stella Rangel of No. 1330 Mission Road defended the life of her pet goat with her body Sunday afternoon. Yesterday she secured a warrant charging John Armstrong, her neighbor, with having threatened to kill her.

When the goat visited the Armstrong premises, Armstrong appeared with a shotgun, it was said, and Mrs. Rangel leaped between the angry man and her pet.

SCHOOL GIRLS

Most of our ambitious young American girls work too hard at school.

Many teachers have little or no judgment about pushing a child beyond her endurance. They ought to know that girls especially have a danger period. Often, too often, utter physical collapse is the result, and it takes years and years to recover lost vitality.

Many a young girl has been helped over this critical period, and been prepared for a healthy womanhood by

DOCTOR THE SKIN TO CURE THE SKIN

Scientific Study Proves Eczema Cannot Be Treated by Dosing the Stomach With Drugs.

Advanced medical science, after years of study and research, is now practically agreed that Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, and diseases of like nature are skin diseases—and cannot be cured by doctoring the blood. The treatment prescribed is the direct application of healing, soothing remedies to the skin.

"Doctor the itch where the itch is"—such is the common sense as well as scientifically correct conclusion. Oil of wintergreen, compounded with such other soothing vegetable remedies as glycerine and thymol in D. D. D. Prescription, is recognized as the specific. Physicians use D. D. D. Prescription freely in their practice. Dr. C. A. V. Hartleben, Washington, D. C., writes as follows:

"D. D. D. Prescription is medicinal, soothing and the effect is miraculous. God knows it saved me a deal of suffering. I recommend it to everyone I can."

This letter is only one of many testifying to the merits of this purely vegetable remedy. Copies of other letters may be seen at our stores. (Sun Drug Co.'s stores.) Free treatise on care and nutrition of the skin may be

ANGELENOS IN PERIL.

Espee Trains Collide and Engines Smashed, But Passengers Escape Injury—Passenger's Story.

The lives of a score of Los Angeles men and women were endangered in a head-on collision between Southern Pacific passenger train No. 15, west bound, and local freight train, No. 248, which took place at the switch, a quarter of a mile west of Vineland shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning. That no one was seriously injured is remarkable, as both trains were going at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour.

A misunderstanding as to the time schedule was responsible for the accident. When the engineers saw that a collision was inevitable, they set the brakes and jumped. They rolled down the embankment at the side of the tracks and escaped with a few bruises. The passengers, forty in number, were tossed about and frightened but not hurt.

Both engines were reduced to scrap iron and several cars were derailed.

Assistant District Attorney McComas was on the passenger train. In speaking of his experience, he said:

"When the collision happened, I was thrown violently against the seat back of me and every one in the car was shaken up. If the engineer and fireman of our engine had not jumped they would have been killed, for the steam was escaping in clouds and would have scalded them to death.

"It was reported that the engineer of the freight engine said that the accident was due to his watch being two minutes slow, but I cannot vouch for this statement."

SUFFERED FROM CRAMP.

Removal to New Quarters Enables United States Officials to Make Quick Recovery.

The offices of the United States District Attorney and his assistant were moved from the fourth to the fifth floor of the Tajo building, yesterday. Mr. Lawler was much cramped for room in his former offices, which lacked also necessary privacy. He now has a spacious private office and a general reception room.

Assistant United States District Attorney A. I. McCormick also has a large private office. Formerly he occupied a little room opening out of the United States Marshal's office. This has been added to the suite occupied by Marshal Youngworth and will be used by some of his deputies. Lawler's former private office will be converted into a courtroom for the United States commissioners.

The change has given general satisfaction to the Federal officials, who are crowded in inadequate quarters. Heretofore there has been no suitable room for commissioners' hearings. Mr. Van Dyke held court in the large room when there was no session of the Circuit or District courts; at other times he presided at hearings in the grand jury room or in his own private office.

Good dressers favor suitings with a touch of olive green in them—some in clever plaids, others in chalk and pencil stripes.

Today's a good time to come in and see these green suitings, also the new browns and elephant shade.

Suits to order, $20 to $50.

FLAMES SEAR BABY'S FLESH.

CHILD PLAYS WITH MATCHES, CLOTHES CATCH.

Unable to Find Mother, Three-Year-Old Boy Crawls Upstairs and Gets Into Bed Where He Is Painfully, Perhaps Fatally, Burned Before Roomer Beats Out Flames.

While playing with matches in front of his home at No. 236 East Fifty-fourth street, yesterday afternoon, Harley Conser, Jr., 3 years of age, set fire to his clothing and was probably fatally burned. His mother, who is in a delicate condition, suffered a nervous shock at sight of the burning baby, and both she and the child are at the Emergency Hospital.

The little boy is the pet of the neighborhood. He has a mass of blonde hair and great blue eyes. Yesterday afternoon his mother dressed him in a little Buster Brown suit and sent him out to play in the front yard of the big apartment-house, where the Consers live.

The boy found some matches on the sidewalk and decided to be a man. He had on his first pair of trousers, and he walked up and down, striking matches and lighting imaginary cigarettes.

One match set fire to his loose blouse. The baby patted at the flame with one chubby hand, and it burnt him. He turned and toddled manfully to the house in search of his mother. He could not find her, so, with the flames searing his soft flesh, he crawled upstairs, got into his little bed and sobbed with pain.

Frank Booth, a lodger, heard him, broke into the room, and found the child enveloped in fire. He caught the baby up, rolled him on the floor, and beat out the flames.

Mrs. Conser, who had been in another part of the house, returned to the room in time to see the baby in flames. She fainted and a physician had to be called to revive her. She and the boy were sent to the Emergency Hospital.

Last night the little one was reported to be resting easily, but the burns extended over a considerable portion of his body, and the attendant physicians expressed grave doubts as to his recovery.

The boy's father is employed in the dispatcher's office of the Los Angeles Railway Company.

DEATH'S CALL SUDDEN.

Resident Here for Over Thirty Years Dies After Illness of But Three Days.

Death came rather suddenly to Mrs. Sarah Snell Mathews, who passed away yesterday after an illness of only three days, from hemorrhage of the brain. She was 69 years old. Her husband, Newell Mathews, for years a prominent merchant, died about a year ago. Four children survive—Amanda, Julia, Ellen and Bryant Mathews, all grown. Mrs. Mathews came here with her husband from Princeton, Ill., in 1877, when he engaged in the implement and vehicle business.

The funeral will be held tomorrow, a service being held at the house, Twenty-first street and Union avenue, at 2:30 p.m. The remains will be buried at Evergreen Cemetery.

ANGELENOS IN PERIL.

Espee Trains Collide and Engines Smashed, But Passengers Escape Injury—Passenger's Story.

The lives of a score of Los Angeles men and women were endangered in a head-on collision between Southern Pacific passenger train No. 15, west bound, and local freight train, No. 248, which took place at the switch, a quarter of a mile west of Vineland shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning. That no one was seriously injured is remarkable, as both trains were going at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour.

A misunderstanding as to the time schedule was responsible for the accident. When the engineers saw that a collision was inevitable, they set the brakes and jumped. They rolled down the embankment at the side of the tracks and escaped with a few bruises. The passengers, forty in number, were tossed about and frightened but not hurt.

Both engines were reduced to scrap iron and several cars were derailed.

Assistant District Attorney McComas was on the passenger train. In speaking of his experience, he said:

"When the collision happened, I was thrown violently against the seat back of me and every one in the car was shaken up. If the engineer and fireman of our engine had not jumped they would have been killed, for the steam was escaping in clouds and would have scalded them to death.

"It was reported that the engineer of the freight engine said that the accident was due to his watch being two minutes slow, but I cannot vouch for this statement."

SUFFERED FROM CRAMP.

Removal to New Quarters Enables United States Officials to Make Quick Recovery.

The offices of the United States District Attorney and his assistant were moved from the fourth to the fifth floor of the Tajo building, yesterday. Mr. Lawler was much cramped for room in his former offices, which lacked also necessary privacy. He now has a spacious private office and a general reception room.

Assistant United States District Attorney A. I. McCormick also has a large private office. Formerly he occupied a little room opening out of the United States Marshal's office. This has been added to the suite occupied by Marshal Youngworth and will be used by some of his deputies. Lawler's former private office will be converted into a courtroom for the United States commissioners.

The change has given general satisfaction to the Federal officials, who are crowded in inadequate quarters. Heretofore there has been no suitable room for commissioners' hearings. Mr. Van Dyke held court in the large room when there was no session of the Circuit or District courts; at other times he presided at hearings in the grand jury room or in his own private office.

METALS AND MINING.

GATES MAY SOLVE PUZZLE.

Meet of Financiers May Bring Results.

Angeles Should Extend Hearty Indorsement.

Jim District in Nevada Gives Promise.

news that John W. Gates, the Wall street financier, is interested in a project to establish a gigantic smelting plant in vicinity of this city, which was published in these columns yesterday, seems, if true, the most important development that has yet taken place in the local smelting situation.

reputation of Gates as a man willing to back his opinion with money in any amount when he feels his judgment is right, is known that it is unnecessary to dwell upon it here. He is associated with men who command unlimited capital, and, if the preliminaries can be arranged, there is no doubt Angeles will be given the opportunity to realize its long-cherished dream of become in reality the metropolis of the great South-

Rumored that the party has engaged accommodations at the leading hotels and the inference that the object of the meeting is the purpose of discussing the plans comes from so reliable a source as The Times that there can be no doubt the rumors will be verified within a very short time. It has been known by The Times for several months that certain parties were making exhaustive investigations of the subject in all its bearings, until now, no information of any consequence involved was allowed to leak out. It was stated, however, that the work was done in behalf of one of the strongest financial interests in the country and there is little doubt that the instigator of the move was Gates, who doubtless is looking for others besides himself.

This has caused an endless amount of comment among mining men and has been much discussed whether the plans are formed in behalf of the smelting interests which have long contemplated possibilities of such a move in the independent line.

establishment of a modern plant by the trust would undoubtedly be to the advantage of the district, it is believed that an independent plant would offer even greater inducements for the investment of large capital. In the latter case, all ores of the producing districts would be available, while, under trust management, there is little doubt that a great deal of ore would be diverted to plants controlled by the trust. Be that as it may, the coming of the city thereto would be hailed with an independent plant, but it is the universal belief that the latter plans will reveal themselves.

Whether the plant be an adjunct of the trust or an independent concern, it would undoubtedly mean more to the people of Los Angeles than any other thing that has been mooted within recent decades. Under these circumstances it is to be hoped that the public and semi-public organizations of the city will take prompt action of the matter and that individuals interested in the destiny of this great growing city will express themselves in favor of the project. The benefits of smelter fumes can safely be left to experts and there is little doubt that this one great drawback will be settled in such a manner that the health of the city will in no wise be impaired. If the Gates' rumors are true, all that is needed is a little of the part of the public, which should be forthcoming spontaneously and without stint.

people of Los Angeles have been wont to look to the phenomenal growth of their city, have laid such stress on the perfection of its climate that they have not had time to dwell on the causes of the expansion in other directions. Those who have given the matter in all its bearings assert that the mining interests do more to obtain the money than any other.

It is generally conceded that Goldfield poured no less than $20,000,000 into local coffers within the past year and the greater portion of that sum has been permanently invested in banking, real estate and commercial enterprises of all has found its way to the East with much encouragement of success and it is now time for an enthusiastic indorsement of the idea that Los Angeles may be entitled to by all of its location and natural advantages as a smelting center of the richest belt on earth, the treasures of the vast treasures in her untouched desert plains and the mountains of California, Nevada, Arizona, the region east and as far to the south as the sea-bound shores of mining district, which has attracted the attention of capitalists, is the Sunny Jim, about eighty miles from Goldfield, in the northwest corner of Esmeralda county, Nev., near the Oregon line.

were made by J. Ross Clark, who has interested Los Angeles mining men in the district, and offered by the excellent showing. The country is full of dykes of porphyry, the companies now operating have all opened up good bodies of ore.

Clark, perhaps the most enthusiastic in the district, says the twelve feet of ore averages $40 a ton, while an average of one wall gives $100 to the ton. A shaft fifty feet on the property, the bottom it is said has been sunk to better advantage than the surface, and shaft is being sunk by a double shift of men. A mill of development has been accomplished.

Clark, who is now in the new Goldfield, Nevada, company, with Hugh P. Costigan, formerly an excellent Butte Union company man, and a large body of mining results, the company, operating four promising properties, has good milling facilities and a heavy growth of pine, while the Walker River, flowing 7000 inches, is only one and a half miles away. Those who have examined the new camp believe it is destined to develop several large producers of milling ore.

Cunningham Pass.

Nestor A. Young, Jr., has just returned from Cunningham Pass, Ariz., twelve miles north of Wendon station, on the new Santa Fé cut-off, where activity in developing copper and gold properties is manifest. The district, four by five miles in extent, has long been isolated, and worked very primitively by Arizona men on their own account, no companies having been organized as yet. Young is interested in the Rainer claims on the east side of the pass, with Stephen Nash and E. M. Bray of Prescott. The average of the ore is said to be about 15 per cent. copper, but Young has a specimen assaying 60 to 70 per cent. copper and $30 in gold.

The Boone property, owned by Bullard brothers of Prescott, on the west side of the pass, is working 200 feet below the surface, the greatest depth obtained in camp. Young says $100,000 worth of ore has been taken from this claim, half of which has been shipped and sold, all having been raised by a windlass and bucket. The first machinery in the district was put up here on the night of February 15, in the form of a twelve-horse-power gasoline hoist.

Other developing properties are the Burns, Belcher & Smith, the Hagler, the Miller, and the Rollins claim. The owner of the last, whose name it bears, lives on the ground, and works it in person. The next to the last is down 140 feet. Water formerly had to be hauled twenty miles and efforts are being made to get water now. While Young was there the well-diggers struck at forty feet a fine ledge of copper.

Another Company Formed.

The Interstate Gold Company has just been formed here to work the Pine Mountain and Lamartine groups in the Walker district in Central Arizona, acquired a few months since. W. C. Tonkin of Los Angeles, formerly general manager of properties near Yuma, is general manager. A shaft has been sunk 500 feet, and the mill has been reconstructed. There is an eight-foot vein on the Lamartine extending 350 feet and averaging $12.

Movements of Mining Men.

J. W. Overbury, who has been in the city for the past few days on business connected with the sale of the Tecopa mines to the Tonopah Mining Company, left for San Francisco Saturday evening.

Harry Chickering and wife, accompanied by Sidney F. T. Brock, left for San Francisco by automobile on Saturday and will stop over at Santa Barbara and other points of interest on the way.

George Wingfield, of the Goldfield Consolidated, who has been at the Alexandria Hotel for the past few days and who expected to remain here for a week, has been called to Goldfield on important business and left on the Tonopah and Tidewater Sunday evening.

Dr. W. K. Robinson of the Little Florence lease at Goldfield, has returned to the city after a week's trip to that camp and to Montezuma, where he is also heavily interested. He is now conducting operations on the Baltimore Belle lease, which owns a four-years' lease on the Bee Fraction, adjoining the Florence ground.

Perry W. Lamona, who made a fortune in the boom days of Greenwater in partnership with his cousin, W. J. Cleary, of Fresno, and Clarence Lamb, of this city, and who is now engaged in the grape-growing industry at Fresno, was a guest in the city for a few days recently and left for home last night.

Robert Atkinson and T. A. Johnson, formerly superintendent of the Johnnie mine, left for Johnnie on Saturday evening on business connected with the Burro-Johnnie mine, for which a deal is now pending with Los Angeles parties. Six men are at work upon the property and the main shaft has been sunk to a depth of thirty feet with a good showing of three feet of average $12 ore. Both are heavily interested in the Consolidated Johnnie.

C. E. Race, formerly a well-known mining man of Rossland, B. C., and for several years editor of the Rossland Miner under the Heinze régime, is now in El Cajon, near San Diego, and has just completed the organization of the Southern California Eucalyptus Forests Corporation, an organization, with an elastic charter, incorporated for the principal purpose of cultivating land for the growth of eucalyptus trees. He is associated with E. C. Smith, of El Cajon and J. W. Puterbaugh, of San Diego. The capital of the company is $1,000,000 and of that amount $750,000 is said to have been subscribed by San Diego stockholders.

BUYS HANDSOME HOME.

Eleven-Roomed House in Fashionable West Adams Section Secured for Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

J. Henry Litt has purchased from the Home Building Company, through the agency of O. A. Vickrey & Co., the handsome dwelling at No. 2870 Budlong avenue, in the heart of the fashionable West Adams section, for a stated consideration of $15,000.

The house was recently finished, and contains eleven large rooms, with basement under the entire building, and a large attic. It occupies the northeast corner of Twenty-seventh street and Budlong avenue, the lot being 70x150 feet in size. On the lower floor are five large rooms, a special feature being a large reception hall extending through the house and ending in a conservatory. There are six bedrooms on the second floor and two bathrooms. Decorations consist of Japanese leather, grass cloth and tapestry on the lower floor and creton effects on the second story.

J. H. Strine has sold a ten-acre Valencia orange grove, located near Glendora, to N. W. Converse for $7500. The property has no buildings on it, and the trees are only four years old.

A. T. Jergins & Co. report the sale to Mrs. Isabelle J. Brown, for the Huntington Land and Improvement Company, of a lot on the west side of Magnolia avenue, just north of West Tenth street, in Clark & Bryan's Westmoreland tract, for $2500. The buyer is planning to improve with a handsome residence.

CASE HINGES ON SALT.

Chicago Company Suing Local Men, Alleging Infringement of Sweeping Compound Patent.

The lack of salt in a patent sweeping compound may win a case now pending in the United States Circuit Court. The right to put the preparation on the market is strongly contested by the plaintiff, the Perolin Company of Chicago. Gabor Heygi of this city, the defendant, claims that his compound is dissimilar in that it does not contain any sodium chloride—common salt.

The case was heard before Judge Wellborn, yesterday, on an application for a temporary injunction, restraining the defendant from manufacturing his preparation. The plaintiff alleges that it is the owner of a patent assigned by R. Singer of Chicago. The defendant showed that he had two patents upon sweeping compounds which were not infringements of the other patent and the court denied the motion for an injunction.

PITIFUL.

FLAMES SEAR BABY'S FLESH.

CHILD PLAYS WITH MATCHES, CLOTHES CATCH.

Unable to Find Mother, Three-Year-Old Boy Crawls Upstairs and Gets Into Bed Where He Is Painfully, Perhaps Fatally, Burned Before Roomer Beats Out Flames.

While playing with matches in front of his home at No. 336 East Fifty-fourth street, yesterday afternoon, Harley Conser, Jr., 3 years of age, set fire to his clothing and was probably fatally burned. His mother, who is in a delicate condition, suffered a nervous shock at sight of the burning baby, and both she and the child are at the Emergency Hospital.

The little boy is the pet of the neighborhood. He has a mass of blonde hair and great blue eyes. Yesterday afternoon his mother dressed him in a little Buster Brown suit and sent him out to play in the front yard of the big apartment-house, where the Consers live.

The boy found some matches on the sidewalk and decided to be a man. He had on his first pair of trousers, and he walked up and down, striking matches and lighting imaginary cigarettes.

One match set fire to his loose blouse. The baby patted at the flame with one chubby hand, and it burnt him. He turned and toddled manfully to the house in search of his mother. He could not find her, so, with the flames searing his soft flesh, he crawled upstairs, got into his little bed and sobbed with pain.

Frank Booth, a lodger, heard him, broke into the room, and found the child enveloped in fire. He caught the baby up, rolled him on the floor, and beat out the flames.

Mrs. Conser, who had been in another part of the house, returned to the room in time to see the baby in flames. She fainted and a physician had to be called to revive her. She and the boy were sent to the Emergency Hospital.

Last night the little one was reported to be resting easily, but the burns extended over a considerable portion of his body, and the attendant physicians expressed grave doubts as to his recovery.

The boy's father is employed in the dispatcher's office of the Los Angeles Railway Company.

DEATH'S CALL SUDDEN.

Resident Here for Over Thirty Years Dies After Illness of But Three Days.

Death came rather suddenly to Mrs. Sarah Snell Mathews, who passed away yesterday after an illness of only three days, from hemorrhage of the brain. She was 69 years old. Her husband, Newell Mathews, for years a prominent merchant, died about a year ago. Four children survive—Amanda, Julia, Ellen and Bryant Mathews, all grown. Mrs. Mathews came here with her husband from Princeton, Ill., in 1877, when he engaged in the implement and vehicle business.

The funeral will be held tomorrow, a service being held at the house, Twenty-first street and Union avenue, at 2:30 p.m. The remains will be buried at Evergreen Cemetery.

The reports from Magdalena indicate that the fleet continues to make a hit.

The talk that money is to be cheap should not be taken to mean that it will be as cheap as talk.

May the guns of the fleet never be called to more serious uses than those they are now being put to.

It looks to us as though Magdalena Bay will be pretty well balled up by the time the fleet leaves it.

The news from Port au Prince indicates that it can't be a much better place to live in than Chicago.

From what we hear about it, Hayti could change its name to Hades without anybody being much the wiser.

A man may have been a member of the Legislature, but his folks never say so on his tombstone when he dies.

What the fleet has done and what the magazine critics have been saying about it do not seem to check up.

It must make the Democratic party feel sore when it thinks that its press agent is using up all the space for himself.

We note that there is a Democratic Senator named Gore. It is a very appropriate name for a Democratic Senator.

It must be some satisfaction to Count Boni that Anna cannot marry that De Sagan fellow on the money she had left over.

We trust that the time-worn motto, "Welcome to Our City," will be eliminated from the decorations. Let's think of new ways to say it.

Of course it is to be expected that when Pennsylvania and New York hold their conventions the Taft column won't look quite so fat.

The fact that the ships reached Magdalena in better shape than when they left Hampton Roads proves that water is good for them.

What the trusts are hoping for is that the country will elect, this year, a President who will find other subjects much more interesting.

Speaking of being "out for the money," we notice that the Duke of Abruzzi is visiting at the same hotel as the Elkins family in Florida.

Considering the long cruise it is booked for, by the time the present fleet gets back we ought to have a pretty good-sized new one built.

There appears to be a general impression that Mr. Carnegie is not making nearly the effort to die poor that characterized his earlier enthusiasm.

Those "Down East" Senators should not feel so sore because the fleet was sent to the Pacific. It is the greatest thing that ever happened to it.

Any title the government could confer on Rear-Admiral Evans wouldn't be equal, anyway, to the affectionate title the public has conferred on him, which the same is "Fighting Bob."

Two brothers have planned to walk 5000 miles away from Hollywood. Why anybody should want to get that far away from almost the prettiest place on earth must remain a mystery.

It seems that what caused the excitement at Stanford recently was the statement in the address of Rev. Jenkin Lloyd that poets will some day become statesmen and leaders of the world.

If Europe and America would just turn their backs on China for a brief space of time, they would be surprised to see how much it would look like Japan when they turned around again.

The report that Bryan may refuse the nomination is cruel. Why wake a Democrat up to tell him a pleasant thing like that only to doom him to the bitter disappointment that's sure to follow?

SENATE MAKES MISTAKE.

It is churlish on the part of the Senate to refuse to recognize the splendid service Robley D. Evans has done for his country. Whatever the Senate may think of the policy of sending the fleet around the world, the voyage from Hampton Roads to Magdalena Bay is a record-making performance and its result will be to heighten our prestige among the nations.

Robley D. Evans has done other notable services besides bringing this big fleet safe through 14,000 miles of seas, without a hitch or a mishap. To have made him a vice-admiral would have been graceful and timely recognition. However, it is not yet too late.

THE HOUSE, TOO.

The House of Representatives has "gone the Senate one worse" instead of "one better" in dealing with the navy. These Congressmen will have to face dissatisfied citizens when they come up for renomination to office.

The President asked for four battleships at the hands of Congress. The Senate said two. That was bad. The House says one. That is worse, and will be resented. Even if Congress had good grounds for a quarrel with the President, the country should not be made to suffer for the spite of one branch of the government toward another.

In this matter of a larger navy the people think Mr. Roosevelt is exactly right. Popular sentiment will be on the side of the President, and there is not a Congressman who votes for one ship or even two who may not look for a smaller vote next November at the polls.

REVOLUTIONARY POPULISM.

"Doc" Haynes, the dilettante socialist, who plays with fire because it casts his own shadow across the scene, pleading for extreme populistic fads in the city charter, says:

"There is no doubt that a government under the control of a wise, honest, conscientious, experienced, benevolent despot would be the most efficient one, were the results of detailed governmental action only to be considered."

But as the exercise of civic rights may be expected to develop civic virtues in the people, therefore, according to this theoretical apostle of socialism, "the nearer we get to a true democracy, the better."

Here we have the latest views of the most advanced populist. Not that any one who knows "Doc" Haynes well will credit him with sincerity. As we say, he likes to play with fire because it throws his shadow across the scenes. But he expresses the views of semi-socialistic populism as well as most of those who are actively and maliciously engaged in revolutionizing the government we have inherited from Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson and the others who achieved our independence and set up our government. This form of government was treasured with pride and guarded with jealous care by those who followed, coming down through Clay, Webster, Marshall, Marcy, Jackson, Lincoln, Benton, Blaine, Cleveland and Edmonds.

The attention of all true Republicans and of all old-line Democrats is due to this revolutionary propaganda, attempting to replace American ideals in municipal, State and national affairs with this new-fangled, semi-socialistic populism. This, in its flower and seed, is "the initiative, recall and referendum." It is for this that "Doc" Haynes pleads specifically. Is it not populism? It was discovered by populists. It was introduced into this city through the mischievous activity of populists. It has reached its greatest growth in Oklahoma, where populism is rampant. It was grafted on Oregon by populists who played as low and corrupt political tricks as ever were tried in any cause. Is there a socialist in the country who does not favor it, at least as a stepping-stone to further moves in the revolution that is to upset society?

This government is not a pure democracy, and was never intended to be one. It is a representative republic, and the people are to govern themselves, not directly as a "true democracy," but through their representatives. The plea of the half-baked is that the people shall exercise self-government, that they shall have the power to initiate laws, to veto laws and to make their representatives do their bidding. All this power the people now have—but under legal restraint to protect them from themselves, when disposed to run to wild extremes as all people may at times, under the leadership of ignorant, designing, mischievous demagogues. We do not hesitate to say that this form of government is necessary in a country so vast as ours, and where in about two generations we have received into the population 21,000,000 immigrants largely unfit to exercise the rights of citizenship as they come to us at first.

The people can institute legislation by making any law an issue in electing legislative bodies. The people can veto legislation by electing an executive to do this in their behalf, or by electing a legislative body on an issue to repeal an act that is contrary to the will of the people. The people can recall any citizen elected to office who proves unworthy, by not reelecting him. In this way the sober second sense of the people is brought into play. They have time to consider the matter in all its bearings—not carried away by any impulse, not acting on half-false views set forth by designing demagogues.

The peace of the community is safeguarded from attacks of demagogues by the constitutional way. The stability of the government is assured. The rights of those elected to office are not put in jeopardy. At the same time the people have even better training in all that constitutes self-government, for they are forced to take time and consider the bearing of any policy. Perhaps the greatest benefit to the people in the government devised by Washington and Jefferson and preserved by Lincoln and Cleveland is the protection of the country from that very "benevolent despotism" which "Doc" Haynes and all the other New-Light statesmen laud so much. There is not much difference in effect between a "wise and benevolent despot" and an oligarchy composed of the same type of wisdom and benevolence. That is what they have in Oregon. The whole machinery of State government is in the hands of an oligarchy. It is composed of W. S. U'Ren and a few others, quite as factious, quite as socialistic, quite as advanced, revolutionary and mischievous as the bunch of which "Doc" Haynes is so brilliant a luminary. From the standpoint of the Los Angeles clique, the Oregon oligarchy is exceedingly wise and benevolent. "Doc" Haynes puts his own mark of approval on it. Wherever the populistic device (the recall, initiative and referendum) is in operation, the malcontents make it work overtime and Sundays. The oligarchy, whose purpose is agitation and strife, intermeddling and trouble, find an effective tool ready made to hand. Wherever it may be in force, the people will be under the sway of a small oligarchy, marked by a large absence of wisdom, an entire lack of benevolence, ambitious, dictatorial, intermeddling, factious and mischievous to the last degree.

Sydney Brooks, the English publicist, thinks it remarkable that the United States should take an interest in the questions of the Far East. The United States is interested in every part of the habitable globe where there is a chance for a Yankee to sell a nutmeg.

NOTHING ELSE IN SIGHT.

INNER HISTORY OF "OREGON QUESTION."

According to London dispatches, the "inner history" of what is known as the Oregon question, which brought the United States and England to the verge of war in the forties of the last century, is about to be given to the public. We are told that an indefatigable professor has been digging among the dusty documents in the Record Office in London and poring over state parchments, the ink on which is as faded as a last year's bonnet appears beside the "Merry Widow" hat of today.

The professor says he expects to tell us the real reason why the British wouldn't "scrap worth a cent" at a time the American jingoes were shouting, "Fifty-four forty, or fight," and he would lead us to believe that he will probably give us the real and only cause for the sudden backdown of Lord Aberdeen, the British Foreign Minister, who had most belligerently declared that England would insist on the Columbia River forming the boundary, and then very suddenly gave in to the American contention and placed the line at the 49th parallel.

Now, there was no earthly reason why the learned scholar should have gone to all the trouble he evidently has put himself to, because we all know that Lord Aberdeen gave up an empire for the simple reason that "the beastly salmon wouldn't rise to a fly."

Just about the time the Oregon question came to the front, the British sent a warship to the Columbia and instructed the officers aboard to keep their weather eyes open and see if "the baily country was worth fighting about." Her Majesty's ship—the trouble arose in the reign of Queen Victoria—happened to be named America, and it also happened to be under command of Capt. Gordon, a relative of the Earl of Aberdeen. The hospitable settlers gave Gordon a meal of luscious salmon, which immediately excited the Scotchman's sporting ardor. He wanted to go out after some live ones with a fly right away. Enthusiastically he asked the Hudson's Bay Company factor if the fish were plentiful, and, finding they were, he joyfully asked for flies and a rod. "We use lines and bait; we have no flies and rods," remarked the fur trader. "No flies! no rods!" exclaimed the disgusted Englishman; "well, you fellows have indeed turned savages." When he got home he told his relative that the country wasn't worth a continental, and England forbore to do the "insisting" that Aberdeen had been talking so bigly about.

Now, that's a very romantic yarn, and if that professor thinks he can come along with any dry-as-dust facts and rob us of our belief in this little story, he is very much mistaken. We know, of course, that the salmon up North do rise to a fly, although they prefer a spoon; but even that cannot disturb our simple, childlike faith in the Gordon yarn. It is just what you would expect from a knickerbockered, tartan-stockinged Britisher. The professor is welcome to all the "inner history" he can get hold of, but he shall not despoil us of this time-honored legend, which we absorbed along with the three R's in childhood's happy days.

NIL DESPERANDUM.

It is a long and bitter cry from Cain with his bludgeon and Lamech with his flint-shod "big stick" down through Goliath and his sword, the "well-greaved" Greeks of Homer, the legionaries of Cæsar, the crossbow men of the Black Prince, the Wars of the Roses, the various rebellions and revolutions, to Port Arthur and Harbin.

"Peace, peace and there is no peace" has been the sigh of humanity for ages before Patrick Henry spoke the words, and for 130 years after. And the latest Hague conference is looked upon as having done nothing toward beating the swords of the nations into plowshares and bringing in that blessed era when men shall learn war no more. On the contrary, as things appear, warlike man—having dyed earth and sea with human blood—is now planning to create a "ghastly dew, from the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue."

The awful conflict in South Africa is too recent to be forgotten, and the more awful one in Manchuria still echoes through the world. For all that we are, wherever the sun rises and sets, all working for the permanence of peace as man has never worked before. But the cry for peace was never so loud, the horror inspired by war was never so profound.

What signs are there? Many and plain. In a public speech recently, M. Clemenceau, the French Premier, discussed with open frankness the relations between Germany and the Republic of France. He dwelt on the French longing to have Alsace-Lorraine restored. The policy in France had been "to think much of this, but not to speak of it." Any reference to the subject inflamed Germany and stirred the French almost to the fighting point. But this speech was received with great favor in Germany and created enthusiasm in France. Neither country wants war. The result was an invitation from the German Kaiser to the French Ambassador at Berlin to breakfast with the imperial family, a courtesy said by French papers to have been heretofore unknown.

The London Times a couple of weeks ago attempted to play the yellow journal in an attack on the Kaiser, and King Edward, with the admirable sense which marks nearly all he does, wrote a personal letter to his imperial nephew to undo any unhappy effect of the newspaper blunder.

Six months ago relations were strained between our government and Japan. In the Orient hostility seemed to be a popular impulse, which the government found it hard to restrain. It is now coming to the surface that Germany, France, and even England, in spite of the treaty between that country and Japan, exerted all their influence to bring Japan to a due sense of her obligations to keep the peace.

The latest warlike ebullition is that between China and Japan. There is no doubt of Japan's designs. There was loud bluster for a day or two and talk of war. Here again the powers let Japan know how deeply they felt the importance of keeping the peace, and there will be no war at all.

The heart of humanity revolts at the thought of war, instead of gloating in the presence of the fray. The cost of war is so prodigious that governments stand appalled at the bankruptcy it threatens. Today is the day of the people, where yesterday was the day of kings. The people do the fighting and pay the expenses, and they have a veto power on war. The government which goes to war henceforth will have to show that the cause is just, or the people will not follow.

So we think, with a due increase in our naval armament, with adequate coast defense, with the army put on a stronger footing and a people strongly patriotic, we may sleep in peace with a feeling that the universal disinclination to go to war, the difficulty of meeting the cost, and the evidence that if we have to fight we can and will fight—this will still maintain the peace. The cry of "peace, peace," is less vain now than ever.

WHY THEY LIKE IT.

The "Half-Bakeds" all oppose the Aldrich currency bill and favor the Fowler bill. A financial authority of high standing, and one from the West, too, says the Fowler bill is "highway robbery and pure socialism."

Now we know why the New-Lights favor the Jersey Congressman's bill, and why they are against the Aldrich bill. One is a pretty good financial measure, likely to do what it is intended to do. The other aims at legalized bank robbery through socialistic notions. The socialistic press and its shouters favor the socialistic robbery. We are enlightened.

HOROSCOPE.

Tuesday, March 17, 1907.

Fortune this day hideth in unknown ways.
And in strange guise opes to the searching gaze.

Mars and Uranus are in benefic aspect with the moon, which is full on this 77th day of the year.

Help will come this day to the ailing from surgeons, physicians, dentists and oculists.

Operations requiring the aid of chemistry or engineering are under good auspices.

Deal with persons in military or semi-military services or in any profession requiring arms.

A lucky day for dealers in provisions or foodstuffs of any kind.

Uranus looks with favor on all uncommon undertakings, or on all dealings with persons in unusual professions or pursuits.

An opportunity is hidden this day in a commonplace action. Clerks and other employés seizing the chance will probably earn promotion.

The woman with this birthdate will meet with one from a far place, and a journey will be offered to her. The unwed will marry.

The man with his birthdate today will travel and change. His great danger is in a dispute in business. Avoiding this, a prosperous year is augured.

The girl born this day is promised a disposition that will lead her to sacrifice herself for others. She will marry young.

Ambition and perseverance are augured for the boy born this day. He will succeed rather well in life.

IN THE BIG INDUSTRIES.

Healthfulness of Alcohol.

Recent experiments to determine the [illegible] cohol for heating purposes prove [illegible] much more healthful in manufacturing [illegible] ments than petroleum products. The [illegible] Chimie says the advantages of [illegible] are two-fold. The first (which would be [illegible] vantage at certain seasons only) is that alcohol [illegible] velops less heat. One kilo of alcohol produces [illegible] calories, or heat units; one kilo of petroleum [illegible] The other advantage is that an alcohol lamp [illegible] velops less carbonic acid gas. By the combustion of 100 grams of alcohol, 163 grams of carbonic acid gas are formed; 100 grams of petroleum in combustion develops 212 grams of carbonic acid. So that the petroleum lamp poisons the atmosphere very much more quickly than the alcohol lamp.

All Woods for Pulp.

A syndicate has been formed at Vancouver to take over the patent of a Seattle man for manufacturing pulp from all kinds of wood except cedar and all mill refuse except cedar can be used. The system, it is said, is so simple that a plant can be made ready in ninety days to turn out tons of wrapping paper a week. The story of the organization of the company is rather romantic. Mrs. Mellon, wife of Capt. Mellon, Spanish consul at Vancouver, was visiting in Seattle where she heard of a man who could make pulp out of [illegible]. Being a director of the Art and Scientific Society of Vancouver, she asked permission to see the demonstrating plant operated. On seeing the work actually done before her eyes, she informed her husband, who invited the inventor to come to Vancouver, which he did, and in less than two weeks a syndicate was formed to take over the patent and manufacture pulp.

A Huge Sawmill.

The starting last week of the big sawmill at Coos Bay, Or., was a most important event in that part of the country. C. A. Smith, the head of the company, is a millionaire lumberman of Minneapolis, where he has the largest sawmill in the world, but as the Minnesota forests are rapidly being exhausted, he turned his attention to the Pacific northwest something over a year ago, and has bought enormous holdings of timber land. The mill just started up has a capacity of 25,000 feet of lumber an hour and when in full operation the mill will employ in its mill and lumber camps about 1500 men.

Manufacture of Pearl Buttons.

An unofficial statement of the fresh water button industry of the United States for 1906 shows that 25,200,000 gross were manufactured, of the value of over $5,000,000. In addition 20,[illegible] tons of crushed shell waste material was used for chicken feed. During the year 49,000 tons of shells were collected at an average price of $15.35 a ton. On the Wabash River 14,400 tons were collected, and nearly as many tons were gathered on the Green River. The Arkansas River furnished over [illegible] tons and the Mississippi River over [illegible] tons. Mississippi clams brought the highest price. It is estimated that the industry gives employment to 3000 "clammers" for five months each year. The sales of pearls and baroques which are found in the mussels amounts to $1,000,000 a year. The industry which has grown up as a result of the manufacture of buttons, is that of stick pins, brooches and like articles of jewelry.

Use Furnace Waste Heat.

At the wonderful steel plant being established at Gary, Ind., a colossal apparatus is being built for the purpose of gathering 100,000 horse power off the tops of eight roaring blast furnaces that may be used in the performance of many tasks about the establishment. By a heretofore thought-of device this power will entirely replace steam in the great mills. Thirty-three big engines are being installed, each of 80 horse power, to use the gas produced by the blast furnaces to convert it into electric power. At the top of each of the blast furnaces an outlet for the blast is provided leading into a cleaning tank or "washers." About 20 per cent. of the power is diverted to the blast stoves to heat up the air for the air blast.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

The Campbell family—and others—illustrated the woeful misunderstandings of the Tanqueraya at the Mason Opera House last night.

Through frequent presentations here, the plays of Pinero's has become a familiar dramatic quantity. But it is a well-written play, and like all work of intelligence serves to interest when properly presented.

And this notwithstanding the fact that such problems, and such morgue-like solutions, have gone considerably beyond the range of immediate popularity. There are fewer stage killings now. And while the problems may be as deep—probably deeper—than ten years ago, the real-life solution has been found to obtain sterling dramatic elements. In a word, our contemporary dramatist, who writes to represent the thought of the year, discovers that in searching for tragedy the greatest heights are to be found in life, not death.

Mrs. Campbell, despite her pictures, in action a beautiful woman. Her photographs invariably depict her as tall, angular creature, devoid of the more feminine lines, and stiff in expression, though majestic in gesture. The plays, though, reveal a creature in flowing gowns, an exquisitely shaped head, a regal neck, a poetically tapered hand, and a figure which, though full of voluptuous mould, is the acme of grace. Mrs. Campbell's voice is not musically beautiful one, but in her hands she uses it so that its best tones are brought forward, though in a small volume.

Perfect speech is the greatest fault of elocution, and that not so much in pronouncing syllables as from an excessive habit of repression, which, coupled with a few mannerisms in the tones of certain voices, tends to general monotony.

Mrs. Campbell is an offender, but the manner is her leading man, Ben Webster, whose enunciation is plain, but whose sentences are examples of hidden in nearly every word. I am told that Webster was called "Henry" on several of his stage years, and doubtless acquired some of that famous player's peculiarities. It cannot be any fault of the English stage, for the leading man in the company is Edgar Kent, who has never before played outside his native country. He is understudy on all occasions.

As an emotional actress, Mrs. Campbell has perfected a very fine piece of art. Acting with her is an exhibition of finished elegance; she leaves no trace in her work, and if there is any fault, it is to be found in her repression—which, fortunately enough, has come into the best work of our modern stage performers to counteract the melodramatic exaggeration which went before.

Mr. Park was a graduated impersonator, posing in dramatic effect from the first scene, and culminating in a burst of chill horror at the finish.

Mr. Webster, barring that fault of voice, was a thoroughly believable Antony Tanqueray, and Mr. Kent as Frank Ibsen was most lovably human and sympathetic.

Miss Patrick Campbell, a slender bit of a girl, with a wee voice and big mental eyes, was splendidly suited to Ibsen. Just how she will do Shaw parts may be seen later, but her role, at least, is eminently fitted to her.

Patrick Campbell, the son, had a small appearance as Frank Mesquith. "Company" will be repeated with "The Notorious Mrs. Ebbsmith" tonight.

A programme handed out to patrons of the Los Angeles Theater last night did not show who is author of the musical play "Cupid at Vassar," which John Murray is starring in. One studied his programme and wondered why the omission, for this was before the play. Upon the discovering found no reason, but learned that no one should assume the responsibility for the unusual affair. The author of the piece is stamped through a much crowded successes as "In Dixieland," "Home Folks," and "Lady Admiral Lawyer," and has a number of the old standby plots in the play. To this he has added a girl and a bunch of chorus to turn the lot into a dramatic piece and blend well before serving. The star, who assumes the stellar role of Jim Newton, a senior at Vassar, is a pretty face, a wealth of golden hair which is apparently his own, a stunning figure, a voice and a most amazing giggle, which more exact—a squeal. She makes most of her remarks with this and concludes them thereby. When her mother has been taken of her property she emits a shrieking little squeal before exclaiming, "Mother, you have given me a shock; now I will do a work for you." When she receives a proposal, man she does it and when, at the end, her dream of true love finally is perfected, she accepts him with that same little squeak, or whatever you may wish to call it. Miss Gear is not a comedian; she is good at a comedian; she is original. But she works overtime.

Jack, who plays the part of the hero and attempts to defraud his father by the time-honored method of impersonating the letters which lead to the misunderstanding, is a radical kind, as his lines and shouts to the gallery.

Helen Conway, one of the girls, and Josephine Hull, are clever and give important sports in making the story go. Roche might be a week or two at least. Mr. Roche knows a lot about character he never dreamed of. Mr. Howard Scott at the Amos Norta of "Company" something worth while.

Thomas Jackson makes an accomplished servant of the Jim, George W. Lewis is Uncle Hank and acts it well, Louis Muldener is a part of the college boy excellently that he shines in the play fitting. The balance of the cast. There are four men, and two in the chorus pretty songs and dance effects, notably "Dear Daisy Chain."

Patterns and colorings are unique, and the garments have an "altra" cut—not so extreme as to violate good taste, but quite removed from the conventional ideas.

Little details of workmanship, too, are different—pockets, cuffs, lapels and set of collar, etc.

These models will make the young men "sit up and take notice". Come in and see them.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

WELCOME HEAD OF BIG ORDER.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA LODGES GREET BARNES.

Parade of Uniformed Rank and Special Meeting in Honor of Supreme Chancellor of Fraternal Organization, Who Reaches Here on Tour of the Western States.

Representatives from the majority of the local lodges of the Knights of Pythias extended a warm welcome to Supreme Chancellor Charles A. Barnes of Jacksonville, Ill., head of the order, upon his arrival at the Alexandria Hotel last evening and later there was a parade of the Third Regiment of the Uniformed Rank, K. of P., and a meeting in Elks Hall under the auspices of Gauntlet Lodge, No. 128, at which the Supreme Chancellor was officially welcomed to Los Angeles.

The parade started promptly at 8 o'clock from Pythian Castle on North Spring street and headed by a platoon of police and a band, met Supreme Chancellor Barnes at the Alexandria and escorted him and the Reception Committee to the hall. The line of march was down Spring to First street, west to Broadway, thence to Sixth street, east to Spring, to Fifth street, where at the Alexandria the carriages with the guest of honor and the committee fell into line, proceeding north to Elks Hall.

Among those who welcomed Supreme Chancellor Barnes were Grand Chancellor of California M. L. Short, Grand Vice-Chancellor Walter Wagner, Past Grand Chancellor D. K. Trask, District Deputy Grand Chancellor Hugh J. Crawford, who presided at the meeting; Col. Kenton A. Miller, who commands the Third Regiment, U. R. K. of P.; R. L. Dunlap, acting supreme master at arms, who introduced Supreme Chancellor Barnes; ex-Judge W. H. Morris, who made the address of welcome, and J. C. Kolff, chairman of the Committee of Arrangements.

Damon and Pythias, coupled together and supported by a toy balloon, were a feature of the meeting as supreme grand mascots. Damon is a fox terrier and killed sixty rats yesterday before breakfast. Pythias is a tiny French poodle.

This evening there will be a meeting by Marathon Lodge, No. 152, in K. of P. Hall on North Spring street, at which Supreme Chancellor Barnes will be the guest of honor.

Mr. Barnes is a tall, well-built and smooth-shaven man of middle age and of fine presence. He reached Los Angeles, accompanied by Mrs. Barnes, on the "Owl" and will remain in Los Angeles until Thursday, when he will leave for Arizona and New Mexico. After visiting the K. of P. lodges in these territories he will go home by way of Oklahoma and Kansas. He has been visiting the lodges in the North and is much pleased at the progress of the order in California.

"My, but this city has changed some since I was here twelve years ago," said Mr. Barnes last evening as he gazed up at the tall buildings on South Spring street, where there were cottages and oranges trees when he was here last. "This is certainly God's own country," added the Supreme Chancellor fervently.

The Supreme Council of the order will meet in Boston in the first week in August next, when the successor to Mr. Barnes will be chosen.

UNTO every generation of Americans George Washington is justly held to be the purest figure in history—a superb example of the perfect citizen—a just and righteous ruler and "a light for after time."

This commanding personality had a magnificent physique. He stood over six feet in his stockings, was remarkable for horsemanship, agility and strength—the finest gentleman and athlete of his day.

His constitution was of iron and he knew how to keep it so. His biographers declare that in eating and in drinking as in all things he was normal; enjoying the juice of the malt all the days of his life. He drank it around campfires, as well as in his own home and upon social and state occasions.

Furthermore, upon his Mount Vernon plantation he had a brew house, as was the regular custom of wealthy Virginians.

"It's thrift that's wanted here," said Dennis; "just a little thought, just a little care. The parlormaid brought up a letter for Miss Graniger at this moment, and she put it on one side till she was alone.

When everything was thoroughly well arranged Dennis said "Good-night!"

"I'll make time to go along with you in the morning, and the children will enjoy it. Bless you, Miss Betty, she loves shoppin' and getting new clothes just as if she was growed up."

Katherine opened her letter when she was undressed.

DEATH OF VETERAN EDUCATOR.

There died at Bloomington, Ill., March 7, Hon. Richard Edwards, LL. D., formerly president of the Illinois State Normal University and State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Dr. Edwards was born in 1822 in Aberstwith, Wales, but came to this country as a boy. He supported himself by working at the carpenter's trade and by teaching while gaining an education, and he graduated with honor from the Bridgewater (Mass.) Normal School and the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y. Devoting himself to the work of teaching, he soon rose to positions of responsibility. He was associated with Horace Mann in the reorganization of the public school system of Massachusetts. He was principal of the Salem Normal School, from which position he was called to the principalship of the St. Louis (Mo.) Normal School. In 1862 he was elected president of the Illinois State Normal University at a critical period in its history. During the fourteen years of his administration this institution was one of the most powerful educational forces in the Central West, and it is not too much to say that the educational development of the State of Illinois during these years was in large measure molded by Dr. Edwards. Moreover, of the thousands of graduates of this school, many carried to other States and to distant cities the high educational ideals for which President Edwards stood. The first president of the Los Angeles Normal School, Ira More, always felt that he owed much of his success as a teacher to the inspiration springing from those early years when he was a member of the faculty of the Illinois State Normal.

For ten years Dr. Edwards was pastor of the Princeton (Ill.) Congregational Church, but in 1886 he returned to his chosen profession, being in that year elected State Superintendent of Public Instruction of Illinois. For four years in this position he gave to the educational forces of the State a noble leadership. He was a man of great personal force, and the influence of that commanding personality was felt in every section of the great State.

In 1849 Dr. Edwards was married to Miss Betsy J. Samson, who, with nine children, survives him. Two sons reside in California, Rev. N. T. Edwards of Whittier and Walter A. Edwards, vice-president of the Los Angeles High School.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, March 10, the presidents of Illinois' various normal schools, the State Superintendent and the president of the State Board of Education serving as honorary pall bearers.

COMPTROLLER CLOSES BANK.

ASPEN (Colo.) March 16.—The People's National Bank of this city was closed today by order of the Comptroller of the Currency, in consequence of the failure of its officers to put up $25,000 in order to make up the capital which was impaired recently by a loan of $40,000 made by former Cashier Pomphrey, who was arrested last week in Kansas City on a charge growing out of this transaction. The bank has $25,000 capital and about $14,000 cash on hand.

The strikers closed around the trainmen until they were forced to desist from loading the baggage. The marshal's force then interfered, and ordered the strikers to disperse. The answer was a pistol shot. It was the signal for a general fusillade, and for several minutes the battle raged. The marshals wounded two men, said to be ringleaders among the strikers. Two strikers were arrested and more arrests will follow.

Bank, which suspended some weeks ago.

The plan submitted involves taking over of the assets of the bank by a securities company to be styled the Market-street Securities Company, which corporation will issue bonds secured by the assets of the bank. The commissioners informed President Martel that if he were successful in securing the signatures of the creditors and succeeded in introducing new capital into the crippled concern, they would grant him a further hearing.

W. S. Vawter, the newly-appointed bank commissioner from Santa Monica, was not present.

NEED MONEY TO PAY THE PIPER

REDS PUT OUT EAGER HANDS FOR DEFENSE FUND.

Frenzy of Socialist and Unionite Sympathizers Evaporates, However, When Mexican Revolutionists Ask for More Cash to Defray Expenses of Appeal to Supreme Court.

Unless socialist sympathizers of the imprisoned Mexican revolutionists supply funds, the appeal taken by the attorneys for Magon, Villareal and Rivera will come to naught. Apparently, the frenzy of the Reds is evaporating as the call for funds becomes more urgent. When Manuel Sarabia, vice-president of the junta and the fourth accused, appeared in the United States District Court yesterday morning, few sympathizers were present.

A dozen or so peons gathered in the corridor to greet the waspish little conspirator, but there was no weeping or wailing. He has not reached the martyr stage attained by the other three, although the court will undoubtedly grant the order of extradition to Arizona as soon as the government is ready to proceed.

So far, the labor unions, socialists and anarchistic sympathizers have contributed approximately $800 to the defense fund. The attorneys for the defense are making an "urgent call" for more money. They say that more than $1000 is needed within a month to pay for printing the transcript of appeal and for the traveling expenses of one of the lawyers who expects to impress the Supreme Court with his eloquence.

The larger part of the funds so far contributed has gone to pay printing bills. The "patriots" have several times felt the call to issue a manifesto from the quarters in the County Jail, and printing bills come high. Thousands of circular letters have been mailed to "comrades" demanding money, but the returns have come in so slowly that the members of the committee are wroth and threaten to throw up their self-appointed jobs.

The Socialists accuse the labor unionites of being lukewarm, and the walking delegates retort by stating that they have troubles of their own, without mixing in a fight to keep a few incendiary Mexican reds from standing trial for their crimes. The latter have suddenly discovered that the revolutionists are no better than "scabs," as some are affiliated with job must be unionized before they can consistently lend any official assistance.

The Industrial Workers of the World have been most active for the defense of the various unionite organizations and therefore the American Federation of Labor has looked coldly upon the frenzied conspirators who are stretching out eager hands for American coin.

The Western Federation of Miners has so far contributed $5 to the defense fund. The United Brewery Workers of Arizona have sent $25. The other unions have apparently neglected the appeal printed each week in the local Socialist organ, but the local members of the Industrial Workers of the World have given a dance for the benefit of the "reds."

AUTO AND SAFE FOUND.

Supposed Guilty Men Arrested After Four Days' Search—Under Bonds for Another Motor Theft.

After a chase of four days, Joseph Leineu and James McFarland were captured yesterday afternoon by Deputy Constable Jaynes at Carmenita and brought to this city last night. They are charged with stealing an automobile and a safe from W. G. Dandy's garage at No. 1640 West Washington street on Friday.

The machine was found early Sunday morning at Los Alamitos, where it had been abandoned. Later the safe was discovered in a field near Buena Park. It had ben blown open and $10 stolen. The prisoners are already under $1500 bonds each for the alleged stealing of C. E. Everhardy's automobile three months ago.

It is stated that they broke into the Washington-street garage and loading the safe into a machine owned by A. W. Ballard of No. 2121 Park Grove avenue, drove off. An hour later the theft was discovered and the police were notified. It was reported Saturday that the men had been seen in Fullerton and the Sheriff there was notified. With several deputies, he searched the surrounding country, but in vain.

After leaving the machine in Los Alamitos the men doubled back on their course and followed the Southern Pacific tracks. While they were waiting for a train at Carmenita, Deputy Constable Jaynes arrested them.

The prisoners, who are waiters, denied taking the safe and machine. Besides a grand larceny charge, they will have to face one of burglary.

Will Resume Drilling.

The Wilmington Oil Company expect to resume drilling on the Large ranch near Wilmington in two or three weeks. Operations were temporarily suspended at 800 feet. Indications are declared to have been good. At last accounts the well on the Bixby ranch was said to be down 1600 feet and to have pinched out and to be in course of re-drilling.

SHERIFF'S AID INVOKED.

Lancaster Father Searching for Son Who Has Mysteriously Disappeared—Horse Gone, Too.

Otto Klotz, a rancher who lives three miles east of Lancaster, but who is staying temporarily at No. 907 East Fifth street, yesterday asked Sheriff Hammel's aid in locating his 19-year-old son, Otto, who disappeared Friday.

"Tuesday," the father said, "I sent Otto to Los Angeles with a horse that he was to sell. He returned without taken it as far as Burbank, where it had been taken sick and he put it in a pasture.

"Friday morning I sent the boy to Burbank to bring the horse home, and I have not seen him since. I have searched all about Burbank but cannot locate the horse."

The missing boy has black eyes and brown hair, and wore a black cap and black trousers when he left home.

APARTMENT-HOUSE FIRE.

A double apartment-house at No. 2305 Le Grand street was damaged last night by fire which originated in the attic evidently from defective wiring. The loss on the building is estimated at $500 and $250 on the contents. It was occupied by Mrs. W. E. Smith and Mrs. T. Harris. The building, which was a two-story frame structure, was insured. The fire was discovered about 10:30 o'clock and two alarms were sent in. Part of the roof collapsed and the second floor, which was occupied by Mrs. Smith, was practically gutted. Mrs. Harris's household effects were damaged by water.

STUDENTS IN CUPS.

Disclosures in Ventura About Drinking Among the Boys of the High School.

VENTURA, March 16.—Deplorable conditions have existed in the local High School here for some time in the matter of drinking among the students. Sensational exposures are about to follow, and the whole matter will be laid bare to the public. This morning a warrant of arrest was issued against Thad Sanchez, a barkeeper, the complaining witness being Frank W. Morrill of Montalvo, who alleges that Sanchez sold his son, George Morrill, 14 years of age, liquor. Justice Ortega placed Sanchez under $100 bonds, which were furnished by Fred Stiles, a saloon-keeper. The case was set for Saturday next.

A few days ago the boy appeared at school in an intoxicated condition. He was reprimanded. Instead of going home after school he left for Los Angeles, where the officers found him. He made affidavit which resulted in the arrest of Sanchez. It has long been known to the District Attorney that there was drinking among the High School boys, but thus far it has been impossible to get any one to appear in court or to swear to a warrant for arrest.

HOPING FOR RAIN.

The farmers in the county are just now casting their eyes skyward with the hope that their gazing may bring on rain. Showers are needed by the bean men in order to get their lands in condition for the May planting, while the grain fields are also in need of showers to help along that crop.

Up to this time the rains have been copious and have done the land a deal of good, and it will take but little more moisture to insure a bountiful crop. Only a small proportion of the bean crop of last year has as yet been sold, which is a rather remarkable condition, as by the time the new crop is in in former years, most of the product has gone out. The depression caused the stagnation in the bean market. Most of the dried apricots of last year have been sold, though these were held longer than usual because of the trouble aroused by the department at Washington over the matter

LA FOLLETTE FOR THE POPS.

EMPORIA (Kan.) March 16.—E. A. Waterbury of Emporia, Populist National Committeeman from Kansas and delegate to his party's national convention at St. Louis, is quoted as saying, in the course of an interview here today, that United States Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin would be nominated on the first ballot for President by the Populists. He states, further, that Senator La Follette would not be given a chance to accept or refuse the nomination until after the Republican National Convention is held.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

WELCOME HEAD OF BIG ORDER.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA LODGES GREET BARNES.

Parade of Uniformed Rank and Special Meeting in Honor of Supreme Chancellor of Fraternal Organization, Who Reaches Here on Tour of the Western States.

Representatives from the majority of the local lodges of the Knights of Pythias extended a warm welcome to Supreme Chancellor Charles A. Barnes of Jacksonville, Ill., head of the order, upon his arrival at the Alexandria Hotel last evening and later there was a parade of the Third Regiment of the Uniformed Rank, K. of P., and a meeting in Elks Hall under the auspices of Gauntlet Lodge, No. 129, at which the Supreme Chancellor was officially welcomed to Los Angeles.

The parade started promptly at 8 o'clock from Pythian Castle on North Spring street and headed by a platoon of police and a band, met Supreme Chancellor Barnes at the Alexandria and escorted him and the Reception Committee to the hall. The line of march was down Spring to First street, west to Broadway, thence to Sixth street, east to Spring, to Fifth street, where at the Alexandria the carriages with the guest of honor and the committee fell into line, proceeding north to Elks Hall.

Among those who welcomed Supreme Chancellor Barnes were Grand Chancellor of California M. L. Short, Grand Vice-Chancellor Walter Wagner, Past Grand Chancellor D. K. Trask, District Deputy Grand Chancellor Hugh J. Crawford, who presided at the meeting; Col. Kenton A. Miller, who commands the Third Regiment, U. R. K. of P.; R. L. Dunlap, acting supreme master at arms, who introduced Supreme Chancellor Barnes; ex-Judge W. H. Morris, who made the address of welcome, and J. C. Koiff, chairman of the Committee of Arrangements.

Damon and Pythias, coupled together and supported by a toy balloon, were a feature of the meeting as supreme grand mascots. Damon is a fox terrier and killed sixty rats yesterday before breakfast. Pythias is a tiny French poodle.

This evening there will be a meeting by Marathon Lodge, No. 152, in K. of P. Hall on North Spring street, at which Supreme Chancellor Barnes will be the guest of honor.

Mr. Barnes is a tall, well-built and smooth-shaven man of middle age and of fine presence. He reached Los Angeles, accompanied by Mrs. Barnes, on the "Owl" and will remain in Los Angeles until Thursday, when he will leave for Arizona and New Mexico. After visiting the K. of P. lodges in these territories he will go home by way of Oklahoma and Kansas. He has been visiting the lodges in the North and is much pleased at the progress of the order in California.

"My, but this city has changed some since I was there twelve years ago," said Mr. Barnes last evening as he gazed up at the tall buildings on South Spring street, where there were cottages and oranges trees when he was here last. "This is certainly God's own country," added the Supreme Chancellor fervently.

The Supreme Council of the order will meet in Boston in the first week in August next, when the successor to Mr. Barnes will be chosen.

THE KING OF ALL BOTTLED BEERS

UNTO every generation of Americans George Washington is justly held to be the purest figure in history—a superb example of the perfect citizen—a just and righteous ruler and "a light for after time."

This commanding personality had a magnificent physique. He stood over six feet in his stockings, was remarkable for horsemanship, agility and strength—the finest gentleman and athlete of his day.

His constitution was of iron and he knew how to keep it so. His biographers declare that in eating and in drinking as in all things he was normal; enjoying the juice of the malt all the days of his life. He drank it around campfires, as well as in his own home and upon social and state occasions.

Furthermore, upon his Mount Vernon plantation he had a brew house, as was the regular custom of wealthy Virginians.

ONE MORE LINE TO SEA MOOTED.

HERMOSA BEACH STIRRED BY CONSTRUCTION WORK.

"Los Angeles and Port Orient" Latest Enterprise Reported—Details as to Capital and Plans Withheld—Right of Way Deed Said to Antedate Coast Resort's Existence.

And now comes the story of another railroad from Los Angeles to the ocean. The "Los Angeles and Port Orient" is in process of construction. Port Orient isn't on the map just now but the little city of Hermosa Beach may eventually bear that name, if the plans of the promoters of the electric line for passengers and freight are carried out. It is proposed to build a pier there which will accommodate the largest vessels.

Although eighty-five men are engaged in construction work on Santa Fé avenue, all knowledge of the "Los Angeles and Port Orient" would have been withheld from the public had not the tearing up of the thoroughfare named aroused the ire, as well as the curiosity, of some of Hermosa's officials. No franchise for a railroad had been granted and the Trustees called on City Attorney Loucks to investigate.

The result was that, at a meeting Thursday night, W. H. Carlson, president of the Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles and the apparent head of the new enterprise, was called upon to explain. He surprised the board by announcing that he had received a deed to fifty feet of Santa Fé avenue before Hermosa came into existence and that he, therefore was not obliged to ask the town's consent before beginning operations.

In an interview by telephone, last night, Mr. Carlson said that he was not prepared yet to give the names of those who are interested in the Los Angeles and Port Orient line, the amount of capital invested or the eastern terminus. The road would run from Hermosa to this city; where else remains to be seen.

"There is money enough behind the enterprise to carry it through and there is every reason why it should be successful," said the banker. "It is a comparatively easy road to build for no tunnels or deep cuts are necessary. I am happy to say that the people of Hermosa favor it."

Hermosa's City Attorney advised the Trustees, it is said, to stop construction work, pending an investigation as to the deed to right of way on Santa Fé avenue, but the advice was unanimously rejected.

In his interview with the board Mr. Carlson said that, if his work was interfered with, he would bring damage suits against the members individually, as well as against the beach town.

Meanwhile graders and track layers are building on the main cross street of Hermosa what appears to be a real live railroad.

W.C.T.U. ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Federation of Los Angeles Woman's Christian Temperance unions will be held tomorrow at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Tenth and Figueroa streets. The programme will begin at 10:30 o'clock in the morning with a praise service and testimony meeting. Then will come business and reports of officers and unions, followed by noontide prayer. Members are expected to carry lunch for two, to be served during the intermission. At 1:30 o'clock p.m. Rev. Hugh K. Walker will lead a devotional half-hour. In the afternoon there also will be an election of officers, an address, "The Present Temperance Campaign," by Rev. Will W. Logan, and a violin solo by Miss Bessie Bates. Mrs. Catherine Pierce Wheat is president of the federation.

REDONDO READY.

GRAND BALL AND SPORTS.

REDONDO, March 16.—Great preparations are being made here for the reception of Rear-Admiral Sebree's squadron Tuesday of next week. On the night of the arrival there will be a grand ball at the Hotel Redondo for the officers and one at the Pavilion for the men. During the day there will be a baseball contest between a Los Angeles amateur team and the squadron team. There will also be small-arm target practice at the rifle range in the eastern suburbs of the city.

VENICE GAIETY.

WILL WELCOME SQUADRON.

VENICE, March 16.—Positive information was received today by the Abbot Kinney Company to the effect that the three armored cruisers of Admiral Sebree's squadron, which arrived tonight at San Pedro, will visit here Wednesday week. Elaborate preparations for welcoming the squadron have been made.

LONG TALK OVER BOOKS.

Arguments Over Question of Access to Books Take Up Several Hours. One Defendant Free.

Attorneys for the defendants in the Oregon land-fraud case occupied nearly all yesterday's session in the Federal court with arguments on the question of allowing the defense access to the books and records of the Pacific Furniture and Lumber Company.

Goudge and Davis asserted that the innocence of their clients could be clearly established by the production of the books, which would show that Gillelen and Kenny simply acted as agents for the loan of money to the furniture company. United States District Attorney Oscar Lawler and Tracy Becker, special prosecutor, strongly opposed the motion.

If Commissioner Van Dyke rules against the defense it is believed the refusal to admit the documents will form the principal basis for appeal.

George L. Stearns, one of the defendants who is seriously ill, was temporarily freed from charges of conspiracy yesterday. The commissioner sustained the plea in abatement and ordered his discharge from custody "without prejudice to a new complaint." Attorney Will D. Gould, one of his counsel, said he was confident Stearns would never be tried. The plea in abatement set forth that the defendant had been rearrested by the government while an appeal was pending in the United States Supreme Court in a former case.

Sebree's Squadron Makes Way for Evens

Three Great Vessels Anchor Within Breakwater

Will Stay Ten Days, Be Open to the Public.

Brilliantly lighted from stem to stern as the landlubber would put it, presenting a most magnificent spectacle, the armored cruisers Washington and California, flagfinders of Rear-Admiral Sebree's fleet of battleships, arrived at San Pedro from San Diego at 7:30 o'clock last night and anchored close within the breakwater. They left San Diego shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The squadron is under command of Rear-Admiral Uriel Sebree, whose flagship is the Tennessee, in charge of Capt. Thomas B. Howard. It carries twenty guns and has a horse-power of 22,000. She is the ship which made such a splendid showing at the targets at Magdalena Bay some time ago. With green gunners she took second place, being outdistanced by the Maryland, flagship of Admiral Dayton's fleet.

The Washington, which is commanded by Capt. Knight, is a sister ship while the California, the ship named for this State, only recently joined the squadron. She, like the South Dakota, carries eighteen inches of her main battery. The report of the latter vessel would indicate that the squadron turns out to be a lemon, for she will go direct to Puget Sound from San Diego.

A description of the Washington will give an idea of the squadron. The Washington is of 14,500 tons displacement, has a speed of 22 knots and was constructed at a cost of $4,625,000. In her main battery she has ten-inch breech-loading rifles, fourteen six-inch rapid-fire guns. Her secondary battery are twenty three-inch rapid-fire, twelve pounder rapid-fire, four one-pounder rapid-fire, two three-inch rapid-fire, two machine and six automatic guns.

The Tennessee, Washington and California, which are attached to the second division of the Pacific squadron, will stay at the ports of Los Angeles for ten days. They will move to San Pedro until next Monday, when they will move over to Redondo, where they will remain for one day, and will go to Santa Monica Bay on Wednesday next week.

As soon as the fleet was anchored, Samuel Stern, president of the Chamber of Commerce, W. G. Miller, secretary of the Redondo Chamber of Commerce, went on the flagship and informally welcomed the squadron on behalf of the city.

Today the gentlemen and members of the chamber visited the vessels and extended a hearty welcome. Los Angeles, too, paid respects to the admiral and his men. President George [illegible], Vice-President Willis H. [illegible] of the Chamber of Commerce of this city go to San Pedro this morning in the private car of Traffic Manager Sullivan of the Pacific Electric Company to extend a welcome from Sebree on behalf of the commercial organizations of this city.

The Tennessee and Washington will be open to visitors this afternoon from 1:30 o'clock to 5 o'clock, while California will coal. Tomorrow Washington will coal while the officers will be open to the public. Next day the Tennessee will coal and visitors will be shown California and Washington.

In this way the public will have ample opportunity to inspect the cruisers. While in Redondo or Venice it is believed that all sailors will be open to the public.

The United States collier Nanshan, 5,000 tons register, arrived at San Pedro yesterday morning from Seattle, bringing coal and supplies for the armored cruisers.

During the stay of the cruisers in the ports of Los Angeles Rear-Admiral Sebree, commanding the fleet, is chairman of the board to inspect the proposed site for a marine and military parade ground. He will be assisted by Lieut. Col. A. Frier, Corps of Engineers, and will visit the ranch selected by the latter on the Palos Verdes ranch, just outside the city. It is expected that this ground will be largely used by the marines of the vessels while in these waters.

The pathfinder squadron, called, will proceed to San Diego after leaving Santa Monica Bay, and there it will probably be joined by the South Dakota, which will come down from Puget Sound to Bremerton navy yard. Wednesday evening, in Phoenix, was celebrated the wedding of J. F. Cleaveland and Miss Zelma Bailey. Among the wedding presents was Mr. Cleaveland's commission to be private secretary for Gov. Kibbey. Mr. Cleaveland has been for some years in charge of a newspaper at Morenci, and represented Graham county at the last session of the Legislative Council. Miss Bailey is sister of Neil Bailey, Speaker of the last Legislative Assembly.

All over Arizona on the last Saturday of March will be held elections to choose school trustees in the various districts.

Plans of W. P. Marsh of Los Angeles have been accepted by the school trustees at Mesa for the erection of a new high school. The structure will cost $35,000, will have two stories and a basement and will be built of red brick, veneered with San Pedro brick.

A brisk row is on between the trustees of several of the districts of the county, conjoined against the trustees of the Tempe school district, who, it is claimed, are receiving far more than their share of the public moneys, because of the help afforded the Tempe district by the schooling of children in the Normal School training school. It appears that the district gets $4500 from the county for Normal school children, and turns over to the Normal as its part of the training school expense only about $1800.

A few days ago, Donley L. Walker was laying wires for nomination to the office of Prosecuting Attorney in Wellington, Texas. Today he occupies a cell in the Courthouse in Phoenix, brought here by Sheriff Hayden to answer to a charge of selling mortgaged property during the period of his residence here last year. Last May Walker married Miss Callie Phillips of Glendale, near Phoenix. In Texas it is told that he has a former wife, now living at Big Springs, Texas, from whom he has not been divorced. He was arrested for bigamy in 1904, but for some unknown reason the case was not pressed. It is told that he served six years in a Texas penitentiary for horse stealing. At Wellington he had established himself in good practice as an attorney and seemed well esteemed.

About a year and a half ago Mrs. F. A. Lloyd victimized a number of church societies on the coast, through an advertising scheme that turned out only of benefit to herself. Notable mourners were women's church societies in this city and in San Bernardino, Cal. She was a beautiful woman, whose wiles brought large cash return from the business men to whom she submitted her schemes. Information just received is that she has been sentenced to a year in the Woman's Reformatory at Savannah, Ga., after conviction for forgery.

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison has written President Foss of the Phoenix Board of Trade, expressing her thanks for an offer of convalescent quarters for Mr. Edison in Phoenix, and stating that his condition is such that so long a journey would be impossible.

UNIONITES FIGHT MARSHAL.

Resent His Protection of Men on Way to Fairbanks to Break Strike.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two men shot down, several arrests for inciting a riot, and the city of Fairbanks in an uproar of excitement are the results of a melee which took place there yesterday morning between the striking miners and the United States Marshal's force.

ported into Fairbanks in large numbers from Seattle this spring, attempted to board the train for the mines in that section. The strikers closed around the trainmen until they were forced to desist from loading the baggage. The marshal's force then interfered, and ordered the strikers to disperse. The answer was a pistol shot. It was the signal for a general fusillade, and for several minutes the battle raged. The marshals wounded two men, said to be ringleaders among the strikers. Two strikers were arrested and more arrests will follow.

WILL NOT BE DELEGATES.

No Member of President's Cabinet Will Serve as Member of Republican National Convention.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The decision is said to have been reached by the President and his Cabinet officers that no Cabinet official shall serve as a delegate to the Republican National Convention.

Secretary Root has been talked of as a delegate from New York, and Gov. Hughes is thought to be friendly to this, but under the agreement reached the Secretary of State will have to decline election.

Secretary Garfield is also talked of as a delegate from Ohio, but he will inform his friends that he cannot serve. From California comes talk of Secretary Metcalf as a delegate, and there is some talk in Massachusetts of Mr. Myer's going from that State.

HUGHES MEN BUSY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) March 16.—A letter from the Hughes Campaign League of New York City was received by the Savery Hotel management yesterday, and a telegram is expected today, making definite reservation of apartments during the State convention this week to be utilized by representatives of Gov. Hughes in an effort to prevent instructions for Secretary Taft. Friends of Secretary Taft are confident that the convention will adopt strong instructions for their candidate, believing that without regard to factional lines a proposition to instruct would have a large majority.

RENO UNIONITE STRIKE.

RENO (Nev.) March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Union men of all trades walked out here today, when non-union plumbers from San Francisco went to work on the five-story Odd Fellows building.

To make the strike official it is stated that the Central Trades and Labor Council may indorse the action of the men and prevent further operations until the plumbers' disagreement is settled. The plumbers' lock-out was caused several days ago when a stockholder in a plumbing supply store began work at the trade. The union men objected and asked him to withdraw. The employers then dismissed the mechanics.

The plan submitted involves taking over of the assets of the bank by a securities company to be styled the Market-street Securities Company, which corporation will issue bonds secured by the assets of the bank. The commissioners informed President Martel that if he were successful in securing the signatures of the creditors and succeeded in introducing new capital into the crippled concern, they would grant him a further hearing.

W. S. Vawter, the newly-appointed bank commissioner from Santa Monica, was not present.

TOUGH.

NEED MONEY TO PAY THE PIPER.

REDS PUT OUT EAGER HANDS FOR DEFENSE FUND.

Frenzy of Socialist and Unionite Sympathizers Evaporates, However, When Mexican Revolutionists Ask for More Cash to Defray Expenses of Appeal to Supreme Court.

Unless socialist sympathizers of the imprisoned Mexican revolutionists supply funds, the appeal taken by the attorneys for Magon, Villareal and Rivera will come to naught. Apparently, the frenzy of the Reds is evaporating as the call for funds becomes more urgent. When Manuel Sarabia, vice-president of the junta and the fourth accused, appeared in the United States District Court yesterday morning, few sympathizers were present.

A dozen or so peons gathered in the corridor to greet the waspish little conspirator, but there was no weeping or wailing. He has not reached the martyr stage attained by the other three, although the court will undoubtedly grant the order of extradition to Arizona as soon as the government is ready to proceed.

So far, the labor unions, socialists and anarchistic sympathizers have contributed approximately $800 to the defense fund. The attorneys for the defense are making an "urgent call" for more money. They say that more than $1000 is needed within a month to pay for printing the transcript of appeal and for the traveling expenses of one of the lawyers who expects to impress the Supreme Court with his eloquence.

The larger part of the funds so far contributed has gone to pay printing bills. The "patriots" have several times felt the call to issue a manifesto from the quarters in the County Jail, and printing bills come high. Thousands of circular letters have been mailed to "comrades" demanding money, but the returns have come in so slowly that the members of the committee are wroth and threaten to throw up their self-appointed jobs.

The Socialists accuse the labor unionites of being lukewarm, and the walking delegates retort by stating that they have troubles of their own, without mixing in a fight to keep a few incendiary Mexican reds from standing trial for their crimes. The latter have suddenly discovered that the revolutionists are no better than jacabs," as some are affiliated with job must be unionized before they can consistently lend any official assistance.

The Industrial Workers of the World have been most active for the defense of the various unionite organizations and therefore the American Federation of Labor has looked coldly upon the frenzied conspirators who are stretching out eager hands for American coin.

The Western Federation of Miners has so far contributed $5 to the defense fund. The United Brewery Workers of Arizona have sent $25. The other unions have apparently neglected the appeal printed each week in the local Socialist organ, but the local members of the Industrial Workers of the World have given a dance for the benefit of the "reds."

AUTO AND SAFE FOUND.

Supposed Guilty Men Arrested After Four Days' Search—Under Bonds for Another Motor Theft.

After a chase of four days, Joseph Leinen and James McFarland were captured yesterday afternoon by Deputy Constable Jaynes at Carmenita and brought to this city last night They are charged with stealing an automobile and a safe from W. G. Dandy's garage at No. 1640 West Washington street on Friday.

The machine was found early Sunday morning at Los Alamitos, where it had been abandoned. Later the safe was discovered in a field near Buena Park. It had ben blown open and $10 stolen. The prisoners are already under $1500 bonds each for the alleged stealing of C. E. Everhardy's automobile three months ago.

It is stated that they broke into the Washington-street garage and loading the safe into a machine owned by A. W. Ballard of No. 2121 Park Grove avenue, drove off. An hour later the theft was discovered and the police were notified. It was reported Saturday that the men had been seen in Fullerton and the Sheriff there was notified. With several deputies, he searched the surrounding country, but in vain.

After leaving the machine in Los Alamitos the men doubled back on their course and followed the Southern Pacific tracks. While they were waiting for a train at Carmenita, Deputy Constable Jaynes arrested them.

The prisoners, who are waiters, denied taking the safe and machine. Besides a grand larceny charge, they will have to face one of burglary.

Will Resume Drilling.

The Wilmington Oil Company expect to resume drilling on the Large ranch near Wilmington in two or three weeks. Operations were temporarily suspended at 800 feet. Indications are declared to have been good. At last accounts the well on the Bixby ranch was said to be down 1600 feet and to have pinched out and to be in course of re-drilling.

SHERIFF'S AID INVOKED.

Lancaster Father Searching for Son Who Has Mysteriously Disappeared—Horse Gone, Too.

Otto Klotz, a rancher who lives three miles east of Lancaster, but who is staying temporarily at No. 907 East Fifth street, yesterday asked Sheriff Hammel's aid in locating his 19-year-old son, Otto, who disappeared Friday.

"Tuesday," the father said, "I sent Otto to Los Angeles with a horse that he was to sell. He returned without taken it as far as Burbank, where it had been taken sick and he put it in a pasture.

"Friday morning I sent the boy to Burbank to bring the horse home, and I have not seen him since. I have searched all about Burbank but cannot locate the horse."

The missing boy has black eyes and brown hair, and wore a black cap and black trousers when he left home.

APARTMENT-HOUSE FIRE.

A double apartment-house at No. 2305 Le Grand street was damaged last night by fire which originated in the attic evidently from defective wiring. The loss on the building is estimated at $500 and $250 on the contents. It was occupied by Mrs. W. E. Smith and Mrs. T. Harris. The building, which was a two-story frame structure, was insured. The fire was discovered about 10:30 o'clock and two alarms were sent in. Part of the roof collapsed and the second floor, which was occupied by Mrs. Smith, was practically gutted. Mrs. Harris's household effects were damaged by water.

STUDENTS IN CUPS.

Disclosures in Ventura About Drinking Among the Boys of the High School.

VENTURA, March 16.—Deplorable conditions have existed in the local High School here for some time in the matter of drinking among the students. Sensational exposures are about to follow, and the whole matter will be laid bare to the public. This morning a warrant of arrest was issued against Thad Sanchez, a barkeeper, the complaining witness being Frank W. Morrill of Montalvo, who alleges that Sanchez sold his son, George Morril, 14 years of age, liquor. Justice Ortega placed Sanchez under $100 bonds, which were furnished by Fred Stiles, a saloon-keeper. The case was set for Saturday next.

A few days ago the boy appeared at school in an intoxicated condition. He was reprimanded. Instead of going home after school he left for Los Angeles, where the officers found him. He made affidavit which resulted in the arrest of Sanchez. It has long been known to the District Attorney that there was drinking among the High School boys, but thus far it has been impossible to get any one to appear in court or to swear to a warrant for arrest.

HOPING FOR RAIN.

The farmers in the county are just now casting their eyes skyward with the hope that their gazing may bring on rain. Showers are needed by the bean men in order to get their lands in condition for the May planting, while the grain fields are also in need of showers to help along that crop.

Up to this time the rains have been copious and have done the land a deal of good, and it will take but little more moisture to insure a bountiful crop. Only a small proportion of the bean crop of last year has as yet been sold, which is a rather remarkable condition, as by the time the new crop is in in former years, most of the product has gone out. The depression caused the stagnation in the bean market. Most of the dried apricots of last year have been sold, though these were held longer than usual because of the trouble aroused by the department at Washington over the matter

LA FOLLETTE FOR THE POPS.

EMPORIA (Kan.) March 16.—E. S. Waterbury of Emporia, Populist National Committeeman from Kansas and delegate to his party's national convention at St. Louis, is quoted as saying, in the course of an interview here today, that United States Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin would be nominated on the first ballot for President by the Populists. He states, further, that Senator La Follette would not be given a chance to accept or refuse the nomination until after the Republican National Convention is held.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

SORRY TO LOSE HIM.

RELUCTANTLY HE QUITS THE POST.

DR. BURDETTE RESIGNS FROM PASADENA OFFICE.

After Five Years of Service as City Commissioner He Finds That Other Demands on His Time Are So Great That He Must Give Up the Position.

Office of The Times, No. 38 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, March 17.—After five years of service to the city, Rev. Dr Robert J. Burdette reluctantly but positively tendered his resignation as one of the city commissioners to Mayor Thomas Earley yesterday. Dr. Burdette was appointed under Mayor William H. Vedder and served through that and the Waterhouse administrations. He continued under Mayor Larby at the latter's earnest solicitation. On several occasions Dr. Burdette has asked to be relieved of his duties and during the past six months he only consented to serve because of his warm friendship for the present Mayor. Now his lecture, church and business engagements have so encroached upon his time that it is utterly impossible for him to fully perform his duties as city commissioner.

Speaking of the severance of Dr. Burdette's official relations with the city, Mayor Earley said last night: "Although I regard Dr. Burdette's resignation as a positive loss to Pasadena, I cannot see my way to urge him to remain longer. I know that he has sacrificed much to the city during the past five years. His example is worthy of emulation. He is just the type of man this city or any city needs upon its advisory boards. He is broad, help giving, conscientious, and generous. I know that when the Council meets today all the members will join with me in regret that Dr. Robert J. Burdette has finally been forced to forego his official work for the city. If we had more men like him, willing to sacrifice their private interests for the public good and work only for the general benefit, Pasadena would be even greater than it is."

Dr. Burdette's resignation come at an unfortunate moment for the city. Commissioner W. D. Medill is confined to his room from the effects of a collision with the automobile of A. C. Tubbs. Commissioner W. C. Crowell is quarantined because of sickness in his family. Dr. Burdette's resignation leaves the commissioners without a quorum, and his successor will be appointed today. Last night Mayor Earley said that he personally had made a selection, but as the final decision to accept Dr. Burdette's resignation was made so late he could not discuss the matter with the Council, it was determined to suppress publication of the name until it could be given formal deliberation.

There will be little business of importance at today's session of the Council except the discussion of this appointment and the examination of bids for the street grader. The Councilmen yesterday went out to view the working of the King machine, one of which was put in operation on Grand avenue. There are many other bids but this is the only one that gave a practical demonstration.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ILL.

Prof. Hamilton is mustering in all the available "extras" he can find for the local schools. Last week there were six teachers in the graded schools who had temporarily joined the "down and out club." With the opening of the current week three more sent in their cards as reluctant members of this aggregation. Prof. W. H. Holland, principal of the Garfield school is among those sick because of mumps. Dr. Stanley P. Black, the city health officer, is especially rigid in his interpretation of the quarantine laws, and sees to it that any person afflicted with a communicable disease is separated from contact with the community. During the past six weeks some of the schools have become almost depopulated by slight attacks of whooping cough, mumps and measles, and at a recent meeting of the school board and the health officer it was determined that recommendation would be made to the State Board of Health to relax the laws now governing the isolation of such diseases as whooping cough. Dr. Black does not ask that the patient shall be isolated, but he thinks that other members of the families afflicted might be permitted to follow their usual avocations without detriment to the public health. Steps are being taken in this direction.

WANTS LAND DONATION.

One of the latest developments of the railroad project through the north side and thence to Los Angeles is that the Potter Company wants a donation of land near Devil's Gate on which to build shops for the proposed road. Mr. Potter says that the company is willing to buy ten acres if the people will give the company ten more. As most of the available land around Devil's Gate is owned by the three water companies, all of which are now in negotiation with the city to sell their holdings, it does not look bright for this shop location scheme. Under the law, if the city buys the water-bearing lands, not an inch of it could be alienated under any consideration. The ten acres needed might be leased, but it is well known that the city fathers cherish the idea of making these water-bearing lands a delightful park and they would not encourage the location of unsightly shops or barns.

THROOP ORATORICAL CONTEST.

When the final entries for the third annual oratorical contest were opened yesterday it was found that some of the original entrants had resigned at the last moment, but several others came in to make up the deficiencies. The judges selected for the occasion are Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, Rev. Robert McIntyre and Prof. Paul Arnold of U.S.C. Eleven schools have entered contestants. All of them are high school pupils, but the event will be under the auspices of the Throop collegiate department. Los Angeles High School, which has one leg on the medal, which must be won three times, sends Clyde Brooks Frye, whose subject will be Alfred Dreyfus; the other entries are Pasadena, Byron Phillips, "Is Patriotism Waning?" Throop academic department, Frank Sweely, "Prohibition;" Compton, Miss Mabel De Mars, "Our Boys in Blue;" Hemet, Jennie L. Sheppard, "Plea for Our Forests;" San Fernando, John Wilson, "Self-Respect;" Imperial, Vergil I. Shepperd, "Appeal for the American Home;" Ventura, Miss Hazel Hund, "Safeguard for Our Nation;" Riverside, Walter Murie Bolt, "Citizenship and Porto Ricans;" Pomona, Miss Minnie Martin, "The Menace of Child Labor;" Hollywood, Earl Gilmore, "A Man at Odds With Fate." Nearly all of these efforts will be original. The contest will begin promptly at 8 o'clock next Friday evening. A limit of fifteen minutes is placed on each speech. As stated before, the points to be judged are diction, logic and oratory. It has been determined to hold the contest in Throop assembly hall.

PASADENA NEWS NOTES.

George A. Weber and family, inventor of the Weber rail joint, and W. H. Heroy and family of Pittsburgh were the hosts yesterday of a happy party of twenty-five from the Maryland Hotel, who took a special car for Long Beach and spent the day picknicking and the evening in moonlight sailing on the bay.

Members of the West Side Congregational Church will enjoy an informal reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Loba, their pastor, No. 677 Huntington Terrace, today from 3 until 6 o'clock. A display of curios from India will be a feature of the affair.

At the last meeting of the Annandale Golf Club Willis Johnson was elected secretary. Mr. Johnson was the secretary of the Tournament of Roses Association for the past year.

In Judge Klamroth's court yesterday Thomas Maunders, arrested at Arcadia for pocket-picking, was arraigned and his preliminary hearing was set for Wednesday. In Judge McDonald's court "Happy Jack," otherwise known as W. L. Veach, the cowboy, gave a good explanation of his hilarious conduct after an alcohol fest, and was permitted to depart on his way. He is headed for the County Hospital, where his crushed foot will receive attention.

Col. Lamberd of No. 217 Bellefontaine street says that the automobile he now has was not taken out of the garage Sunday. An automobile bearing an old number listed in his name struck two boys at Venice Sunday.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. Charles Russell entertained at the Country Club yesterday afternoon with a bridge party in honor of Mrs. Lloyd Macy. Green was used exclusively in the floral decorations as appropriate to the eve of St. Patrick's Day. Maidenhair ferns banked the mantel and filled the corners of the reception-room and gave the needed touch of color to the daintily appointed tea table. Five tables were arranged for cards, and those who participated in the game were: Mmes. Lloyd Macy, Robert A. Rowan, John Howard Dews, William Scheppe, Henry T. Fuller, Harrison I. Drummond, William Park, Samuel Crupples Pierce, Plummer, Walstein Root, Harry Thomson, A. Stevens Halsted, Birney McMechen, Tuscdeur UpdeGraff, Charles Callery, Thomas Orbison, C. M. Tullock, James R. H. Wagner, Harry Gray. After the game, a collation was served. Those who came in for a social hour around the tea table were: Mmes. Yellow jonquils and ferns made attractive the table, where covers were laid for eight. Those seated around the board, besides the hostess and guest of honor, were: Mmes. H. Page Warden, Charles Callery, Harrison I. Drummond, Lloyd Macy, Wilshire and William Parks.

PLANT SHARPS TO MEET.

Notable Gathering Expected This Week in Whittier—Citrus and Vegetable Studies.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WHITTIER, March 16.—This city will be the scene this week of a gathering unique in the history of Southern California, when scientists, plant experts, horticulturists, ranchers and fruit shippers will gather here on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from all over the southern part of California, from San Diego to San José, to discuss the needs, problems and future of the big horticultural interests of the State. The convention will celebrate the opening here of the Pathological Laboratory, a branch of the State university work for which liberal appropriations are made by the Legislature, and which even in the first year of its existence saved thousands of dollars to the citrus-fruit industry.

G. Harold Powell of the United States Department of Agriculture, will discuss with the growers and shippers the handling and transportation of citrus fruit. He has prepared for the convention a display representing some of the most striking features of his investigations. A. G. Shults of Porterville, Eben Boalt of Palermo, C. C. Teague of Santa Paula and J. H. Reed of Riverside, are also on the programme for addresses on different phases of the citrus industry.

Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the State University, will come south especially for the convention, which he will address on Thursday afternoon. It is hoped that Gov. Gillett will also be present or send a representative. State Commissioner of Horticulture J. W. Jeffrey, Prof. E. J. Wickson of the State University, President Thomas Newlin of Whittier College, Prof. C. W. Woodworth of the University of California, E. A. Curtis, general manager of the California Vegetable Union; Col. J. J. Steadman, editor of the California Cultivator, and Hon. P. F. Cogswell of the States Legislature, are among the men who will address the convention.

For a proper segregation of the varying interests the four days of the convention have been divided thus: Tuesday forenoon, afternoon and evening will be "Vegetable Growers' Day;" Wednesday forenoon and afternoon will be "Walnut Growers' Day," with addresses in the evening by President Newlin and Prof. E. J. Wickson; Thursday will be "Laboratory Day," and will close with a big Board of Trade banquet at Hotel Greenleaf; Friday will be "Citrus Growers' Day," the afternoon session closing the convention.

F. E. Buchanan, who is here from Pittsburgh, has decided upon the beach as a permanent place of residence, and will go into business here.

BLEMISHES, pimples, eruptions, rashes, medicated by Satin skin, cream soon disappear.

IN DEATH'S SHADOW.

HOPE SLIGHT FOR GIRL VICTIM.

SAN PEDRO OFFICERS PRAISED FOR BRAVERY.

Collier Arrives With Fuel and Supplies for Rear-Admiral Sebree's Squadron, Which May Remain for Several Days Coaling in the Outer Harbor Before Sailing Northward.

SAN PEDRO, March 16.—Little Margaret Manes, the 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. G. F. Manes, who was shot through the left lung last night by Oracia Elgueta, is probably fatally injured. She was removed to the County Hospital today. The attending physician holds cut but little hope for the child's recovery.

The other victims of the love-crazed Chilean who fell before the fire of Policemen Iman and Logan after a desperate duel, will probably recover. Minnie Shackelford, 7 years old, was wounded in the left hand and arm and her grandfather, James Shackelford, was shot through both shoulders. The latter is nearly 80 years of age, and is seriously ill from the shock.

Little is known here of Elgueta, whose insane love and jealousy of Mrs. G. F. Manes led to last night's tragedy and to his death at the hands of the officer. He came here about seven years ago, having left a German deep-water ship at Santa Monica, and has worked as a longshoreman here for several years. He served in the Chilean navy for five years before coming to the United States. He was about 35 years of age.

Officers Iman and Logan, who engaged in a desperate duel with the would-be assassin following his attempt to kill Mrs. Manes and her family, are universally praised for their bravery. Elgueta fired five shots at the officers at close range, and when he fell, shot through the heart from a bullet from Policeman Jack Iman's revolver, the officer was within six feet of the man. The sixth and last bullet from Elgueta's gun buried itself in the ground at Iman's feet.

The big Norwegian tramp steamer Aker, Capt. Gulliksen, arrived this morning out twenty-seven days from Mororan, Japan, and is discharging 61,000 oak ties and timbers at the Salt Lake wharf for the Santa Fé Railroad Company. The Aker made good time across the Pacific, experienced exceptionally fine weather, and the voyage was uneventful.

The subcommittee having in charge plans for the reception and entertainment of Rear-Admiral Evan's fleet, are hard at work. A fund of $7500 is being raised for the purpose, which will be expended in providing illuminations, decorations and music, arranging a programme of sports and for looking after the comfort and welfare of the officers and men and visitors.

UNDER WRONG NAMES.

Bodies Buried in Long Beach Potters' Field Prove to Be Not as Supposed.

LONG BEACH, March 16.—That two men who were washed up from the ocean depths lie buried in potter's field under wrong names, was established today by two letters received by Undertaker Cleveland and Chief of Police Williams. On January 3 an unknown man was stricken with heart disease and, falling from the wharf, was drowned. A partial identification was made and he was buried as George W. Marks. Today Undertaker Cleveland received a letter and photograph from Mrs. E. J. Stippe of Chicago, and with such a minute description as to leave no doubt that the dead man was her husband, E. J. Stippe, who came to Los Angeles from St. Louis in September. On New Year's eve he left the latter city, telling his brother he was going to Long Beach and then to the goldfields, and since then had not been heard from.

Early in February, Officer Austin found a suit of men's clothing and underwear on the beach under the auditorium and ten days later a man's body clad in bathing trunks, floated to the surface near the outer wharf and was identified as the owner of the clothing, E. S. King, living on Central avenue, Los Angeles. No one claimed the body and it, too, found a grave in potter's field. Chief Williams wrote to an address in New York and this morning received a letter from Ernest Franks, who says the man is Arthur A. Franks, and that the name, E. S. King, was that of an acquaintance. Franks left New York for California in November, and his relatives had heard nothing of him since.

SEASHORE BRIEFS.

Three young fellows entered Lord's curio store on the Pike last night and, while two engaged the clerks in purchases, the third opened a show case and lifted several pieces of jewelry, which were missed soon after, and the trio were arrested at the electric depot. The stuff was found on one of them. Thomas Carley, who was later arraigned before Justice Brayton and given ten days in jail. The trio tried the same game a week ago at Lord's but the proprietor kept his eye on them. Yesterday they had better success.

Joseph D. Wilson, aged 52, fell over a chair today at his boarding house, and broke two ribs.

Mrs. Mary White, aged 73, died suddenly at her home this morning. A hemorrhage of the brain is supposed to be the cause. A neighbor calling at the house to give Mrs. White a morning paper, received no response to her knock, and entering, found the aged woman dying. A physician was called but the victim died as he entered the house. She was a native of New York. Seven children survive, two of whom live in Long Beach.

Amos A. Towne, riding on a bicycle behind an auto, which he was using as a windguard, struck a brick and was hurled from the wheel, breaking his left hand and his thumb.

A valuable horse belonging to the Glenn Holly dairy was killed today in a peculiar accident. Another horse became fractious in the barnyard, and running away, plunged against the animal, one of the shafts penetrating its breast and killing it instantly.

The registration of delegates to the State Y.M.C.A. convention was 325 with eight visiting officials of the International Association. For the State work during the coming year nearly $5000 has been pledged.

ORANGE THIEF SENTENCED.

Pomona Young Man Given Choice of Jail or Fine—Street Superintendent Not Yet Selected.

POMONA, March 16.—Otis Gibson was arrested by Constable Slanker yesterday on complaint of Secretary F. J. Dreher of the San Antonio Fruit Exchange, who charged him with stealing oranges from a grove on North San Antonio avenue Sunday afternoon. Gibson pleaded guilty and Justice E. Barnes this morning sentenced him to serve twenty-five days in jail or pay a fine of $25.

EARLY SETTLER DIES.

The death of Mrs. Emily A. Buffington, widow of G. P. Buffington, occurred at her home here this afternoon from pneumonia. She was about 75 years old and was one of the well-known early residents, having come here from Iowa twenty years ago. She leaves four children—Mrs. C. M. Stone of this city, Mrs. H. P. Freeland of Greeley, Colo., now here; Nat Buffington of Colorado Springs, and Mason Buffington, county surveyor of Kern, and city engineer of Bakersfield. Her cousin, H. E. Harris, is vice-president of the San Bernardino National Bank. The funeral will be held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Stone, No. 165 East Holt avenue, probably Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

POMONA BRIEFS.

Balzer Linnastruth was arrested this evening charged with selling spirituous liquors at his home, corner Holt and White avenues. The place was raided by City Marshal Wright, Constable Slanker and City Attorney Joos, who found both beer and whisky in quantity. Linnastruth pleads not guilty and is out on $500 bond. The trial is set for Monday.

The several thousand signs warning people against stealing fruit, which were posted by the San Antonio Fruit Exchange, have accomplished much good. Seven twenty-five days' sentences have been given offenders to date.

B. E. Street has planted 125 acres of leased land to alfalfa.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Noble are now settled on the ranch recently purchased by them on Cucamonga avenue.

No successor to the late Street Superintendent S. C. Slanker has yet been selected. Trustee Ira Lee is temporarily doing the work.

E. A. Rhoades, R. C. Steele and C. L. Northcraft have returned from a visit to their mining claims in the San Bernardino Mountains.

TALK BOULEVARD.

Highway Commissioners and Citizens Meet at Watts and Discuss Routes.

WATTS, March 16.—The County Highway Commissioners, accompanied by their engineer, met a committee of citizens here this morning, and discussed the proposed Los Angeles to Long Beach boulevard route. The meeting was enthusiastic, and was well attended. A committee of seven, consisting of W. H. Turner, W. Diller, Z. A. Towne, J. G. Belieu, H. E. Marshall, Joseph Dismukes and John Otto was appointed to secure a right of way through part of the town that has no open streets. This committee at once organized, and put subcommittees at work. It is the purpose of the commission to run as near straight as is possible, and to make the road sixty feet wide all the way through. Three plans are offered. One is to come down Compton avenue through the town on the west, thus avoiding all electric crossings, turning about a mile south to the east and thence to South Compton avenue, then south through Compton to the sea. Another is outlined to run out Central avenue to a point west of the main street here, thence to the center of the town, thence along the route of the Pacific Electric to South Compton avenue, and on. The other will touch here only on the extreme west and make Central avenue the way clear through. Another meeting will be held Tuesday night to perfect plans.

CANDIDATES LISTED.

The City Clerk has the nomination certificates filed for three party tickets and five independent candidates. The Progressive party has named for Trustees, W. H. Turner, L. L. Blackman, C. F. Doran, W. E. Quayle and W. Diller; for Clerk, S. J. Lord; for Treasurer, F. N. Anderson; Marshal, J. B. Traughber. Good Government party: Fort Trustees, Z. A. Towne, James H. Hurley, W. E. Quayle, B. V. Ozelle, H. G. Ogle; for clerk, S. J. Lord; Treasurer, W. F. Schubert; for Marshal, J. B. Traughber. The Taxpayers' party names only one candidate, and that is E. C. Barney for Marshal. Independently comes out J. T. Whaley for Marshal; Frederick J. Rorke, for Clerk; O. E. Collins, J. N. Bresseno and A. E. Ritz, for Trustees.

MAKES RECORD CATCH.

Women With Boat from Avalon Do Lively Work With the Yellowtail.

AVALON, March 16.—Taking the launch Rival, Mrs. C. B. Parker and Mrs. O. I. Danielson Saturday evening made the record catch for yellowtail for the season. Both ladies are enthusiastic sportswomen and the time taken to haul in a catch of sixteen yellowtail puts many of the eastern fishermen in the back list. It was not until 4:15 o'clock that the party left Avalon for Seal Rocks, but at 6:30 o'clock Capt. Danielson was weighing the fish on the wharf. The smallest catch made was a 19¾-pounder.

Among the enthusiastic golfers who are now daily seen wending their way toward the links are Mr. and Mrs. P. La Marr of New York City, F. T. Lomax of Bolton, England; G. S. Wilson of the Edinburg Burgess Golf Club; J. H. Hemphill of Spokane County Golf Club, Gilmore Sharp of Avalon, and F. B. Browning of Santa Ana. T. Smith while driving from tee No. 2 yesterday struck one of the little ground squirrels crossing the edge of the green. The velocity of the ball was so great that it was embedded in the body of the squirrel.

Many congratulations are daily received from all parts of the State by Capt. H. Stoughton, Capt. H. Farnsworth and Capt. George Farnsworth, the three guides, who recovered the body of Lloyd L. Watson from the "Devil's Pocket," last week.

ANGELENO RUNS OVER BOY.

Lad Knocked Down by Auto, but Escapes With Bruises—Temperance Question Neglected.

OCEAN PARK, March 16.—Howard Knoth, 12 years old, while walking along Speedway yesterday, was run over by an automobile driven by J. V. Peacock of Los Angeles, but sustained nothing more serious than bruises. Mr. Peacock took the boy to his home on Raymond avenue.

TEMPERANCE NOT AN ISSUE.

Although the prohibition question will be voted on at the same time that municipal officers are chosen, it cuts no figure in the issues. There are two platforms, but in neither is the matter referred to. Apparently there will be no active temperance campaign, although a meeting will be held soon under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. So far as can be learned, the Los Angeles brewers and wholesale liquor dealers are making no fight here.

RIVERA.

RIVERA, March 16.—Magill Brothers, who conduct a general store here, entered their place of business this morning to find their safe wide open, papers and books scattered over the floor and counters, the cash drawer rifled and a considerable amount of merchandise missing. Cigars, shoes, a suitcase and stock from the grocery shelves were taken, in addition to a small amount of money which had been left in the cash drawer. Officers have been at work on the case today, but say there is no definite clew, although indications point toward the thieves being the same who entered the Santa Fé station about ten days ago. Entrance to the premises was effected by way of the warehouse, after which the burglars climbed through a small transom above the door connecting the warehouse and store.

HURLED AND HURT.

San Francisco Man Visiting in Monrovia Is Thrown from Buggy and Loses Consciousness.

MONROVIA, March 16.—"Jack" Regan of San Francisco, a guest of Monrovia friends, narrowly escaped death in a runaway accident yesterday. The horse became unmanageable and dashed against the curb at Mayflower and Palm avenues. Regan was thrown headlong from the buggy and was unconscious for several hours. The shock was so violent that he bled profusely from mouth, nose and ears and Dr. L. N. Wheeler, attending physician, feared congestion of the brain. He has regained consciousness and no serious results are now anticipated.

CONVEYS ACREAGE.

Robert Manford, acting for G. A. Lawrence, has sold to S. M. See of Los Angeles twenty-five acres in alfalfa and walnuts for $10,000, which also carries a proportionate number of shares in the Beardslee Water Ditch Company. The property is south of Monrovia on the El Monte road and adjoins the Sierra Pacific tract which is being rapidly subdivided into small ranches. There are no building improvements. Two years ago the ranch was listed at $5000. Mr. See will at once begin the erection of a costly house and ranch buildings.

PIONEER FOUND DEAD.

James Cameron, aged about 60 years, was found dead this afternoon on the floor of his room in the Rehrman building, on Myrtle avenue. He lay face downward and apparently had fallen while taking off his coat. His hands still grasped the lapels as if death had overwhelmed him instantly. Physicians state that he has been dead at least forty-eight hours. The inquest will be held tomorrow morning. He was seemingly a vigorous man and is not known to have had any heart trouble. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Louis Baldwin of Arcadia. Mr. Cameron had lived in Monrovia since it was founded. He was a master stone mason and well known throughout the foothill district, having executed many important building contracts. Recently he has been employed near Pasadena and although returning to his room each evening was infrequently seen by other occupants of the building. It was by accident that a friend entered his apartment today.

OCEAN PARK.

OCEAN PARK, March 16.—Albert Hamilton, who came to this beach from Tacoma, Wash., several months ago for the benefit of his health, died last night at his temporary home on Navy street. He was 43 years of age, and had been a sufferer with consumption for several years. He leaves a widow. The body will be taken to Tacoma for interment.

There is considerable activity being manifested by voters to see that they are properly registered for the municipal election to be held in April. Midnight of March 18 is the last day for registration. There are wild rumors of colonization accomplished or to be, and those who are watching things political profess to observe signs that may be called to the attention of the next grand jury.

SANTA MONICA.

SANTA MONICA, March 16.—The Democrats are to organize a campaign marching club.

W. S. Vawter has gone to Sacramento, where he will begin his labors as a member of the State Board of Bank Examiners.

J. F. Wilson and J. A. Poole have gone to Imperial.

J. R. Tracy of Marysville, Kan., is a beach visitor.

The construction of the municipal pier will be begun at once. It will be an all-summer job, and will afford employment for a considerable force of carpenters and concrete workers.

The Park Commissioners will soon send to Angel Island a representative of the city to accept the two large guns that have been loaned by the War Department. They will be mounted in Linda Vista Park, probably before the fleet arrives.

The city has been divided into seven precincts for the prohibition election on April 12. The services of fifty-six officers will be required to receive and count ballots. The No-Saloon League has opened headquarters, and has compiled poll books for every ward. A house-to-house canvass of the city has also been made.

For the $50,000 special fire bond election, March 23, there will be only three polling places, and for the $30,000 school bond election, April 6, two polling places.

The local cricket club will open the season here on May 1 with a game with the Los Angeles team.

The water tank of the Irwin Heights Water Company collapsed yesterday morning, and the contents flooded the near-by country. The tank, which had just been pumped almost ful, held between 80,000 and 100,000 gallons. Irwin Heights is almost due east of the Santa Monica postoffice.

MEN'S LEAGUE BANQUET.

Seventy-five members of the Men's League of the First United Presbyterian Church were guests at a banquet in the church parlors last night, given by the Boys' Committee of the league. Boys of the church discussed live subjects. R. M. Bain spoke on "A Boy's Opportunities;" Willis S. Benjamin, "Weighing the Soul;" Earl T. Miller, "A New Charter for Los Angeles," and Hugh McNary, "The Panama Canal." Edward Logan and J. L. Pettit also spoke. A large delegation from Long Beach was present. Howard Hill and W. L. Alexander had charge of the arrangements.

TO KEEP BUSKS HOME.

COUNTY MEN WOULD SHIPMENTS.

Bill to Be Petitioned to Stop Shipping of Shellfish Out of County—Enough for Consumption, but Not Sufficient Outside Demand.

SANTA ANA, March 16.—P. A. [illegible] a number of others interested in property in the northwest portion of Orange county have petitioned Board of Supervisors to [illegible] ordinance prohibiting the shipment of shellfish from this county. The petition states that at present the clam and crab supply is being taken by professional fishermen at a rate that it will be but a short time until there is no supply left on the Orange county coast if the shipping does not come to an end. The supply is sufficient for local consumption.

The officers have had considerable trouble in enforcing the law against dealers in cockles at [illegible]. Under the State law a person is limited to twenty-five a day. A short time ago Deputy Game Warden Kenney arrested G. W. [illegible] on a charge of breaking over the limit. This is one of the petitioners for the new shipment ordinance. The matter will come up before the Board of Supervisors next Wednesday.

WHISKY SALE.

[illegible] Baker, a member of the Board of Supervisors of this county, was a witness in a police court wrangle in Santa Ana on a charge of [illegible]. WANTS IT SET ASIDE.

ALLEGES NIECE MISUSED DEED.

HOTEL AT BEAUMONT IS BASIS OF LITIGATION.

Aged Woman Accuses Relative of Having Shown Ingratitude in Carrying Out a Contract, Providing That the Plaintiff Should Have a Good Home During Her Lifetime.

RIVERSIDE, March 16.—A lawsuit involving the ownership of the Hotel Del Paso, in Beaumont, will come up for trial in the Superior Court Thursday. In the complaint a story of base ingratitude is told by the plaintiff, Mrs. M. M. Fisher, who is a woman over 70 years of age and feeble both in mind and body.

Mrs. Fisher alleges that her niece, Mrs. Emma Taylor, while on a visit to her two years ago, persuaded her to make out to her a deed to the hotel, promising her in return that she, Mrs. Taylor, would give her aunt a pleasant home and care for her at the hotel for the remainder of her life and that she would not have the deed recorded until after the elder woman's death.

The complaint goes on to allege that in violation of this agreement the niece had the deed recorded, without the knowledge of Mrs. Fisher. The hotel had been in the possession of Mrs. Fisher for over twenty years and was valued at $2000. The complaint goes on to allege that the niece and her husband, Vance Taylor, then began a course of ill treatment toward Mrs. Fisher, which made it impossible for her to live at the hotel. This culminated in Mr. Taylor ordering her to leave the hotel in August, 1905. Since that time she has been compelled to live elsewhere.

It is alleged in the complaint that the promises of the niece to give Mrs. Fisher a good home and care for her during the remainder of her life were not made in good faith, but were simply to get possession of the property. She asks that the deed be set aside.

The trial was to have begun this morning, but owing to the disqualification of Judge Densmore whose half-brother, Lafayette Gill, is one of the attorneys, the case was continued to Thursday, when an outside judge will be called in.

VAN DAM-HAMPSON.

Miss Jean Hampson became the bride of Frederick Van Dam of Los Angeles Saturday at a simple wedding at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hampson, at No. 339 West Twelfth street. Rev. Milton C. Dotten, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, was the officiating clergyman. The bride, who was unattended, wore a gown of white silk and carried lilies of the valley and violets. The wedding music was played by Miss Helen Van Dam of Los Angeles, sister of the groom. Mr. Van Dam owns an interest in a drug store in Los Angeles, and he and his bride will make their home at No. 924 West Tenth street, in that city, upon their return from their wedding trip.

The marriage of Miss Kathryn A. Witherspoon and Samuel R. Schwartz, both of Los Angeles, took place Saturday at the Courthouse. Rev. H. E. Benton, pastor of All Souls' Universalist Church, officiated.

Marriage licenses were issued by the County Clerk to William G. Martin, aged 29, a native of Kansas, and Ellen DeWitt, aged 23, a native of California, both residents of Los Angelts; and to Samuel R. Schwartz, aged 29, a native of New York, and Kathryn A. Witherspoon, aged 22, a native of Nebraska; both residents of Los Angeles.

SAN JACINTO.

SAN JACINTO, March 16.—J. B. Maxwell this week sold to E. A. Barrows, conductor on the local branch of the Santa Fé, 109 acres on Seventh street, west of town; consideration, $30 per acre. In part payment for the land, Mr. Maxwell received San Bernardino property. H. W. Lord has bought 2½ acres, improved with house and other buildings, on Montrose street, of Charles E. Siverts, for $800. J. Carmichael sold his recently-purchased house and lot on Fifth street to P. J. Guidenger this week for $800, an advance over the purchasing price of less than a month ago of more than $100. A. D. Record has closed the deal for Mrs. M. J. Copeland's twenty-acre dairy ranch west of town.

Rev. Will C. Chew, the evangelist, closed a two weeks' series of meetings at the Methodist Church Sunday evening.

The San Jacinto Valley is assured of big crops. After months of uncertainty the rainfall has increased to such an extent that the threatened drought has been dispelled. The rainfall of last week amounted to .27 inch, bring the total for the season up to 11.73 inches. Ranchers from all parts of the "back country" report that three-fourths of the acreage sown will make grain, while the balance will yield big hay crops.

Dr. Walter Lindley was in the valley last week and announced that the Idyllwild Mountain Resort Company would open its place for the season June 15.

The recent visit of W. B. Jessen, fourth vice-president of the Santa Fé Railway; A. G. Wells, general manager; J. L. Hibbard, general superintendent, over the local branch of the Santa Fé, and their subsequent trip by automobile from Temecula to San Diego, has revived the talk of that railroad rebuilding its line through the Temecula Cañon.

On the 31st of March the postoffice at Valle Vista will be discontinued and that village and surrounding country will be under the rural free delivery service.

NOT SO HAPPY.

PLEASURE PARTY CAUGHT IN KELP.

FORCED TO REMAIN OVER NIGHT OUT AT SEA.

Santa Barbara Merrymakers Have an Unpleasant Wait While Their Disabled Launch Is Held Fast Among the Seaweed—Three Men Swim Ashore for Assistance.

SANTA BARBARA, March 16.—Eighteen persons who started on the power launch Peerless for an excursion to Santa Cruz Island, yesterday morning, got mixed up in a field of kelp off Goleta last night, on their return trip, and were forced to remain in the field of sea-growth all night. The Peerless is not intended to accommodate more than half a dozen men at any time, so far as sleeping quarters are concerned, so it was mightily unpleasant for the bunch of merrymakers on the little craft.

This morning three men swam ashore from the launch, reaching Moore's Landing after a dangerous battle with the waters of the channel. They found assistance, and were taken to the hotel in Goleta, whence they telephoned for help from this city. Launches were sent out to free the Peerless from her predicament. It was stated that the day was one of enjoyment at the island, and all went well until the launch was nearly in port. Something went wrong with the engine, and she began to drift, finally becoming lodged in the kelp, which held her in its slimy embrace, fastening about the propeller and its shaft and holding the vessel powerless to budge.

Don Leach, who is well-known from San Francisco to San Pedro as an expert yachtsman and boat builder, who has sailed in a number of the South Coast Yacht Club races, was in charge of the launch at the time of the accident. The party is in no immediate danger, even from storm, but they were short of food, sleeping accommodations and blankets. They probably will be extricated before midnight and brought into port safely.

HONORS DEAD OFFICER.

San Bernardino Superior Court Adjourns Out of Respect for L. I. Coy.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 16.—The Superior Court adjourned this morning to Wednesday morning out of respect for the late L. I. Coy, County Tax Collector, who died in Los Angeles Sunday morning of injuries sustained Friday in an automobile accident near Lancaster. The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the chapel of Barton & Catick, here, being under the auspices of the local lodge of Elks. The active pallbearers will be Hon. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, S. F. Kelly, H. D. Sibley, M. M. Randall, W. F. Grow and H. H. Lindville, the honorary pallbearers being W. L. Vestal, W. S. Boggs, A. S. McPherron, J. R. Tyler, Dr. A. K. Johnson, T. E. Moon, S. S. Draper and J. R. Neff.

MAYOR WIELDS STICK.

Mayor Hanford had his big stick active at the City Council meeting tonight, delivering a communication in which he demanded that the Fire Committee return to the city treasury $213.75 paid to Fred Fruch, a substitute driver, who, unknown to the Mayor, had been on the city's pay roll for several months.

The Mayor explains in his letter that he did not know of Fruch's connection with the department until an examination resulted in the complaint of a Chinaman that Fruch and Al Glatz, a regular driver, had forced the Mongolian down a sliding pole. The closing paragraph of the letter says:

"As Mayor, I shall refuse to hereafter sign any warrant for such (substitute) services, and shall insist that the Councilmen and Fire Chief, who are responsible for this extra draft upon the treasury, refund this money to the city."

Should they refuse, charges against them will probably be preferred.

SAN BERNARDINO NOTES.

P. B. Hockaday this morning sold to George E. Scheerer a tract of nine acres, unimproved, on the south side of Eleventh street, between I and Mount Vernon avenue, consideration $4500, and purchased from Scheerer a twenty-acre tract, improved with fruit trees, on Highland avenue, west of Mount Vernon avenue; consideration named, $7500. Both tracts are to be immediately improved. Scheerer proposing to build a number of cottages on his purchase. He comes from Bullfrog, where he has extensive mining interests, and proposes to make this city his permanent home.

Floyd Armentrout, 16 years of age, was arrested by Chief of Police Sercombe this morning, charged with burglarizing the San Bernardino Hide and Junk store. This is the third time in a month the store has been entered. After long sweating he made a complete confession, explaining that he had secured entrance to the store through a skylight. A kodak and a revolver were the only things he secured. The articles were found at a pawnshop, where he had left them.

Plans for the proposed Cucamonga storm water protection district were filed with the Board of Supervisors this morning by Civil Engineer S. O. Cousins. The work necessary, according to these plans, will necessitate an expenditure of $26,500. A large and valuable acreage will be protected from floods by the work planned.

Joe Delano, 4 years old, is the youngest youth in town who is aching to fight with Evans's fleet. This morning, fired with the ambition which he has obtained from hearing his father read of the battleships, he boarded a train for Los Angeles. He was put off by the conductor at Ontario, and returned to his home by the Ontario officers.

REDLANDS PRIEST PASSES.

Dies After Long Illness—Board of Trade Subscriptions Run Into Thousands.

REDLANDS, March 16. — Father John B. Egge passed away at an early hour yesterday morning, after a brief sinking spell, following a long illness. His death comes as a shock to his friends, as he had seemed to be improving for several weeks past until Friday, when he began to grow weak. The evening preceding his death he spoke cheerfully with Rev. Father Fitzgerald, priest at Sacred Heart Church of this city.

Rev. Father Egge was born in Germany and came to this country when only 8 years of age. He attended school in Rochester, N. Y., graduated and went to Germany, where he took a course in philosophy and theology in the University of Friebel. Later he returned to America and took a post-graduate course in Troy, N. Y. He was priest in one of the large churches in Rochester, N. Y., for twelve years, and for another twelve years served a church in Grand Rapids, where his health failed, and it was in hopes of regaining this that he came to Redlands. The body will be shipped to Grand Rapids for interment.

DENMAN BUYS RANCH.

The largest real estate transaction occurring in this county perhaps in many years has been concluded here by which the title to the W. F. Whittier ranch at Redlands Junction passes to A. C. Denman, Sr., of New York, the consideration named being $220,000. The ranch comprises 145 acres at Redlands Junction, all to oranges, and is regarded as one of the finest properties in that section. There is also an elegant dwelling on the property. Denman buys for a home place. He is the father of A. C. Denman, general manager of the San Bernardino Valley Traction Company. Whittier is a resident of San Francisco.

REDLANDS NOTES.

Board of Trade subscriptions to date amount to $3500 from 295 members. Ten citizens and firms have subscribed $100 each; five $50 each and twenty-three $25 each. These thirty-eight in all pay $1925, or over half of the total thus far pledged.

The Women's Contemporary Club met this afternoon in regular session. The subject for the afternoon was Mormonism, and Mrs. Merry Ferry Allen was in charge and read an exhaustive paper on the subject. Mrs. Allen has spent twenty years in Utah, where her father, Col. William N. Allen, is well known, and she spoke from personal knowledge and observation.

Men's Diseases Thoroughly Cured

DR. TAYLOR, The Leading Specialist.

As medical science advances, the more apparent becomes the folly of employing harsh and dangerous measures in attempting to cure the ailments of men. Drastic dosing and useless cutting have done irreparable injury in thousands of cases. I cure all special diseases of men promptly and permanently, and by painless methods that cannot possibly produce undesirable results.

My Treatment for Weakness

Functional derangement, such as premature loss of power, etc., is neither a "weakness" nor a disease. It is a symptom of prostatic disorder. To stimulate activity by the use of powerful tonics is an easy matter, but such results are merely temporary drug effects. Most doctors treat "weakness" in this manner because they do not know how to cure the real cause of the derangement. I am the only physician employing scientific and successful methods. I use no tonics at all. My treatment is a local one entirely, and corrects every abnormal condition of that vital center, the prostate gland. My cures are real cures, and are permanent.

Twenty years of successful practice as a Specialist in Men's Diseases justifies every claim I make. I promise my patients a complete cure in every instance, and in cases where I cannot safely make this promise, I positively refuse to treat.

STRICTURE

My treatment is absolutely painless, and perfect results can be depended upon in every instance. I do no cutting or dilating whatever.

CONTRACTED DISORDERS.

Be sure your cure is thorough. Not one of my patients has ever had a relapse after being discharged as cured, and I cure in less time than the ordinary forms of treatment require.

SPECIFIC BLOOD POISON

No dangerous minerals to drive the virus to the interior, but harmless, blood-cleansing remedies that remove the last poisonous taint.

VARICOCELE.

Absolutely painless treatment that cures completely in one week. Investigate my method. It is the only thoroughly scientific treatment for this disease being employed.

Examination Free

I offer not only FREE Consultation and Advice, but of every case that comes to me I will make a Careful Examination and Diagnosis without charge. No ailing man should neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about his trouble.

If you cannot call, write for Diagnosis Chart. My offices are open all day from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Sundays from 9 to 12.

Dr. Harrison & Co.
Specialists for MEN

We Are Specialists for Varicocele, Hydrocele, Stricture, Piles, Fistula, Blood Diseases, Contracted Diseases, Private Diseases, Loss of Vital Power, Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

The average physician treats a few cases of the diseases mentioned below and a few cases of practically every other ailment that afflicts humanity. A general practice affords no opportunity for becoming expert in any particular branch of medicine. We treat men only. We have treated and cured thousands of cases of each and every ailment peculiar to men. If afflicted with any disease of a special nature you can come to us, knowing that we have treated and cured cases after cases exactly like your own, and a great many others almost identical. You can rest assured that we know all about the disorder and will not make a single mistake in its treatment. From the very day you place your case in our hands you may look forward to a complete and permanent cure, and can expect marked improvement very quickly. We never accept cases in which we feel the least doubt as to satisfactory results being obtained, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are being treated by strictly reliable specialists.

Contagious Blood Disease

May be inherited or contracted. When the system becomes tainted with the poison it may manifest itself in many ways, ulcers, sores, scrofula, eczema, itch and painful boils, eruptions, copper colored spots on the body; little ulcers in the mouth, swollen and inflamed tonsils, loss of hair, decay of flesh and bone. If your symptoms are any of these we invite you to take advantage of the treatment we offer, which will completely eradicate the least taint of poison from the system. You are cordially invited to consult us in person, and we will give you such advice as will be for the betterment of your condition. Our treatment has been acquired through twenty-one years' arduous work and is free from mineral poison. It contains no injurious drugs and goes to the very core of the disease.

Varicocele

Dr. Harrison guarantees an absolute cure of this trouble in one week by a painless operation that may be completed in one hour. Forget that Varicocele cannot be cured by an electric belt, electricity in any form, by absorption or any external application. Remember that Dr. Harrison, 305½ S. Broadway, gives a written guarantee to cure your Varicocele by his painless operation, or no charge. Let us show you a dozen cured cases.

Contracted Troubles

Every case of contracted trouble we treat is thoroughly cured. Our patients have no relapses. When we pronounce a case cured there is not a particle of infection or inflammation remaining, and there is not the slightest danger that the disease will return in its original form or work its way into the general system. No contracted disease is so stubborn that we cannot obtain results by our methods of treatment, and we specially solicit those cases that other doctors have been unable to cure.

Vital Decline Can Be Cured

Vital decline, commonly called weakness, is the result of a diseased condition. This disturbing cause is nearly always found in the prostate gland, where the nerve center is located. The prostate becomes affected by one or more of several things, such as badly treated local diseases, indiscretions, excesses, varicocele, etc. We published years ago the first information ever given out on prostatic troubles as the cause of vital weakness; since that time our theories have been accepted by all the best Eastern specialists, and at the same time every pretender specialist copies our advertisements, knowing absolutely nothing of our successful means of relieving men of this trouble. No one but a thorough specialist can succeed in curing these conditions. Anybody can advertise, but the genuine specialist only can satisfy the patient and gives him value received.

Stricture

I can do more for Stricture in three days with my improved, modern, up-to-date method than could be done in three months with the old, painful sound treatment. I can cure nearly every case in ten days, and by a cure I mean the stricture will never give any further trouble. Remember, my method is absolutely free from pain—and is certain in every case.

My Message To Men

DR. MILES, Master Specialist.

Are you satisfied with your present condition? Do you believe everything is being done to make you a well man? Do you improve as fast as you wish? Are the results of others kept secretly? Are there any doubts in your mind? Is it costing any more than you were told it would cost? Are you dealing with honest men?

ASK YOURSELF THESE QUESTIONS. For I especially invite all men disappointed in their present treatment to come to me. I know that I can cure you. I am positive that I CAN CURE YOU FOR LIFE.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Eggplant and okra from Florida arrived by express yesterday and found a ready sale at 40 and 50 cents a pound. The former of exceptionally large size and excellent quality. Asparagus became so plentiful that the price declined to a flat 20 cents a pound, with several dealers undersselling later in the day in order to clear their stock. Artichokes were also very plentiful and sold at 75 cents a dozen. New rhubarb also declined.

The demand for eggs was good and 70 cases were sold on the Produce Exchange. Nearly half were northern. Receipts were heavy, totaling 92 cases. There were no changes in quotations.

Butter arrivals amounted to 10,984 pounds; offerings were light. The demand was not heavy on the change, although some good sales were reported on the street.

On account of heavy sales of northern fresh, there was a feature of yesterday's market. Fifty cases were traded on the change and considerable was disposed of outside. Swiss, both imported and domestic, was in good demand and there were heavy offerings of limburger.

Potato receipts were above the average, numbering 4700 sacks. Early White Rose, Oregon and Watsonville, were well featured on the bid and offered lists.

There were no arrivals of onions, but the demand was excellent and 70 sacks of Yellow Oregons were sold. There were a few small offerings of Minnesota and Ohio Red Globes.

Bean receipts were nearly three cars from the north. The total number of sacks arriving was 962. Limas were particularly in demand, and a few pinks were offered. There was little call for sweet potatoes, and receipts numbered only 30 sacks.

The demand for apples was excellent and on change 140 boxes of Missouri pippins were sold. Baldwins, Ben Davis and Romans Beauties are moving rapidly. A few Winter Nelis pears are still offered.

Oranges were a glut on the market. It seemed as if every rancher and huckster who owned a wagon had gathered a load Sunday and hauled it in. Many were forced to return with their fruit, while much of it sold at low as 40 cents a box. Tangerines were plentiful.

FINE TRIBUTE TO "CITIZENS."

Great Reception to Junior Republic Founders.

Bright Girl Makes a Witty, "Catchy" Speech.

Inauguration of President Comes Thursday.

If anything were needed to show that the people of Los Angeles are in full sympathy with the California George Junior Republic it was supplied by the great audience that filled Simpson Auditorium last night. It was as enthusiastic and sympathetic as it was large, and the citizens of the new republic acquitted themselves well.

Justice H. H. Klamroth of Pasadena, president of the local association, presided at the meeting, and "Daddy" George and Judge Wilbur made short speeches, but it was really a try-out for the officials of the Junior Republic, and every "fellow," including Mary Holstein, "made good" in the face of the large audience, for when speaking of "the bunch," or "the fellows," the girls are always included.

After the superintendent and the president and vice-president had made speeches, Mary Holstein, who has filled the position of Secretary of State in the Freeville Republic, was presented. She is a self-possessed girl about 17 years old.

"You most likely think that the boys are the whole thing in the republic, but I want you to get that our of your heads right now," she said, as she came forward, and was rewarded with a storm of applause. "It is a pretty hard thing for a girl, when she first comes to the republic, and doesn't try to do the right thing. She may get knocked around and get it pretty bad at first, but after she 'goes through the mill,' as we say, she generally turns 'round. I've been through the mill and I know," she said laughingly, and again the audience laughed with her.

EVERY GIRL HAS CHANCE.

"Every girl has a chance. It's not all dishwashing and scrubbing pots and pans, but a girl can learn dressmaking and cooking and other things, and can get an education. I have gone to school and am now in the high school, and I expect to go to college some day. [Applause.] I don't believe in washing dishes and scrubbing pots and paring potatoes when there's something higher to aim for."

Again she brought great applause. She is a good talker, and this is but a portion of her "catchy" speech. As she finished she brought forth roaring cheers by saying:

"I just wanted you to know that the boys are not the whole thing."

Slender Nat Bedford looked "natty" enough, as he was introduced to make the first speech of the evening, clad in a full-dress suit.

"It gives me great pleasure to see so many of you gathered here to express sympathy with the Junior Republic," he began, and then he briefly explained what the republic is.

"It is a republic where the citizens become of age at 14, instead of 21, and in all other respects it is the same as any other republic—a place where we give the boy another chance. I myself am a graduate of the republic, and you have no idea what that means to the fellow who has taken the chance—and I'm one of them.

"When a fellow first comes he is apt to get homesick, and if he can find another fellow, they generally run away, only to be brought back. I've been through it all. The average time spent at the republic is eighteen months; six months in trouble, six months getting out of trouble, and six months helping the other fellow.

ALL AMERICANISM.

"The republic teaches nothing but Americanism, and interferes with no one's political or religious belief. Nothing is given away; if a citizen will not work he cannot eat, and a boy ceases to be a hero simply because he has done time."

Mr. Bedford explained that in case of conviction of crime, the culprit is sentenced by the boy judge, and, if dissatisfied, he may appeal to the Supreme Court, which is composed of the Board of Trustees, and their decision is final. As both Judge Wilbur and Justice Klamroth are members of this board, it can be seen that a legal "square deal" will be the lot of every culprit who appeals to the Supreme Court in the San Fernando Republic. He also explained again that all citizens are not incorrigibles, but that many have sought its training of their own free will.

Elmer Jones, president-elect, was introduced by Judge Klamroth as a "Sunny Jim." He came up smiling, and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen: This is the second time I ever spoke before a crowd like this, but I don't think I'm afraid, anyhow."

When the applause ceased, he proceeded to explain some of the inner workings of the Junior Republic, naming as one of the chief differences between it and the ordinary republic, the fact that there is a law against smoking. He talked at random and caused many laughs from the audience, and closed by saying:

"I didn't prepare anything for tonight; this is just a little 'scratch up.'"

SPIRIT OF LOYALTY.

Vice-President Roy Herbert said it was not only a pleasure, but an honor to be presented to such an audience. He spoke of the spirit of loyalty to the Junior Republic among its citizens, and made humorous reference to the "Industrial College" of the republic—the jail.

"I took a two months' course in that institution," he said, "and it was a fine thing for me. You just ask Mr. Bedford what he thinks of the jail."

The last of the young officers to be introduced was Judge Hyman Shaman. He is a well-matured boy, and spoke interestingly in a general way of the Republic, and told with evident pride how Mary Holstein had "made good" as secretary at Freeville. He said:

"No boy, of course, is all right the minute he hits the Republic, but I tell you when he comes out he's a good one. It just showed me that if I did the right thing I'd have friends. When you do something wrong, they don't kiss and hug you and say: 'Don't do it any more, dearie,' or anything like that. You may go to jail, but you learn a lesson you'll never forget, and when you get out every fellow will treat you as a friend."

The president and vice-president will be inaugurated on Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Junior Republic, near San Fernando. The train will leave Arcade Station at 1:45, and it is desired that as many persons as possible will attend the ceremonies.

Yesterday the entire party of seventeen "citizens" was taken on an excursion to Long Beach, and after being shown over Los Angeles in automobiles this morning, they will return to San Fernando and prepare for Thursday's inauguration.

DEATH OF MRS. BLADES.

Well-Known Literary Woman Dies Suddenly at Home of Mother in East.

News that Mrs. Paul H. Blades, well known in Los Angeles literary and club circles, had died suddenly at 5 a.m., at the home of her mother in Rushville, Ill., was received yesterday. Mr. Blades, formerly newspaper man, and for the last few years an extensive real estate operator in Los Angeles, and E. H. Bagby, a brother of Mrs. Blades and manager of the Record, left at once for the East.

Mrs. Blades was before her marriage Miss Fannie Bagby, sister of E. H. Bagby and cousin of E. W. Scripps, and was a writer of ability and at one time managing editor of the St. Louis Evening Chronicle. Mrs. Blades went East to attend her mother, who is seriously sick and not expected to live, and it is supposed the nervous strain was too much for her. She had a wide circle of friends in this city, who will be shocked at the news of her death.

PETTIBONE CRITICALLY ILL.

SAN DIEGO, March 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George A. Pettibone, the Western Federation of Miners' official, is critically ill at St. Joseph's Sanitarium, in this city, where he has been a patient for four weeks. He is suffering from acute bladder trouble and general debility, which, he says, was caused by his long confinement on the charge of complicity in the murder of former Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho.

RELIEVES IN FIVE MINUTES

Help Comes Quickly When Hyomei Is Used for Catarrh.

The quick relief that comes from the Hyomei treatment for catarrh is most remarkable. Put a few drops of liquid Hyomei in the little pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and before you have used the treatment for five minutes you will notice relief from your catarrhal troubles.

It gives a tonic healing effect to the air you breathe, kills all catarrhal germs, stops the poisonous secretions, soothes the irritated mucous membrane and makes a marked improvement in the general health.

Hyomei is not a cure all; it has but one aim, the cure of catarrh and diseases of respiratory organs. When the catarrh is cured, the general health is improved, for then Nature has a chance to build up the whole system.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucous, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, loss of strength, spasmodic coughing and feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest, general weakness and debility, or any other symptoms of catarrh, you should begin to use Hyomei at once. It will destroy all disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs and make a quick and permanent cure of catarrh.

We positively guarantee Hyomei, for should you buy a complete outfit, price $1.00, and be dissatisfied with results your money will be refunded. Hyomei is sold by druggists everywhere. Write for literature; Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
